NAVIN FIELD, DETROIT, Oct. 4.—Defeated in the first game by a disconcerting score, the Detroit Tigers returned for the second game of the World Series with the St. Louis Cardinals this afternoon to face the negligent support of an ordinary crowd.

Less than 35,000 fans, a bit discomfited by the home-town team, were in the stands when the two teams took the field for the preliminary practice. Detroit having lost a great deal of the early enthusiasm which caused it to stand in the street and make strange sounds for no other reason than the fact that its ball team had won a pennant after 25 years.

The Cardinals, considerably imbued with the joy of life after Mr. Dizzy Dean's victory yesterday in spite of Mr. Dizzy Dean, frolicked through a pre-game practice, seemingly satisfied with their lot. The Tigers, who probably established a series record with five errors in the first two and one-third innings yesterday, were of necessity a bit restrained in their behavior, the latter being particularly noticeable in the infield workout.

Day Mild and Clear
The day was fairly mild and clear, with just enough breeze to make the catching of flies in the outfield a precarious occupation. Bill Hallahan, the left-hander, and "Schoolboy" Rowe who won 16 straight for the Tigers during the last campaign, were understood to be (Continued On Page Seventeen)

Governor Says Earle Has Case Of Jitters

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 4.—Gov. Gifford Pinchot today declared George H. Earle, Democratic candidate for governor, "had a bad case of jitters" when he accused the Pinchot political team of Gifford and Cornelia of attempting to obtain a place on the Democratic party ticket for the fall election.

Earle made his charge at a Democratic rally at Easton last night, challenging the executive to deny that he had even gone to the White House in an effort to substitute himself for Joseph F. Guffey for senator or Mrs. Pinchot for Earle for governor.

"There is only one explanation for Earle's mendacious and unpardonable outburst," the governor said. "He saw an advance copy of the speech I am to deliver over the state-wide radio hookup at Wilkes-Barre at 8 p. m. tonight and under the influence of a bad case of jitters made this attempt to distract public attention."

Union Township Sewer Project Gets Approval

Property Owners Meet Wednesday Night And Favor Installation Immediately

APPOINT COMMITTEE TO CHECK OWNERSHIP

Meeting in Union High school Wednesday night, property owners in Sewer District Number Two, of Union Township, voiced their approval of the proposed sanitary sewer installation in West State street, to connect with the sewer system in the City of New Castle.

The sanitary sewer in this district has been agitated for a number of years. With the RWD now functioning the residents of the district see an opportunity to get the sewer installed with no labor cost, and at the same time provide for a large number of relief cases.

Milhoiland Explains
C. H. Milhoiland, formerly City Engineer, was present and explained to the crowd the procedure by which the sewer could be installed. The township would be responsible for the materials and tools, but the cost could be assessed against the property owners affected. This would mean an assessment of fifty cents per lineal front foot.

Must Be Registered To Cast Ballot On Huge Bond Issue

No bond issue, no matter what its purpose, should be passed or rejected unless there is a representative vote of the people cast at the polls.

The same holds true of elected officials, but in the matter of a bond issue it is even more important for it strikes directly at the pocketbook of the taxpayers.

At the present time there is pending in the legislative hopper of the City Council, a proposed bond issue which would bond the citizens of New Castle for $3,750,000. Whether it is good or bad is not germane in this article, $3,750,000 is a heap of money and such a proposal should have the voice of every citizen heard on it.

If this bond issue is brought out and passes council, it goes on the ballot. What can you do about it if you are not registered? How can you expect to influence the decision if you are not registered? All the words you can utter, all the statements you can make are just so much waste if you are not registered. Votes decide a bond issue and the unregistered voter has nothing to do about it.

Saturday, October 6, is the last day for the citizens of New Castle to register for the election in November. You need no tax receipt, you need no sponsor, all you need is a few minutes to present yourself before the registrar and get yourself on the books.

What license have you to criticize the government, local or state, if you do not register? Get registered Saturday and exercise the right of your franchise.

—Stirs Enthusiasm

With another full day of prospect-solicitation completed, New Castle's Community Chest campaign army marched into The Castleton again at noon today to add $9,390.35 to the $32,120.82 they chalked up on their score-board yesterday—leaving a total of $41,511.07 of their goal of $72,000 pledged to date.

By Friday night, when a "victory dinner" will be staged by the entire campaign organization, it is hoped by the 250 or more solicitors that the grand total will top the $72,000 quota.

Speed Up Campaign
All the force at the campaigners' command will be thrown into the drive this afternoon and tomorrow, the enthusiastic spirit of today's report meeting plainly indicated.

Presiding over today's luncheon-meeting was Attorney W. Walter Braham, general chairman of this year's drive. He addressed the workers briefly after the day's totals of the teams had been completely tabulated. "The invocation before lunch was offered by the Rev. P. C. Pearson, rector of Trinity Episcopal church."

Captain James E. Deegan's team won the cigarettes today, while Major Thomas I. Elliott's division again scored high for the cigars. The women's division which Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser leads, won a box of candy.

This Morning

When a loaded box car of a 38-car Pennsylvania railroad "branch local" left the rails near the Pearson Brick company plant as the train operated south over the New Castle-Stoneboro line at 7 o'clock this morning, the single-track right-of-way was badly disrupted for several yards.

The wrecked car of stoves stayed upright. None of the other cars in the train were derailed.

Railroad officials said no cause for the derailment had been determined this morning.

A small wreck crew went to the scene to restore the derailed car to the tracks while a maintenance-of-way gang was called to make track repairs. The repairs were hastily completed.

The derailed car, carrying stoves from a Mercer plant, was to be transferred to another train at New Castle. The cargo, officials said, was not damaged.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Another Lindbergh ransom note—a $10 gold certificate—turned up today at the Fordham branch of the Corn Exchange bank. It was the ninth ransom bill passed since the arrest of Bruno Richard Hauptmann.

On the theory that a confederate of Hauptmann's may be quietly riding himself of the "hot" money, the police re-doubled their efforts to find out who is passing the notes.

START ERECTION WORK ON STADIUM ADDITION

Workmen of the RWD today started the actual construction of the long talked about addition to the Taggart Stadium. Excavation for the foundation started and as soon as this is done the bricklayers will get to work laying up the walls of the addition.

The addition is on the north end of the stadium, the wall being in from Du Shane street 20 feet. It will run north for about 75 feet then angle off to the northwest and then sharply west, to a point near the middle of the present north end bleachers. To get across the running track an archway will be built.

The bricks to be used in the addition to the stadium are from the old Martin Gantz school. Somewhere near 100,000 bricks are on the ground inside the stadium. The construction work is in charge of G. W. Lusk, and the brick work in charge of Joseph Harland.

When it is finished the addition will contain toilet facilities, locker rooms for visiting teams, thus obviating the use of the Franklin building, and in addition to these uses, the wall will hide the view of the free spectators.

Gale Costs 26 Lives At Sea

WEST HARTLEPOOL, Eng., Oct. 4.—Tuesday night's Atlantic gale cost the lives of 26 hands and two ships, the Ropner Shipping Company indicated today.

Lacking word from the freighter Millpool for nearly two days, while ships had abandoned their search for her, the Ropner company, her owners, gave her up as lost, with 26 seamen.

Today the company, also owners of the stricken Alinberry, with 35 aboard, received a wireless message from the captain saying: "Impossible to reach Newfoundland. Water filling No. 2 hold. Pumps working incessantly."

While it is expected that it will be necessary to abandon the Alinberry, the crew will probably be saved, as the liner Antonia and the freighter Tremont are standing by.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Oct. 4.—The 172 "purple" love letter of Bobby Edwards to Margaret Crain were admitted into evidence by the court at the "American tragedy" murder trial today.

Judge William Valentine said their contents would be "controlled" and only such portions stressed as alleged "a motive" for the alleged crime.

Scores of passion-laden epistles were read to the jury. Edwards signed himself "Buddy" and addressed Margaret Crain as "Momet."

He studded his phrases with reiteration of his eternal love. He spoke of their marriage, "next year or even sooner."

He referred to their "tryst kisses." Edwards also called Margaret "Blessed Wife" on his letters and sometimes signed himself, "Your Husband."

Stress Motive
These expressions were stressed by the prosecution in its attempt to show the missives contained the "motive" behind the murder of Freda McKechnie, who was to become a mother.

Here are some excerpts from the letters of Bobby to Margaret, written during past months:

"Keep your lips soft and wet for me."

Coroner Orville Potter After Investigation Says Case An Accident

WILLIAM SCHULTZ ACCIDENT VICTIM

William Schultz, aged 64, was fatally injured Wednesday evening when he fell on the cellar steps in the home of Nick Rouse, Sr., 1101 South Jefferson street. Following an investigation by police and Coroner Orville Potter the latter decided that death was accidental and caused by a fractured skull.

According to reports obtained by police, summoned by the physician who was called to the Rouse home, Schultz resides at the rear of 22 East Reynolds street. Mr. Rouse, Sr., and he had been together yesterday afternoon and reached the Rouse residence about 3:30 p. m.

Mr. Schultz went to lavatory which is located in the cellar. Mr. Rouse left the home. A son of Mr. Rouse came home and his mother instructed him to go to the cellar and tell Mr. Schultz to go home. He carried out the instructions. Mr. Schultz said he would go home.

Mrs. Rouse heard a noise in the cellar about 6:30 p. m. and sent the son to investigate. She also called Lewis Kiser, colored, 1109 South Jefferson street. The latter believed there was something wrong with Schultz and a physician was summoned.

WILKES BARRE, Pa., Oct. 4.—The 172 "purple" love letter of Bobby Edwards to Margaret Crain were admitted into evidence by the court at the "American tragedy" murder trial today.

Judge William Valentine said their contents would be "controlled" and only such portions stressed as alleged "a motive" for the alleged crime.

Scores of passion-laden epistles were read to the jury.

Edwards signed himself "Buddy" and addressed Margaret Crain as "Momet."

He studied his phrases with reiteration of his eternal love. He spoke of their marriage, "next year or even sooner."

He referred to their "tryst kisses."

Edwards also called Margaret "Blessed Wife" on his letters and sometimes signed himself, "Your Husband."

Stress Motive

These expressions were stressed by the prosecution in its attempt to show the missives contained the "motive" behind the murder of Freda McKechnie, who was to become a mother.

Here are some excerpts from the letters of Bobby to Margaret, written during past months:

"Keep your lips soft and wet for me."

"Oh, Blessed Darling, oh, Momet, I am loving you more and more until it hurts."

"I love to give you a massage. I"

NAVIN FIELD, DE-TROIT, Oct. 4.—Defeated in the first game by a disconcerting score, the Detroit Tigers returned for the second game of the World Series with the St. Louis Cardinals this afternoon to face the negligent support of an ordinary crowd.

Less than 35,000 fans, a bit discomfited by the first reverse suffered by the home-town team, were in the stands when the two teams took the field for the preliminary practice, Detroit having lost a great deal of the early enthusiasm which caused it to stand in the street and make strange sounds for no other reason than the fact that its ball team had won a pennant after 25 years.

The Cardinals, considerably imbued with the joy of life after Mr.
Dizzy Dean's victory yesterday in spite of Mr. Dizzy Dean, frolicked through a pre-game practice, seemingly satisfied with five errors in the first two and one-third innings yesterday, were of necessity a bit restrained in their behavior, the latter being particularly noticeable in the infield workout.

Day Mild and Clear

The day was fairly mild and clear, with just enough breeze to make the catching of flies in the outfield a precarious occupation.
Bill Hallahan, the left-hander, and "Schoolboy" Rowe who won 16 straight for the Tigers during the

Governor Says Earle Has Case Of Jitters

(International News Service)
(BULLETIN)
HARRISBURG, Oct. 4.—Gov. Gifford Pinchot today declared George H. Earle, Democratic candidate for governor, "had a bad case of jitters" when he accused the Pinchot political team of Gifford and Cornelia of attempting to obtain a place on the Democratic party ticket for the fall election.
Earle made his charge at a Democratic rally at Easton last night, challenging the executive to deny that he had even gone to the White House in an effort to substitute himself for Joseph P. Guffey for senator or Mrs. Pinchot for Earle for governor.
"There is only one explanation for Earle's mendacious and unpardon-able outburst," the governor said.
"He saw an advance copy of the speech I am to deliver over the statewide radio hookup at Wilkes-Barre at 8 p. m. tonight and under the influence of a bad case of jitters made this attempt to distract public attention."
Meanwhile, political eyes were turned toward Wilkes-Barre where

Property Owners Meet Wed-

APPOINT COMMITTEE TO CHECK OWNERSHIP

Meeting in Union High school
Wednesday night, property owners in Sewer District Number Two, of Union Township voiced their approval of the proposed sanitary sewer installation in West State street, to connect with the sewer system in the City of New Castle.
The sanitary sewer in this district has been agitated for a number of years. With the RWD now functioning the residents of the district see an opportunity to get the sewer installed with no labor cost, and at the same time provide for a large number of relief cases.
Miholland Explains
C. H. Miholland formerly City Engineer was present and explained to the crowd the procedure by which the sewer could be installed.
The township would be responsible for the materials and tools, but the cost could be assessed against the property owners affected. This would mean an assessment of fifty cents per lineal front foot.
The sewer would be an immense project. Draining West State street,

Must Be Registered To Cast Ballot On Huge Bond Issue

No bond issue, no matter what its purpose, should be passed or rejected unless there is a representative vote of the people cast at the polls.
The same holds true of elected officials, but in the matter of a bond issue it is even more important for it strikes directly at the pocketbook of the taxpayers.

At the present time there is pending in the legislative hopper of the City Council, a proposed bond issue which would bond the citizens of New Castle for $3,750,000. Whether it is good or bad is not germane in this article, $3,750,000 is a heap of money and such a proposal should have the voice of every citizen heard on it.

If this bond issue is brought out and passes council, it goes on the ballot. What can you do about it if you are not registered? How can you expect to influence the decision if you are not registered? All the words you can utter, all the statements you can make are just so much waste if you are not registered. Votes decide a bond issue and the unregistered voter has nothing to do about it.

Saturday, October 6, is the last day for the citizens of New Castle to register for the election in November. You need no tax receipt, you need no sponsor, all you need is a few minutes to present yourself before the registrar and get yourself on the books.

What license have you to criticize the government, local or state, if you do not register? Get registered Saturday and exercise the right of your franchise.

Chest Workers Boost Fund To $41,511 At Noon

Day's Report Shows Pledges

CAMPAIGN MAKES EXCELLENT PROGRESS

General Chairman Braham
In Charge Of Meeting
—Stirs Enthusiasm

With another full day of prospect-solicitation completed, New Castle's Community Chest campaign army marched into The Castleton again at noon today to add $9,390.25 to the $32,120-82 they chalked up on their score-board yesterday—leaving a total of $41,511.07 of their goal of $72,000 pledged to date.
By Friday night, when a "victory dinner" will be staged by the entire campaign organization, it is hoped by the 250 or more solicitors that the grand total will top the $72,000 quota.

Speed Up Campaign
All the force at the campaign's command will be thrown into the drive this afternoon and tomorrow, the enthusiastic spirit of today's report meeting plainly indicated.

Presiding over today's luncheon-meeting was Attorney W. Walter Braham, general chairman of this year's drive. He addressed the workers briefly after the day's totals of the teams had been completely tabulated. The invocation before lunch was offered by the Rev. P. C.
Pearson, rector of Trinity Episcopal church.

Captain James E. Deegan's team won the cigarettes today, while Major Thomas I. Elliott's division again scored high for the cigars. The women's division which Mrs. A. B.
Fankhauser leads, won a box of candy.

BOX CAR DERAILS ON P. R. R. LINE; RIPS UP TRACK

Pennsy's Branch Local Is Wrecked Near Brick Plant
This Morning

When a loaded box car of a 38-car Pennsylvania railroad "branch local" left the rails near the Pearson Brick company plant as the train operated south over the New Castle-Stoneboro line at 7 o'clock this morning, the single-track right-of-way was badly disrupted for several yards.

The wrecked car of stoves stayed upright. None of the other cars in the train were derailed.

Railroad officials said no cause for the derailment had been determined this morning.

A small wreck crew went to the scene to restore the derailed car to the tracks while a maintenance-of-way gang was called to make track repairs. The repairs were hastily completed.

The derailed car, carrying stoves from a Mercer plant, was to be transferred to another train at New Castle. The cargo, officials said, was not damaged.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Another

the Corn Exchange bank. It was the ninth ransom bill passed since the arrest of Bruno

On the theory that a confederate

START ERECTION WORK ON STADIUM ADDITION

Workmen of the RWD today started the actual construction of the long talked about addition to the Taggart Stadium. Excavation for the foundation started and as soon as this is done the bricklayers will get to work laying up the walls of the addition.

The addition is on the north end of the stadium, the wall being in from Du Shane street 20 feet. It will run north for about 75 feet then angle off to the northwest and then sharply west, to a point near the middle of the present north end bleachers. To get across the running track an archway will be built.

The bricks to be used in the addition to the stadium are from the old Martin Gantz school. Somewhere near 100,000 bricks are on the ground inside the stadium. The construction work is in charge of G. W. Lusk, and the brick work in charge of Joseph Hartland.
When it is finished the addition will contain toilet facilities, locker rooms for visiting teams, thus obviating the use of the Franklin building, and in addition to these uses, the wall will hide the view of the free spectators.

(International News Service)
WEST HARTLEPOOL, Eng., Oct.

cost the lives of 26 hands and two ships, the Roper Shipping Company indicated today.

Lacking word from the freighter Millpool for nearly two days, while ships had abandoned their search owners, gave her up as lost, with 26 seamen.

Today the company, also owners of the stricken Ainderby, with 35 aboard, received a wireless message sible to reach Newfoundland. Water filling No. 2 hold. Pumps working incessantly."

While it is expected that it will be necessary to abandon the Ain-derby, the crew will probably be saved, as the liner Antonia and the freighter Trematon are standing by.

Screen Star Is Ready To Testify

ADDITIONAL CHARGES PROMISED IN CASE

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Hollywood filmings were added to the knock-down-drag-out fight being waged over the custody of ten year old Gloria Vanderbilt today when glamorous Constance Bennett offered to leave the bedside of her ailing Marquis husband to fly to the defense of her friend, Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt.

With additional charges promised for tomorrow when the habeas corpus proceeding, brought by Mrs. Vanderbilt for the custody of her daughter will be resumed before supreme court Justice Carew, the famous screen star jumped into the breach and swung right and left against "those responsible for the vile and low stories being told in town."

Meanwhile her brother, her titled twin sister and a royal friend of Mrs. Vanderbilt prepared to hasten here to deny inter-clar charges that she is unfit to mother her 10 year old daughter.

The marchioness of Milford-Haven, wife of the count of England's king, will sail Saturday on the Empress of Britain with Lady Furness, twin of the 29 year old mother and Harry Hays Morgan, her brother.

They will testify for Mrs. Vanderbilt when she has her day in court.

Marchioness Will Slick

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Her lips quivering with emotion, aimed at the point of tears, the Marchioness of Milford Haven stepped out of a giant air liner from Paris at Croydon airport late this morning and told International News Service that she would "stick by" Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt "to the bitter end."

She has not definitely determined whether she will go to New York to give evidence in the Gloria Vanderbilt custody hearing.

"My lawyers will decide that. But I think it is most likely that I shall go soon," she said.

"I want to do everything I can for Gloria, and I'm going to stand by her through it all."

Her lips tightened, as she added firmly:

"I will say this—the allegations about Mrs. Vanderbilt, as I have heard in the newspapers, are nothing but a pack of terrible and malicious lies!"

tonight Governor Pinchot will deliver his opening blast in the fall campaign, announcing for the first time his position in the November election.

Denounced As Liar

HARRISBURG, Pa. Oct. 4.—George H. Earle, Democratic candidate for governor, was denounced today as a "fool" and a "liar" by Gov. Gifford Pinchot.

In a nine-page statement bristling with unrestrained language, Gov. Pinchot vigorously denied Earle's statement at Easton last night that he and Mrs. Pinchot at one time sought places on the Democratic ticket in Pennsylvania.

The governor did not pull his punches in replying to Earle's charge.

In one of the most heated outbursts of the present political campaign, in which the governor is aligned for the first time in several years with the regular Republican forces, he declared:

"I knew Earle was a fool but until I read this morning's paper I did not know he was a liar."

"First, Earle's statement that Mrs. Pinchot filed petitions for governor in hope that she would bluff the Democratic leaders into accepting her is a cowardly and contemptible falsehood."

"No one with the slightest knowledge either of her or the political situation at the time could have been guilty of such a stupid invention."

"To lie, is bad enough but to invent lies about a woman is clear proof that Earle is unworthy of the respect of any decent man."

Hauptmann when questioned about the roads and towns near Hopewell described them "with remarkable accuracy," according to Foley.

An English-German dictionary was also found in Hauptmann's effects. The district attorney said he thought Hauptmann made use of this dictionary in penning the ransom notes.

Ben Franklin Auditorium Is Being Decorated

Artists Start Work Of Interior Decorating—Will Require Some Weeks

Work on the decoration of the Benjamin Franklin Junior High school auditorium started today, with a corps of RWD workers on the job. Under the supervision of David Gailbus, a local artist, the walls will be painted, the ceiling decorated, and a mural decoration placed upon the slope of ceiling just above the proscenium, with a picture of Benjamin Franklin as the centerpiece.

False work is being put into position today for the use of the painters who will be used on the job. The pictures of Franklin has already been painted by Mr. Gailbus, as well as part of the murals. He will also do the work of decorating the ceiling.

Mr. Gailbus has had a broad experience in the decoration of buildings. He was in charge of the work of decorating the huge RKO Theatre in New York City, the Paramount Theatre in Brooklyn and one of the larger churches in Montreal, Canada.

He estimates the work will require about two months labor. During the time the auditorium is being decorated, it will be out of use insofar as the school is concerned. The bands and orchestras will practice on the stage, and the assembly programs of the school will be discontinued.

STRIKE TENSION GRIPS BRIDGEPORT

of men, women and children were harbored in the Montgomery county jail at Norrisstown, across the Schuylkill river.

Hundreds of indignant workers and their friends surrounded the jail, shouting hostile threats against the special deputies who were surreptitiously taken to Norrisstown early today because Burgess James Mulvey of Bridgeport said he feared they would be "shot or lynched."

Bridgeport police were reinforced by a large detail of state troopers who patrolled the vicinity of the James Lees & Sons company mill, some spot of the strike trouble for the past two weeks.

Spectator Is Shot

The youth who lost his life during the bloody encounter was Ellwood Quirk, 23. He died on the operating table in Montgomery county hospital, Norrisstown, less than an hour after a bullet pierced his abdomen as he was walking home from work. Employed in a tube works factory, young Quirk was passing along the street near the James Lees plant when he paused to watch the rioting.

Just then an automobile dashed through the milling crowd of strikers and sympathizers and a stream of bullets were flying in all directions. One of the slugs found its mark in young Quirk's body.

A blood transfusion failed to save the young man's life.

The strike disorders, growing out of alleged anti-union discrimination in rehiring workers following the end of the recent nation-wide textile walkout, had been confined to more or less minor clashes. But, yesterday afternoon, the lava of resentment burst forth into a full-fledged riot, subdued only by wave after wave of police charges into the mob.

Riot sticks and tear gas bombs were freely used to suppress the angry mob composed of some 3,000 strikers and their families and friends.

Seriously Injured

Among the more seriously injured were: John Storli, 27, lying in Montgomery county hospital with a 15-inch burn from a tear gas bomb on his right leg.

Miss Anastasia Wheeler, 45, declared to be in a critical condition in her home. She was reported suffering from a heart attack brought on by gas.

Marguerite Markland, 19, a spectator, suffering from severe gas burns on face and hands.

Following the shooting that punctuated the riot, the five deputies, hired by the mill, took refuge inside the company plant. Police and state troopers besieged the mill for several hours before the deputies were surrendered by company officials and arrested on homicide warrants. During the siege the officers threatened to break through the plant doors and seize the fugitives.

Mob Surrounds Borough Hall

When the five men were brought to borough hall at midnight a mob of 3,000 yelling, cursing men and women had already surrounded the prisoners transferred to Norrisstown. The deputies were driven through alleys and side streets out of the borough to evade the wrath of the crowd.

Shortly afterward the mob learned that the deputies had been transferred to the county jail at Norrisstown. Approximately 600 men raced by automobile to Norrisstown and surrounded the prison, cursing and shouting their demands for revenge.

Today strike mobs continued to besiege the Norrisstown jail, the Bridgeport borough hall and the James Lees plant. Cowering within the mill, afraid to venture forth lest they be attacked, were ten non-striking workers.

No attempt was made today to open the gates of the mill.

Following termination of the national textile strike, it was alleged that officials of the mill here had refused to rehired certain leaders of the walkout. The 1800 employees of the company then voted to continue the strike, but the firm attempted to operate with a skeleton force.

Yesterday's rioting began when strikers hurled stones at buses and trucks carrying non-striking workers. Alleged discrimination, a complaint against the James Lees & Sons company is pending before the labor relations board.

"Dental Chain" Is Upheld By Court

State Dental Council Had No Authority To Cancel License Of Dr. Henry N. Shor

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Oct. 4.—"Chain store dentistry" was upheld today in a decision handed down by Judge Frank B. Wickham in the Philadelphia county court in which a ruling by the state medical council and examining board was revoked.

The opinion, handed down in the case of Dr. Henry N. Shor, of Philadelphia, who operates 14 dental offices in the state, held that the dental council has no authority to cancel the license of a dentist working more than one office because to do so would deprive him of his property rights guaranteed in the fourteenth amendment to the constitution.

The court further held that the act of 1933 was incomplete in that it gave the dental council arbitrary right to cancel the license of a dentist and close all offices except the one which he actually operated himself.

PREPARING FOR TRIAL IN BRONX OF HAUPTMANN

busy on two fronts in their apparently interminable hunt for new clues, witnesses or suspects.

In and around Peekskill, N. Y., picked sleuths were methodically going through summer camps, known to have been frequented by numerous German-Americans who might have known Hauptmann, in an effort to trace a so-called "mystery woman."

A door-to-door canvass of places where Lindbergh ransom bills are known to have been passed was being undertaken by another group of detectives in the hope that some trace may be found of a person known to have visited a Bronx lumber yard with Hauptmann and to have halted the carpenter when he tendered a large goldback bill in payment for a 40-cent panel of wood.

In New Jersey the Hunterdon county grand jury prepared to convene at Elizabethtown Thursday when Hauptmann's trial opens in the Bronx, to consider an indictment for the graver crimes of kidnapping and murder.

Should the indictment be brought it is possible that the Bronx case against Hauptmann will be instantly cancelled and the suspect rushed to Jersey to go on trial for his life.

"There was no indication, today, however, that the Bronx intended to lay back on its heels in preparing the case against the carpenter. Drawing a panel of 150 talesmen for the trial was to begin this morning and a number of new witnesses were to be questioned."

Moreover, Hauptmann today was to be confronted by Miss Cecil Barr, cashier of a Greenwich Village laundry, who has positively identified him as the man who passed a $3 ransom note at her hotel cage as far back as the summer of 1933.

"This identification is regarded as one of the strongest links in the chain of evidence against Hauptmann for he has insisted stubbornly that he had no access to the ransom money until 'a couple of months ago.' It was not until then, he has maintained, that he found bank notes left behind by the late Isidor Fisch."

moned. In the meantime Mr. Rouse returned and placed Schultz on a couch.

The man was pronounced dead by the physician after arrival and he notified police. Rouse, 37, and several others who had been in the house were questioned by the officers and Coroner Potter at the detective bureau, and the coroner decided death had been accidental, due to a fractured skull.

Mr. Schultz is survived by his wife four children: Mrs. C. S. McCaskey, Carl, Clarence and Edward Schultz, all of this city, and a sister, Mrs. Pete Pile of Woodland.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2:30 p. m. from the Ritchie funeral home, South Mill street, with interment in Greenwood cemetery.

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Susanna Magee, aged 82, widow of G. W. Magee, 823 Addis street, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Waxenfelder, 823 Addis street, Wednesday, October 3, at 6:15 p. m. after an illness due to heart failure. She had been in poor health the past two years.

She was born in Muddy Creek township, July 19, 1852, the daughter of William and Susanna Shaner Boston, and had spent her lifetime in the county. In 1868 she was married to John B. Alexander, to which union five children were born; after his death, she married G. W. Magee in 1904, and he also preceded her in death.

She was a member of the Third United Presbyterian church and before joining with that church she had been a member of the East Brook United Presbyterian church.

She is survived by three children: Charles G. Alexander, Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. Luella P. Waxenfelder, this city, and John B. Alexander, Youngstown, O.; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Carl Williams, Blacktown; 18 grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2:30 p. m. from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Waxenfelder, 823 Addis street, with Dr. S. B. Cope-land officiating. Interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

Mrs. Fennick Funeral

Funeral services for Mrs. Phoebe Ann Fennick were held from the home of her son George, near Plaingrove, Wednesday afternoon with Dr. R. R. Blews, district superintendent of the Free Methodist church, officiating.

The home was filled with friends and relatives and her bier was banked in the floral tributes which denoted sorrow and sympathy. Mrs. Avery Rigby and Mrs. John Wink sang "The Last Mile of the Way" and "I'll Meet You in the Morning."

Flower bearers were nephews: Joe Reynolds, Ralph Stoner, Jacob Blews, H. A. Douglass, William Armstrong and Frank B. Wickham. The casket was laid to rest in the Plaingrove United Presbyterian cemetery. Pallbearers were Edwin Cunningham, James Tanner, Frank Blews, David Douglass, Aaron Blews and Chester Douglass.

Mrs. Emma McNair

The gathering of friends of the late Mrs. Emma McNair, wife of Floyd McNair, were present for the funeral services conducted Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock from the family residence, Lackawanna township, Mercer county.

Rev. Ralph Neale, United Presbyterian pastor, of New Wilmington, was in charge, assisted by Rev. Wm. Ferver, pastor of the Unity Presbyterian church, Greenfield.

"The Lord is My Shepherd" and "Nearer My God to Thee" were rendered by Miss Miller and Mrs. Albert Skillen. The home was filled by many beautiful flowers.

Flower bearers were Ernest Patterson, Norman Patterson, Clyde Annable, Ralph Annable, Raymond Annable and Harold Annable. Interment was made in Fair Oaks cemetery, New Wilmington.

Mrs. Lloyd Funeral

Most impressive were the funeral services in the Leesburg Presbyterian church Wednesday morning for Mrs. Lydia Elizabeth Lloyd, wife of the Rev. William A. Lloyd, pastor of the church.

The church was filled with relatives, friends and members of the congregation to whom she had endeared herself by her untiring selflessness in aiding her husband in his ministrations. The gorgeousness and number of floral tributes were silent witnesses of her extreme popularity.

Dr. S. A. Kirkbride of New Wilmington, pastor at large of the Presbyterian church, officiated and was assisted by co-ministers of the Presbyterian church: Dr. C. B. Wingerd, J. G. Bingham, A. I. Dickenson, J. H. Bell, C. M. Rohrbaugh, T. C. Henderson, W. C. Ferver, F. S. Brenne-man and W. F. Byers.

Mrs. Avery Rigby and Mrs. John Wink sang "Jesus, Blessed Jesus," a favorite number of Mrs. Lloyd, and "Good Night and Good Morning."

Flower bearers were P. J. Armstrong, Donald and James Wright, James Grundy, Walter Armstrong and William Rudolph, members of the session of the church and pallbearers were four young men and four young women of the Sunday school.

After the services the cortege left Leesburg for Jackson, O., the former home of Mrs. Lloyd, where further services will be held Friday morning. Interment will be made in the Fairmont cemetery, Jackson.

Mrs. Mary Vetter

Mrs. Mary Vetter, aged 78, widow of William Vetter, died Wednesday, October 3, at 3:20 p. m. at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. W. James, 410 Bell avenue, after an illness of complications.

She was born in Germany but had been here the past 40 years. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. D. W. James, this city, and Mrs. Elmer Shaffer, Scrubbers, O.; a son, Albert Vetter, Scrubbers, nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. with the Rev. F. E. Stough officiating. Interment will be made in Greenwood cemetery.

Donna Jean Burns Funeral

Funeral services for little Donna Jean Burns were held from the home, East Washington street, Wednesday with the Rev. Paul J. Tau officiating.

Interment was made in Graceland cemetery.

E. C. Gardner Funeral

Funeral services for E. C. Gardner, Bradner avenue, were held Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. from the Book-Leyde mortuary with Dr. S. B. Cope-land, pastor of the Third U. P. church, officiating.

Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery. Pallbearers were Henry Millison, Ray Hilliards, Alex Gardner, Herman Gardner, Norman McConnell, Cargill McConnell, Wallace Allen and Roscoe Clemens.

Joseph Pendel Funeral

Funeral services for Joseph Pendel, Woodland avenue, were held at 10 o'clock this morning from St. Vitus church with the Rev. Albert Farina officiating.

School mates acted as pallbearers when interment was made in St. Vitus cemetery; they were Casmo Shilli, Frank Malley, William Mazini, John Gonesk, Joseph Kenehan, and Ralph Xenli.

Uniontown Girl Suicide Victim

Broods Over Brother's Trial For Murder And Blindness From Suicide Attempt (International News Service) UNIONTOWN, Pa., Oct. 4.—Rather than go through the ordeal of witnessing her brother's trial for murder, 18-year-old Ossa Furlani shot herself to death at her Brownsville home.

Taking a pistol from her mother's room, the girl sent a bullet tearing into her body near her heart. She left a note explaining her act. It read in part:

"Nobody's fault but my own. I never could be happy again. I can't stand to see my brother blind."

"My reason for suicide—too unhappy to live."

Dominick Furlani, her brother, went on trial here Monday for the slaying of his wife, Pezzie. He is said to have confessed. After shooting his wife three months ago, Dominick attempted to end his own life. He shot himself through the head, the bullet blinding him.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks queer, it's a warning. You need a laxative, candy or chewing gum and expect them to work. You suddenly feel better and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the food and a mere movement down to get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is slowing down, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a headache, bad taste and your hair, face, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your liver slows and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Recent a substitute, see at drug store. ©1913 C. M. Co.

No Detail Overlooked

Since the average person is called upon to make funeral arrangements only about once in ten to fifteen years, few people have any idea of the completeness of the service the modern funeral director renders.

As a matter of fact, there are at least eighty-five separate items of service connected with the proper conduct of a funeral. They range from the preparation of obituary notices to the making of cemetery arrangements.

Screen Star Is Ready To Testify

ADDITIONAL CHARGES PROMISED IN CASE

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Gloria Vanderbilt, 29, today was ready to testify in the case of her friend, Mrs. Gloria Vanderbilt, who is charged with the murder of her husband, Mr. Vanderbilt, in New York City.

With additional charges promised for tomorrow when the habeas corpus proceeding brought by Mrs. Vanderbilt for the custody of her daughter will be resumed before supreme court Justice Carew, the famous screen star jumped into the breach and swung right and left against "those responsible for the vile and low stories being told in court."

Meanwhile her brother, her titled twin sister and a royal friend of Mrs. Vanderbilt prepared to hasten here to deny inter-clan charges that she is unfit to mother her 10 year old daughter.

The marchioness of Milford-Haven, wife of the cousin of England's king, will sail Saturday on the Empress of Britain with Lady Furness, born of the 29 year old mother and Harry Hays Morgan, her brother.

They will testify for Mrs. Vanderbilt when she has her day in court.

Marchioness Will Stick

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Her lips quivering with emotion, almost at the point of tears, the Marchioness of Milford Haven stepped out of a giant air liner from Paris at Croydon airport late this morning and told International News Service that she would "stick by" Mrs. Gloria Vanderbilt "to the bitter end."

She has not definitely determined whether she will go to New York to give evidence in the Gloria Vanderbilt custody hearing.

"My lawyers will decide that. But I think it is most likely that I shall go," she said.

"I want to do everything I can for Gloria, and I'm going to stand by her through it all."

Her lips tightened, as she added firmly:

"I will say this—the allegations about Mrs. Vanderbilt, as I have heard in the newspapers, are nothing but a pack of terrible and malicious lies!"

A New York shop suggests that if you wish to look taller you should wear a sheer wool dress with a metal vestee and a bolero front bordered with silk braid.

tonight Governor Pinchot will deliver his opening blast in the fall campaign, announcing for the first time his position in the November election.

Denounced As Liar

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 4.—George H. Earle, Democratic candidate for governor, was denounced today as a "fool" and a "liar" by Gov. Gifford Pinchot.

In a nine-page statement bristling with unrestrained language, Gov. Pinchot vigorously denied Earle's statement at Easton last night that he and Mrs. Pinchot at one time sought places in the Democratic ticket in Pennsylvania.

The governor did not pull his punches in replying to Earle's charge.

In one of the most heated outbursts of the present political campaign, in which the governor is aligned for the first time in several years with the regular Republican forces, he declared:

"I read this morning's paper. I did not know he was a liar. 'First, Earle's statement that Mrs. Pinchot filed petitions for governor in hope that she would bluff the Democratic leaders into accepting her' is a cowardly and contemptible falsehood."

"No one with the slightest knowledge either of her or the political situation at the time could have been guilty of such a stupid invention."

"To lie is bad enough but to invent lies about a woman is clear proof that Earle is unworthy of the respect of any decent man."

ANOTHER RANSOM NOTE IS PASSED

Knows District

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—A New Jersey road map, showing the region in the vicinity of the former Lindbergh home at Hopewell, was found in a trunk belonging to Bruno Richard Hauptmann, it was disclosed today by District Attorney Samuel J. Foley of the Bronx.

Hauptmann, when questioned about the roads and towns near Hopewell described them "with remarkable accuracy," according to Foley.

An English-German dictionary was also found in Hauptmann's effects. The district attorney said he thought Hauptmann made use of this dictionary in penning the ransom notes.

Ridge street, Moore avenue and Grandview avenue, it would be 7700 lineal feet in length and would be constructed of 12 inch sewer pipe. It would provide work for many men and would give the property owners an improvement that has been badly needed for many years.

E. M. Sheridan acted as chairman of the evening and appointed a committee consisting of H. W. Southern, E. Thompson and Paul Pattison to check the ownership of the properties lying along the route of the sewer and to report back.

John W. Pattison was present and explained the workings of the Federal plan to repair homes. He explained the details of the plan and answered questions.

Ben Franklin Auditorium Is Being Decorated

Artists Start Work Of Interior Decorating—Will Require Some Weeks

Work on the decoration of the Benjamin Franklin Junior High school auditorium started today, with a corps of RWD workers on the job. Under the supervision of David Gabisus, a local artist, the walls will be painted, the ceiling decorated, and a mural decoration placed upon the slope of ceiling just above the proscenium, with a picture of Benjamin Franklin as the centerpiece.

False work is being put into position today for the use of the painters who will be used on the job. The pictures of Franklin has already been painted by Mr. Gabisus, as well as part of the murals. He will also do the work of decorating the ceiling.

Mr. Gabisus has had a broad experience in the decoration of buildings. He was in charge of the work of decorating the huge Roxy Theatre in New York City, the Paramount Theatre in Brooklyn and one of the larger churches in Montreal, Canada.

He estimates the work will require about two months labor. During the time the auditorium is being decorated, it will be out of use insofar as the school is concerned. The bands and orchestras will practice on the stage, and the assembly programs of the school will be discontinued.

of men, women and children were harbored in the Montgomery county jail at Norristown, across the Schuylkill river.

Hundreds of indignant workers and their friends surrounded the jail, shouting hostile threats against the special deputies who were surreptitiously taken to Norristown.

Burgess James Mulvey of Bridgeport said he feared they would be "shot or lynched."

Bridgeport police were reinforced by a large detail of state troopers who patrolled the vicinity of the James Lees & Sons company mill, sore spot of the strike trouble for the past ten days.

The youth who lost his life during the bloody encounter was Ellwood Quirk, 23. He died on the operating table in Montgomery county hospital, Norristown, less than an hour after a bullet pierced his abdomen as he was walking home from work. Employed in a tube works factory, young Quirk was passing along the street near the James Lees plant when he paused to watch the rioting.

Just then an automobile dashed through the milling crowd of strikers and sympathizers and a stream of bullets went flying in all directions. One of the slugs found its mark in young Quirk's body.

A blood transfusion failed to save the young man's life.

The strike disorders, growing out of alleged anti-union discrimination in rehiring workers following the end of the recent nation-wide textile walkout, had been confined to more or less minor clashes. But, yesterday afternoon, the lava of resentment burst forth into a full-fledged riot, subdued only by wave after wave of police charges into the mob.

Rioting and tear gas bombs were freely used to suppress the angry mob composed of some 3,000 strikers and their families and friends.

Seriously Injured. Among the more seriously injured were:

John Storti, 27, lying in Montgomery county hospital with a 16-inch laceration from a tear gas bomb on his right leg.

Miss Anastasia Wheeler, 45, declared to be in a critical condition in her home. She was reported suffering from a heart attack brought on by gas.

William Helgel, 38, suffering from a possible skull fracture in Montgomery county hospital.

Marguerite Helgel, 19, a spectator, suffering from severe gas burns on face and hands.

Following the shooting that punctuated the riot, the five deputies, hired by the mill, took refuge inside the company plant. Police and state troopers besieged the mill for several hours before the deputies were surrendered by company officials and arrested on multiple warrants. During the siege the officers threatened to break through the plant doors and seize the fugitives.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only make the bowels and move movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two quarts of bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. You often break out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

Broods Over Brother's Trial For Murder And Blindness From Suicide Attempt

Uniontown, Pa., Oct. 4.—Rather than go through the ordeal of witnessing her brother's trial for murder, 18-year-old Ossa Furlan shot herself to death at her Brownsville home.

Taking a pistol from her mother's room, the girl sent a bullet tearing into her body near her heart. She left a note explaining her act. It read in part:

"Nobody's fault but my own. I never could be happy again. I can't stand to see my brother blind. My reason for suicide—too unhappy to live."

Domestic Furlan, her brother, went on trial here Monday for the slaying of his wife, Plezine. He is said to have confessed. After shooting his wife three months ago, Dominek attempted to end his own life. He shot himself through the head, the bullet blinding him.

CONSTANCE BENNETT MAY BE WITNESS

Screen Star Is Ready To Testify

ADDITIONAL CHARGES PROMISED IN CASE

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Hollywood trimmings were added to the knock-down-drag-out fight being waged over the custody of ten year old Gloria Vanderbilt today when the actress, Constance Bennett, offered to leave the custody of her ailing husband to fly to the defense of her friend, Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt.

With additional charges promised for tomorrow when the habeas corpus proceeding brought by Mrs. Vanderbilt for the custody of her daughter will be resumed before supreme court Justice Carew, the famous screen star jumped into the breach and swung right and left against "those responsible for the vile and low stories being told in court."

Meanwhile her brother, her titled twin sister and a royal friend of Mrs. Vanderbilt prepared to hasten here to deny inter-clan charges that she is unfit to mother her 10 year old daughter.

The marchioness of Milford-Haven, wife of the cousin of England's king, will sail Saturday on the Empress of Britain with Lady Furse, twin of the 29 year old mother and Harry Hays Morgan, her brother.

They will testify for Mrs. Vanderbilt when she has her day in court.

Marchioness Will Stick
LONDON, Oct. 4.—Her lips quivering with emotion, almost at the point of tears, the Marchioness of Milford Haven departed at Croydon airport late this morning and told International News Service that she would "stick by" Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt "to the bitter end."

She had not definitely determined whether she will go to New York to give evidence in the Gloria Vanderbilt custody hearing.

"My lawyers will decide that. But I think it is most likely that I shall go soon," she said.

"I want to do everything I can for Gloria, and I'm going to stand by her through it all."

Her lips tightened, as she added firmly:

tonight Governor Pinchot will deliver his opening blast in the fall campaign, announcing for the first time his position in the November election.

Denounced As Liar
HARRISBURG, Pa. Oct. 4.—George H. Earle, Democratic candidate for governor, was denounced today as a "fool" and a "liar" by Gov. Gifford Pinchot.

In a nine-page statement bristling with unrestrained language, Gov. Pinchot vigorously denied Earle's statement at Easton last night that he and Mrs. Pinchot at one time sought places on the Democratic ticket in Pennsylvania.

The governor did not pull his punches in replying to Earle's charge.

In one of the most heated outbursts of the present political campaign, in which the governor is aligned for the first time in several years with the regular Republican forces, he declared:

"I knew Earle was a fool but until I read this morning's papers I did not know he was a liar."

"First, Earle's statement that Mrs. Pinchot filed petitions for governor in hope that she would bluff the Democratic leaders into accepting her is a cowardly and contemptible falsehood."

"No one with the slightest knowledge either of her or the political situation at the time could have been guilty of such a stupid invention."

To lie is bad enough but to invent lies about a woman is clear proof that Earle is unworthy of the respect of any decent man."

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—A New Jersey road map, showing the region in the vicinity of the former Lindbergh home at Hopewell, was found in a trunk belonging to Bruno Richard Hauptmann, it was disclosed today by District Attorney Samuel J. Foley of the Bronx.

Hauptmann when questioned about the roads and towns near Hopewell described them "with remarkable accuracy," according to Foley.

An English-German dictionary was also found in Hauptmann's effects. The district attorney said he thought Hauptmann made use of this dictionary in penning the ransom notes.

Ridge street, Moore avenue and Grandview avenue, would be 7700 lineal feet in length and would be constructed of 8 inch sewer pipe. It would provide work for many men and would give the property owners an improvement that has been badly needed for many years.

E. M. Sheridan acted as chairman of the evening and appointed a committee consisting of H. W. Santum, Bob Thompson and Paul Pattison to check along the route of the sewer and to report back.

John W. Pattison was present and explained the workings of the Federal plan to repair homes. He explained the details of the plan and answered questions.

Ben Franklin Auditorium Is Being Decorated

Artists Start Work Of Interior Decorating—Will Require Some Weeks

Work on the decoration of the Benjamin Franklin Junior High school auditorium started today, with a corps of RWD workers on the job. Under the supervision of the David Gaius, a local artist, the walls will be painted, the ceiling decorated, and a mural decoration placed upon the slope of ceiling just above the proscenium, with a picture of Benjamin Franklin as the centerpiece.

False work is being put into position today for the use of the painters who will be used on the job. The pictures of Franklin has already been painted by Mr. Gaius, as well as part of the murals. He will also do the work of decorating the ceiling.

Mr. Gaius has a broad experience in the decoration of buildings. He was in charge of the work of decorating the huge Roxy Theatre in New York City, the Paramount Theatre in Brooklyn and one of the larger churches in Montreal, Canada.

He estimates the work will require about two months labor. During the time the auditorium is being decorated, it will be out of use insofar as the school is concerned. The bands and orchestras will practice on the stage, and the assembly programs of the school will be discontinued.

of men, women and children were harbored in the Montgomery county jail at Norristown, across the Schuylkill river.

Hundreds of indignant workers and their friends surrounded the jail shouting hostile threats against the special deputies who were surreptitiously taken to Norristown early today because Burgess James Mulvey of Bridgeport said he feared they would be "shot or lynched."

Bridgeport police were reinforced by a large detail of state troopers who patrolled the vicinity of the James Lees & Sons company mill, some spot of the strike trouble for the past ten days.

Spectator Is Shot
The youth who lost his life during the bloody encounter was Ellwood Quirk, 23. He died on the operating table in Montgomery county hospital, Norristown, less than an hour after a bullet pierced his abdomen as he was walking home from work. Employed in a tube works factory, Quirk was passing along the street near the James Lees plant when he paused to watch the rioting.

Just then an automobile dashed through the milling crowd of strikers and sympathizers and a stream of bullets went flying in all directions. One of the slugs found its mark in young Quirk's body.

A blood transfusion failed to save the young man's life.

The strike disorders, growing out of alleged anti-union discrimination in rehiring workers following the end of the recent nation-wide textile walkout, had been confined to more or less minor clashes. But, yesterday afternoon, the lava of resentment burst forth into a full-fledged riot, subdued only by wave after wave of police charges and tear gas bombs.

Riot charges used to suppress the mob composed of some 3,000 strikers and their families and friends.

Seriously Injured
Among the more seriously injured were:

John Storti, 27, lying in Montgomery county hospital with a 15-inch burn from a tear gas bomb on his right leg.

Miss Anastasia Wheeler, 45, declared to be in a critical condition in her home. She was reported suffering from a heart attack brought on by gas.

Marguerite Markland, 19, a spectator, suffering from severe gas burns on face and hands.

Following the riot the five deputies, hired by the mill, took refuge inside the company plant. Police and state troopers besieged the mill for several hours before the deputies were surrendered by company officials and arrested on homicide warrants. During the siege the officers threatened to break through the plant doors and seize the fugitives.

Mob Surrounds Borough Hall
When the five men were brought to borough hall at midnight a mob of 3,000 yelling, cursing men and women had already surrounded the building. Burgess Mulvey ordered the prisoners transferred to Norristown. The deputies were driven through alleys and side streets out of the borough to evade the wrath of the crowd.

Shortly afterward the mob learned that the deputies had been transferred to the county jail at Norristown. Approximately 600 men raced by automobile to Norristown and surrounded the prison, cursing and shouting their demands for revenge.

Today strike mobs continued to besiege the Norristown jail, the Bridgeport borough hall and the James Lees plant. Covering with in the mill, afraid to venture forth lest they be attacked, were ten non-striking workers.

No attempt was made today to open the gates of the mill.

Following termination of the national textile strike, it was alleged that officials of the mill here had refused to rehire certain leaders of the walkout. The 1800 employees of the company then voted to continue the strike, but the firm attempted to operate with a skeleton force.

Yesterday's rioting began when strikers hurled stones at buses and trucks carrying non-striking workers. Alleging discrimination, a complaint against the James Lees & Sons company is pending before the labor relations board.

"Dental Chain" Is Upheld By Court

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Oct. 4.—"Chain store dentistry" was upheld today in a decision handed down by Judge Frank B. Wickersham in the Dauphin county court in which a ruling by the state medical council and examining board was revoked.

The opinion, handed down in the case of Dr. Henry N. Shor of Philadelphia, who operated 14 dental offices in the state, held that the dentist council has no authority to cancel the license of a dentist operating more than one office because to do so would deprive him of his property rights guaranteed in the fourteenth amendment to the constitution.

The court further held that the act of 1933 was incomplete in that it gave the dental council arbitrary right to revoke the license of a dentist and close all offices except the one which he actually operated himself.

busy on two fronts in their apparently interminable hunt for new clues, witnesses or suspects.

In and around Peekskill, N. Y., picked sleuths were methodically going through summer camps, known to have been frequented by numerous German-Americans, who might have known Hauptmann, in an effort to trace a so-called "mystery woman."

A door-to-door canvass of places where Lindbergh ransom bills are known to have been passed was being undertaken by another group of detectives in the hope that some trace may be found of a man known to have visited a Bronx livery yard with Hauptmann and to have halted the carpenter when he tendered a large goldback bill in payment for a 40-cent panel of wood.

In New Jersey the Hunterdon county grand jury prepared to convene at Flemington next Thursday when Hauptmann's trial opens in the Bronx, to consider an indictment for the greater crimes of kidnapping and murder.

Should the indictment be brought it is possible that the Bronx case against Hauptmann will be instantly cancelled and the suspect rushed to Jersey to go on trial for his life.

There was no indication, today, however, that the Bronx intended to lay back on its heels in preparing the case against the carpenter. Drawing a panel of 150 talesmen for the trial was to begin this morning and a number of new witnesses were to be questioned.

Moreover, Hauptmann today was to be confronted by Miss Cecil Barr, cashier of a Greenwich Village theatre, who has positively identified him as the man who passed a $5 ransom note at her ticket cage a few days back as November of 1933.

This identification is regarded as one of the strongest links in the chain of evidence against Hauptmann for he has insisted stubbornly that he had no access to the ransom money until "a couple of months ago." It was not until then, he has maintained, that he found bank notes left behind by the late Isidor Fisch.

MAN IS KILLED BY STAIRS FALL

In the meantime Mr. Rouse returned and placed Schultz on a couch.

The man was pronounced dead by the physician after arrival and he notified police. Rouse, Sr., and several others who had been in the house were questioned by the officers and Coroner Potter at the detective bureau, and the coroner decided that a fractured skull.

Mr. Schultz is survived by his wife four children: Mrs. C. S. McCaskey, Carl, Clarence and Edward Schultz, all of this city, and a sister, Mrs. Pete Pile of Woodland.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2:30 p. m. from the Ritchie funeral home, South Mill street, with interment in Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Susanna Magee
Mrs. Susanna Magee, aged 82, widow of G. W. Magee, 823 Addis street, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Wachsenfelder, 823 Addis street, Wednesday, October 3, at 6:15 p. m., after an illness due to her advanced age. She had been in poor health the past two years.

She was born in Muddy Creek township, July 19, 1852, the daughter of William and usanna Shaner Boston, and had spent her lifetime in the county. In 1888 she was married to John B. Alexander, to which union five children were born; after his death, she married G. W. Magee in 1904, and he also preceded her in death.

She was a member of the Third United Presbyterian church and before joining with that church she had been a member of the East Brook United Presbyterian church.

She is survived by three children: Charles G. Alexander, Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. Luella P. Wachsenfelder, this city, and John B. Alexander, Youngstown, O.; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Carl Williams, Blacktown; 18 grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2:30 p. m. from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wachsenfelder, 823 Addis street, with Dr. S. B. Copeland officiating. Interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

Mrs. Fennick Funeral
Funeral services for Mrs. Phoebe Ann Fennick were held from the home of her son George, near Plaingrove, Wednesday afternoon with Dr. R. R. Blews, district superintendent of the Free Methodist church, officiating.

The home was filled with friends and relatives and her bier was banked in the floral tributes which denoted sorrow and sympathy. Mrs. Avery Rigby and Mrs. John Wink sang "The Last Mile of the Way" and "I'll Meet You in the Morning."

Flower bearers were nephews: Joe Reynolds, Ralph Stoner, Jacob Blews, H. A. Douglas, William Armstrong and Gus Tanner. She was laid to rest in the Plaingrove United Presbyterian cemetery. Pallbearers were Edwin Cunningham, James Tanner, Frank Blews, David Douglas, Aaron Blews and Chester Douglas.

Mrs. Emma McNair
A huge gathering of friends of the late Mrs. Emma McNair, wife of Floyd McNair, were present for the funeral services, conducted Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock from the family residence, Lackawanna township, Mercer county.

Rev. Ralph Neale, United Presbyterian pastor, of New Wilmington was in charge, assisted by Rev. Wm. Ferver, pastor of the Unity Presbyterian church, Greenfield.

"The Lord is My Shepherd" and "Nearer My God To Thee" were rendered by Miss Miller and Mrs. Albert Skillen. The home was filled by many beautiful flowers.

Pallbearers were Ernest Patterson, Norman Patterson, Clyde Annable, Ralph Annable, Raymond Annable and Harold Annable. Interment was made in Fair Oaks cemetery, New Wilmington.

Mrs. Lloyd Funeral
Most impressive were the funeral services in the Leesburg Presbyterian church Wednesday morning for Mrs. Lydia Elizabeth Lloyd, wife of the Rev. William A. Lloyd, pastor of the church.

The church was filled with relatives, friends and members of the congregation to whom she had endeared herself by her untiring selflessness in aiding her husband in his ministrations. The gorgeousness and number of floral tributes were silent witnesses of her extreme popularity.

Dr. S. A. Kirkbride of New Wilmington, pastor at large of the Presbyterian church, officiated and was assisted by co-ministers of the Presbyterian church: Dr. C. B. Wingerd, J. G. Bingham, A. I. Dickenson, J. H. Bell, C. M. Rohrbaugh, T. C. Henderson, W. C. Ferver, F. S. Brennehan and W. F. Byers.

Mrs. Avery Rigby and Mrs. John Wink sang "Jesus, Blessed Jesus," a favorite number of Mrs. Lloyd, and "Good Night and Good Morning."

Flower bearers were P. J. Armstrong, Donald and James Wright, James Grundy, Walter Armstrong and William Rudolph, members of the session of the church and pallbearers were four young men and four young women of the Sunday school.

After the services the cortege left Leesburg for Jackson, O., the former home of Mrs. Lloyd, where funeral services will be held Friday morning. Interment will be made in the Fairmont cemetery, Jackson.

Mrs. Mary Vetter
Mrs. Mary Vetter, aged 78, widow of William Vetter, died Wednesday, October 3, at 3:20 p. m. at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. W. James, 410 Bell avenue, after an illness of complications.

She was born in Germany but had been here the past 40 years. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. D. W. James, this city, and Mrs. Elmer Shaffer, Struthers, O.; a son, Albert Vetter, Struthers; nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. with the Rev. F. E. Stough officiating. Interment will be made in Greenwood cemetery.

Donna Jean Burns Funeral
Funeral services for little Donna Jean Burns were held from the home, East Washington street, Wednesday with the Rev. Paul J. Tau officiating.

Interment was made in Graceland cemetery.

E. C. Gardner Funeral
Funeral services for E. C. Gardner, Bradner avenue, were held Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. from the Book-Leyde mortuary with Dr. S. B. Copeland, pastor of the Third U. P. church, officiating.

Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery. Pallbearers were Henry Millison, Ray Hilliards, Alex Gardner, Herman Gardner, Norman McConnell, Cargill McConnell, Wallace Allen and Roscoe Clemens.

Joseph Pencil Funeral
Funeral services for Joseph Pencil, Woodland avenue, were held at 10 o'clock this morning from St. Vitus church with the Rev. Albert Farina officiating.

School mates acted as pallbearers when interment was made in St. Vitus cemetery; they were Casmo Shill, Frank Malley, William Mazani, John Gonesk, Joseph Kenahan, and Ralph Yonli.

The many beautiful floral tributes were borne to the grave by William Malley.

W. M. Weaver Funeral
Funeral services for William Marshall Weaver, Northview avenue, were held at 10 o'clock this morning from St. Joseph's church with the Rev. Fr. J. A. Doerr officiating.

Interment was made in St. Joseph's cemetery; pallbearers were J. P. Kennelley, John Griffin, M. Fitzpatrick, Richard Hannon, Luke Eagan and Joseph Eagan.

No Detail Overlooked
Since the average person is called upon to make funeral arrangements only about once in ten to fifteen years, few people have any idea of the completeness of the service the modern funeral director renders.

As a matter of fact, there are at least eighty-five separate items of service connected with the proper conduct of a funeral. They range from the preparation of obituary notices to the making of cemetery arrangements.

Our organization is trained to relieve the bereaved family of all possible worries and burdens. No task, no matter how small or trivial it seems, is such that it can be ever overlooked.

MACHIN FAMILY TO ATTEND WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Machin and daughter, Mrs. Leysen Richards, of Edison avenue, with Mrs. William G. Machin, of Laurel Boulevard, left today for Scarsdale, N. Y., to attend the wedding, Friday, of Jack E. Machin, to Miss Margaret Runkle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Runkle.

The ceremony will take place in the Runkle home, at 2:30 in the evening, with a reception and wedding supper, for relatives and close friends, in the Scarsdale Country club.

The bridegroom departed Wednesday for Scarsdale.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT HOSPITAL SEWING

An unusually good attendance marked the weekly sewing, Wednesday morning, at Jameson Memorial hospital, there being 21 present.

Under the direction of the usual Aid society group, augmented by Crotan M. E. church women, a large number of completed garments were turned in at noon. Mrs. C. R. Balph cut material yesterday.

The work will be continued next Wednesday.

T. O. T. Members

Members of the T. O. T. club resumed their full activities Wednesday evening when they assembled at the home of Goldie Householder on Neshaunock avenue, for their first session. Tables of "500" and chat formed the program, and prizes for the cards contests were awarded to Rose Ritchie and Estella Wilson.

Lunch was served at a late hour by the hostess, with adjournment following. In two weeks, members will be guests of Rose Ritchie on Grant street.

Brisco Club

Wednesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Conti, of Phillips street, members of the Brisco club were pleasantly entertained. Cards proved the popular pastime of the evening.

The hostess served delicious refreshments at an appropriate time. The next meeting occurs next Wednesday evening.

YOUNG WOMEN FORM NEW KNITTING CLUB

Sylvia Lee Martin was a charming hostess, at her home on Park avenue Wednesday evening, to a coterie of girl friends who have decided to form a knitting club this fall.

In the group were Grace Sankey, Lucille Emery, Marie Biddle, Janet Weddell, Barbara Eschlich, Mac Cronie, Geraldine McClelland, Lois Higgins and Mrs. Elmer Retter.

First stitches were cast on for quilts, knitted suits, hats and scarves the work proving most interesting, while the girls chatted. Lois Higgins assisted the hostess with refreshments.

In two weeks, it is planned to have a dinner-meeting at the B. P. W. cottage at Lakewood.

QUEEN ESTHERS PLAN ANNUAL EVENING FETE

What promises to be one of the brilliant social events of next week is the annual "coffee" planned by the Queen Esther Auxiliary of the First Methodist church, with Mrs. Bessie Cones Pitzer as chairman of arrangements, Tuesday, October 9.

Small tables will be arranged in the church dining room and a play will be presented by the high school dramatic class, under the direction of Clara Hartsuff, after which a style show of the winter modes will be presented.

The committee assisting Mrs. Pitzer includes Mrs. C. C. Headland, Mrs. Leon Fink, Miss Neva Moore, Mrs. Earl Buzard, Ellen Wood, Gladys Conn Black, Mrs. Alfred Robbins, Mrs. J. D. McClelland, Mrs. J. H. Biddle, Mrs. Carl Wright, Martha Bigley, Mary Bigley, Molly Shaduck and Mildred Sargeant.

Patterson Circle

Members of the Patterson Circle, of the First Presbyterian church, were entertained in the home of Mrs. Eva Jordan, of the Mt. Jackson Road, Tuesday evening.

The devotionals were conducted by Mrs. Arthur Shearer and a discussion on India was led by Mrs. Orville Brown. Miss Rose McGurk gave an interesting travel talk on "Alaska."

The hours following were spent in a social way.

RAINBOW GIRLS HAVE INSTALLATION

In the west dining room of the cathedral Wednesday evening, the families and friends of the Rainbow girls assembled for a most delicious tureen dinner, with places arranged for almost 100, at long tables centered in fall flowers. Members of the advisory board acted as the committee.

Following dinner the group adjourned to the east lodge room where the public installation of officers took place, with several hundred witnessing the impressive exemplification of induction.

Miss Julian Jackson, junior worthy advisor, presided over the early part of the ceremony and introduced the installing officers: Olive Fern Sanford, organist; Marjory Vaughn, treasurer; Betty Templeton, recorder; Betty Jane Kison, marshal; Luella McBride, chaplain; Betty Johnson, retiring worthy advisor; installing officer; and Mrs. Edith DeArment, present mother advisor to the girls.

The past mother advisors, Mesdames Lenore Urey, Carolyn Lindsley, Lillian Templeton and May Young were introduced as was the advisory board. Greetings from Shenango Chapter 333, O. E. S., were brought by Mrs. Myrtle Kline-Smith and from Chapter 105 by Miss Bessie Durant, worthy matrons.

After the distinguished guests had been introduced, Miss Betty Johnson inducted the corps of officers, with Miss Betty Jane Kison escorting them to the altar and then to their respective stations. Isabel Shaw was inducted as the new worthy advisor and she greeted the friends and thanked the members in well chosen words for the honor conferred upon her. She was presented with a bouquet of handsome red roses from her mother, the presentation being made by Evelyn Swanson, a past worthy advisor.

At intervals during the ceremony the choir, under the direction of Mrs. Thelma Propst, sang several numbers: Mrs. Ben Agnew, accompanied by Lena Richards, sang "The Holy Hour" by Nevin and "I Love But Thee" by Greig, and Elizabeth Milholland, a past worthy advisor, gave a reading which was greatly enjoyed, "The Newlyweds Go Fishing."

Miss Betty Johnson, retiring advisor and installing officer, was presented with her jewel by Julian Jackson, with a gift from her officers by Jane Bechtel and with a beautiful white Bible from the advisory board and past worthy advisors, the presentation being made by Mrs. Lenore Urey, C. W. Harman Hess, president of the advisory board, congratulated Miss Johnson upon her successful term, and, after paying a splendid tribute to the sterling qualities of Isabel Shaw, he wished for her a successful term.

After the retiring candle march, in which the officers, with their lighted candles, made such a beautiful picture, the guests were served light refreshments in the parlors. Mrs. Julius Blaha and her committee were in charge of the serving.

O. E. A. ASSOCIATES GUESTS AT WALMO

Tables of 500 held the attention of O. E. A. club members Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. W. H. Tanney of Walmo, who extended hospitality. Mrs. William Dukes and Mrs. Walter Walde were successful in winning the trophies for honor scores at the conclusion of play.

At the appointed hour, the hostess served a tasty lunch assisted by Mrs. Sol Davies and Mrs. Willard Volsey, the latter and Mrs. Earl Chaffee being special guests of the occasion. October 18 marks the date of their next regular session with Mrs. William Fehl, Northview avenue, as hostess.

W. R. C. Meeting

The Women's Relief Corps had an interesting session Tuesday evening in the city hall when Mrs. Florence Gillespie, delegate to the district convention, gave a splendid report of the convention.

The local corps was honored when Mrs. Gillespie was elected as district president. President Ann Nolis gave a report of the inspection in Memorial hall, Pittsburgh. Of interest to all the members was the announcement that the Brookville Home for the Aged, which was destroyed last March, has been rebuilt and was dedicated Wednesday.

The district convention will be held in New Castle in September, 1935. Plans are being made for a Halloween party October 29.

Old-Time Rebekahs

A delightful gathering was that of the Old-Time Rebekahs Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Ethel Whiting, Youngstown road, when places were arranged for 31 members and two guests, Dick Crowe and Marya dinner.

Concluding dinner, the afternoon was most informal, with conversation and music.

Mrs. Harvey, Beckford street, with Mrs. Betty Rhodes as associate, will entertain the members November 14.

Wimodausis Luncheon

Wednesday, October 10, will be the date of the next Wimodausis luncheon for the club members.

DINNER-BRIDGE CLUB BEGINS TENTH YEAR

Members of the M. L. C. Dinner-Bridge club launched the tenth year of their winter series of gatherings, on Wednesday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas I. Elliott, of Hillcrest avenue.

Following serving of an excellent dinner, the evening was spent with three tables of bridge.

Next meeting of the club will occur at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irvine Balph, Wallace avenue, on November 3.

W. M. L. H. Members

Members of the W. M. L. H. club postponed their meeting for this week, until the following Wednesday, October 10. On this date Mrs. H. C. Maskrey will entertain at the home of her mother, Mrs. T. P. Perry, on Cunningham avenue.

Macon Bridge Club

Members of the Macon Bridge club will be entertained Friday at the home of Mrs. J. P. Mears, Butler avenue, with Mrs. C. Martin presiding as hostess. The meeting was previously scheduled to take place at the residence of Mrs. William Murphy on Butler avenue.

OUT OF TOWN GUESTS RENEWING FRIENDSHIPS

Mrs. Howard D. Cale of Los Angeles, Cal., has arrived in the city for a few days' visit and is stopping at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Wallace on Blaine street.

She is on her way home from an extended visit in Lady Lake, Florida, with her sister, Mrs. John P. Shaddick. Mrs. Shaddick and son, William, accompanied Mrs. Cale to New Castle, and is visiting, until Friday, with her brother-in-law, Sidney J. Shaddick, and family, of 1004 Highland avenue.

Today, at luncheon, Mrs. David W. Kay of Young street, received a few friends informally, in honor of the visitors. A pretty floral centerpiece adorned the table, and after luncheon hours were spent chatting.

The out-of-town guests have many friends in this city with whom they are renewing acquaintance. Among these are Llewellyn Thomas of South Mercer street, David W. Thomas of East Long avenue, George Beaton of Laurel boulevard, all of whom were childhood friends of theirs, in Wales.

Y. O. A. MEMBERS GUESTS WEDNESDAY

Delightful hospitality was extended members of the Y. O. A. Girls club Wednesday by Mrs. G. Wilford Thomas, Summer avenue, when she entertained informally at their regular session.

Contests in bridge whiled away the leisure period and at conclusion of play, Mrs. J. A. Porte was awarded the prize for holding honor score. The serving of refreshments brought the evening to a close.

TUREEN DINNER FOR G. K. W. MEMBERS

On Wednesday evening Mrs. Cyrus Dickson received associates of the G. K. W. club in her home on East Washington street, when she entertained at a beautifully appointed 6 o'clock tureen dinner, a special event on their calendar for the season. After partaking of the sumptuous menu, the guests turned their attention to cards contests which occupied the balance of the evening.

As special guests, the hostess had Mr. and Mrs. George Morningstar, of East Cleveland, her house guests. The next regular meeting of club members will take place at the home of Mrs. Minnie Dufford, North Crawford avenue, in two weeks.

Miss Davies Hostess

Miss Melvina Davies, Electric St. was hostess to the members of the Dorcas class of the First Congregational church Tuesday evening.

After a session of planning for winter activities a period of games ensued and refreshments were served. The hostess carrying out a pretty color scheme of green and yellow in her appointments.

Aides to Miss Davies were Mrs. Lewis J. Davies and Mrs. Owen G. Thomas.

Field Club Bridge

The New Castle Field Club members will assemble at the club house on Friday evening for their usual bi-weekly bridge party instead of this evening, the regular date, this change being necessary due to other activities. Dr. and Mrs. J. G. McNahy will be hosts on this occasion, and play is to begin at 8:30 o'clock. Prizes are to be awarded those winning honors, and following play, lunch will be served.

On Saturday evening, members will participate at their dance event. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Matthews are in charge of arrangements.

Tip Top Club

The Tip Top Club will hold its regular meeting at the home of B. J. Minner on Sankey street Friday evening, October 5, at 7:30.

A special entertainment has been arranged. This meeting will be in the form of a spaghetti supper, and will be under the direction of Geo. Davis.

AFTERNOON WITH POEMS ENJOYED BY DELPHIANS

Narrative poems of Keats, Longfellow and Wadsworth were interesting topics at the meeting of Castle chapter of the Delphian society, held in the Castleton, Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Charles T. Metzler was the leader and following the program she gave a very interesting summary of the afternoon's subject.

"The Eve of St. Agnes" was read by Mrs. D. T. McNahy; "King Robert of Sicily" by Mrs. R. L. Hilbrand, while a discussion of "The Prelude" by Wadsworth was offered by Mrs. Luella Brownlee.

The next meeting is scheduled for October 16 at the same place.

Juniors to Meet

The Junior Catholic Daughters of America will meet Friday evening in St. Mary's hall at 7:30 for a business session.

EASY ACES RESUME MEETINGS FOR FALL

Dinner downtown Wednesday evening, with Mrs. Elizabeth Boyles of Neshaunock avenue in the role of hostess, proved a delightful pleasure for Easy Aces, who resumed their customary meetings after a summer vacation.

At attractively decorated tables, covers were arranged for nine, the group spending the evening afterwards playing p-o-k-e.

Mrs. Clara Balph invited the club to her home on Neshaunock avenue in two weeks.

S. J. Party

Mrs. A. Brown and Mrs. M. J. Scanlon were fortunate winners of card trophies at the S. J. party, Wednesday, in St. Joseph's hall. There was a good attendance, and Mrs. E. Krueger proved a charming hostess.

TWO SECONDS to be sure of her Hair*

Less than a minute—less than a penny—to be sure of your hair all day long! To know it's clean, and looks clean. To know it will stay as you arranged it. And to know you have no dandruff.

That's what moistening your comb with a few drops of Danderine will do. And no amount of dry-combing will ever do. Nearly all hair needs the help that Danderine gives it. A dash of Danderine morning and night when you comb it, makes an amazing difference in the way any hair looks all the time!

When you've washed your hair, a little Danderine will keep it from going luster-sketter. When you pay a dollar for a wave, Danderine will help you keep it. It isn't sticky dressing, or an oily tonic, and it doesn't leave a telltale odor. Its fresh fragrance is gone so quickly after applying—but not that very marvelous effect of freshness and cleanliness!

With all the care a woman gives her hair, it is a pity to omit this last touch that meets so much. It is no trouble. Yet you can hardly believe anything so mild and delightful as Danderine could bring such a change in the condition and appearance of hair and scalp. Just try it. You can buy Danderine at any drug store for thirty-five cents; larger sizes for 60c and $1.00.

MILLIONS of women use Rinso on wash-day, too. Its creamy suds soak out dirt—get clothes 4 or 5 shades whiter. Clothes last longer. Makers of 40 famous washers recommend Rinso. Gives thick suds—even in hardest water!

Arrangements are being made for a Halloween party.

AFTERNOON WITH POEMS ENJOYED BY DELPHIANS

Narrative poems of Keats, Longfellow and Wadsworth were interesting topics at the meeting of the chapter of the Delphian society, held in the Castleton, Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Charles T. Metzler was the leader and following the program she gave a very interesting summary of the afternoon's subject.

"The Eve of St. Agnes" was read by Mrs. D. T. McConahy; "King Robert of Sicily" by Mrs. R. L. Hilbrand, while a discussion of "The Prelude" by Wordsworth was offered by Mrs. Luella Brownlee.

The next meeting is scheduled for October 16 at the same place.

Juniors to Meet

The Junior Catholic Daughters of America will meet Friday evening in St. Mary's hall at 7:30 for a business session.

EASY ACES RESUME MEETINGS FOR FALL

Dinner downtown Wednesday evening, with Mrs. Elizabeth Boyles of Neshannock avenue in the role of hostess, proved a delightful pleasure for Easy Aces, who resumed their customary meetings after a summer vacation.

At attractively decorated tables, covers were arranged for nine, the group spending the evening afterwards playing p-o-k-e.

Mrs. Clara Balph invited the club to her home on Neshannock avenue in two weeks.

S. J. Party

Mrs. A. Brown and Mrs. M. J. Scanlon were fortunate winners of card trophies at the S. J. party, Wednesday, in St. Joseph's hall. There was a good attendance, and Mrs. E. Krueger proved a charming hostess.

MACHIN FAMILY TO ATTEND WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Machin and daughter, Mrs. Leyshon Richards, of Edison avenue, with Mrs. William G. Machin, of Laurel Boulevard, left today for Scarsdale, N. Y., to attend the wedding, Friday, of Jack E. Machin, to Miss Margaret Runkle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Runkle.

The ceremony will take place in the Runkle home, at 8:30 in the evening, with a reception and wedding supper, for relatives and close friends, in the Scarsdale Country club.

The bridegroom departed Wednesday for Scarsdale.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT HOSPITAL SEWING

An unusually good attendance marked the weekly sewing, Wednesday morning, at Jameson Memorial hospital, there being 21 present.

Under the direction of the usual Aide society group, augmented by Croton M. E. church women, a large number of completed garments were turned in at noon. Mrs. C. R. Balph cut material yesterday.

The work will be continued next Wednesday.

T. O. T. Members

Members of the T. O. T. club resumed their fall activities Wednesday evening when they assembled at the home of Goldie Householder on Neshannock avenue, for their first session. Tables of "500" and chat formed the program, and prizes for the cards contests were awarded to Rose Ritchie and Estella Wilson.

Lunch was served at a late hour by the hostess, with adjournment following. In two weeks, members will be guests of Rose Ritchie on Grant street.

Brisco Club

Wednesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Conit, of Phillips street, members of the Brisco club were pleasantly entertained. Cards proved the popular pastime of the evening.

The hostess served delicious refreshments at an appropriate time. The next meeting occurs next Wednesday evening.

RAINBOW GIRLS HAVE INSTALLATION

In the west dining room of the cathedral Wednesday evening, the families and friends of the Rainbow girls assembled for a most delicious tureen dinner, with places arranged for almost 100, at long tables centered in fall flowers. Members of the advisory board acted as the committee.

Following dinner the group adjourned to the east lodge room where the public installation of officers took place with several hundred witnessing the impressive exhibition of induction.

Miss Juliann Jackson, junior worthy advisor, presided over the early part of the ceremony and introduced the installing officers: Olive Fern Sanford, organist; Marjory Vaughn, treasurer; Betty Templeton, recorder; Betty Jane Kison, marshal; Luella McBride, chaplain; Betty Johnson, retiring worthy advisor, installing officer; and Mrs. Edith DeArment, present mother advisor to the girls.

The past mother advisors, Mesdames Lenore Urey, Carolyn Lindsley, Lillian Templeton and May Young were introduced as was the advisory board. Greetings from Shenango Chapter 333, O. E. S. were brought by Mrs. Myrtle Klingensmith and from Chapter 105 by Miss Bessie Durant, worthy matrons.

After the distinguished guests had been introduced, Miss Betty Johnson inducted the corps of officers, with Miss Betty Jane Kison escorting them to the altar and then to their respective stations. Isabel Shaw was inducted as the new worthy advisor, and she greeted the friends and thanked the members in well chosen words for the honor conferred upon her. She was presented with a bouquet of handsome red roses from her mother, the presentation being made by Evelyn Swanson, a past worthy advisor.

At intervals during the ceremony the choir, under the direction of Mrs. Thelma Propst, sang several numbers: Mrs. Ben Agnew, accompanied by Lena Richards, sang "The Holy Hour" by Nevin and "I Love But Thee" by Greig, and Elizabeth Milholland, a past worthy advisor, gave a reading which was greatly enjoyed, "The Newlyweds Go Fishing."

Miss Betty Johnson, retiring advisor and installing officer, was presented with her jewel by Juliann Jackson, with a gift from her officers by Jane Bechtel and with a beautiful white Bible from the advisory board and past worthy advisors, the presentation being made by Mrs. Lenore Urey, C. W. Herman Hess, president of the advisory board, congratulated Miss Johnson upon her successful term, and, after paying a splendid tribute to the sterling qualities of Isabel Shaw, he wished for her a successful term.

After the retiring candle march, in which the officers, with their lighted candles, made such a beautiful picture, the guests were served light refreshments in the parlors. Mrs. Julius Blaha and her committee were in charge of the serving.

O. E. A. ASSOCIATES GUESTS AT WALMO

Tables of 500 held the attention of O. E. A. club members Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. W. H. Tanney of Walmo, who extended hospitality. Mrs. William Dukes and Mrs. Walter Waide were successful in capturing the trophies for honor scores at the conclusion of play.

At the appointed hour, the hostess served a tasty lunch assisted by Mrs. Sol Davies and Mrs. Willard Volsey, the latter and Mrs. Earl Chaffee being special guests of the occasion.

October 18 marks the date of their next regular session with Mrs. William Fehl, Northview avenue, as hostess.

Friday

Field Club Bridge, Dr. and Mrs. J. G. McNahy hosts.

W. R. C. Meeting.

The Women's Relief Corps had an interesting session Tuesday evening in the city hall when Mrs. Florence Gillespie, delegate to the district convention, gave a splendid report of the convention.

The local corps was honored when Mrs. Gillespie was elected as district president. President Ann Nolte gave a report of the inspection in Memorial hall, Pittsburgh. Of interest to all the members was the announcement that the Brookville Home for the Aged, which was destroyed last March, has been rebuilt and was dedicated Wednesday.

The district convention will be held in New Castle in September, 1935. Plans are being made for a Halloween party October 29.

Old-Time Rebekahs

A delightful gathering was that of the Old-Time Rebekahs Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Ethel Whiting, Youngstown road, when places were arranged for 31 members and two guests, Dick Crowe and Myrna Whiting, for a delicious chicken dinner.

Concluding dinner, the afternoon was most informal, with conversation and music.

Mrs. Harvey Beckford street, with Mrs. Hetty Rhodes as associate, will entertain the members November 14.

Wimodausis Luncheon.

Wednesday, October 10, will be the date of the next Wimodausis luncheon for the club members.

Mrs. Joseph Hatland and Mrs. E. B. Ray are in charge of reservations for the event.

DINNER-BRIDGE CLUB BEGINS TENTH YEAR

Members of the M. L. C. Dinner-Bridge club launched the tenth year of their winter series of gatherings on Wednesday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas I. Elliott, of Hillcrest avenue.

Following serving of an excellent dinner, the evening was spent with three tables of bridge.

Next meeting of the club will occur at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irvine Balph, Wallace avenue, on November 3.

W. M. L. H. Members

Members of the W. M. L. H. club postponed their meeting for this week, until the following Wednesday, October 10. On this date Mrs. H. C. Maskrey will entertain at the home of her mother, Mrs. I. P. Perry, on Cunningham avenue.

Macon Bridge Club

Members of the Macon Bridge club will be entertained Friday at the home of Mrs. J. R. Mears, Butler avenue, with Mrs. C. Martin presiding as hostess. The meeting was previously scheduled to take place at the residence of Mrs. William Murphy on Butler avenue.

OUT OF TOWN GUESTS RENEWING FRIENDSHIPS

Mrs. Howard D. Cale of Los Angeles, Cal., has arrived in the city for a few days' visit and is stopping at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Wallace on Blaine street.

She is on her way home from an extended visit in Lady Lake, Florida, with her sister, Mrs. John P. Shaddick. Mrs. Shaddick and son, William, accompanied Mrs. Cale to New Castle, and is visiting, until Friday, with her brother-in-law, Sidney J. Shaddick, and family, of 1004 Highland avenue.

Today, at luncheon, Mrs. David W. Kay of Young street, received a few friends in informal, in honor of the visitors. A pretty floral centerpiece adorned the table, and after luncheon hours were spent chatting.

The out-of-town guests have many friends in this city with whom they are renewing acquaintance. Among these are Llewellyn Thomas of South Mercer street, David W. Thomas of East Long avenue, George Beaton of Laurel boulevard, all of whom were childhood friends of theirs, in Wales.

Y. O. A. MEMBERS GUESTS WEDNESDAY

Delightful hospitality was extended to members of the Y. O. A. Girls club Wednesday by Mrs. G. Wilford Thomas, Summer avenue, when she entertained informally at their regular session.

Contests in bridge whiled away the leisure period and at conclusion of play, Mrs. J. A. Porte was awarded the prize for holding honor score. The serving of refreshments brought the evening to a close.

In two weeks, Mrs. Frank Olin-felter, of Summer avenue, will be club hostess.

TUREEN DINNER FOR G. K. W. MEMBERS

On Wednesday evening Mrs. Cyrus Dickson received associates of the G. K. W. club in her home on East Washington street, when she entertained at a beautifully appointed 6 o'clock tureen dinner, a special event on their calendar for the season. After partaking of the sumptuous menu, the guests turned their attention to cards contests which occupied the balance of the evening.

As special guests, the hostess had Mr. and Mrs. George Morningstar, of East Cleveland, her house guests. The next regular meeting of club members will take place at the home of Mrs. Minnie Dufford, North Crawford avenue, in two weeks.

Miss Davies Hostess

Miss Melvina Davies, Electric St. was hostess to the members of the Dorcas class of the First Congregational church Tuesday evening.

After a session of planning for winter activities a period of games ensued and refreshments were served, the hostess carrying out a pretty color scheme of green and yellow in her appointments.

Aides to Miss Davies were Mrs. Lewis J. Davies and Mrs. Owen G. Thomas.

Field Club Bridge

The New Castle Field Club members will assemble at the club house on Friday evening for their usual bi-weekly bridge party instead of this evening, the regular date, the change being necessary due to other activities. Dr. and Mrs. J. G. McNahy will be hosts on this occasion, and play is to begin at 8:30 o'clock. Prizes are to be awarded those winning honors, and following play, lunch will be served.

On Saturday evening, members will participate at their dance event. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Matthews are in charge of arrangements.

Tip Top Club

The Tip Top Club will hold its regular meeting at the home of B. J. Minner on Sankey street Friday evening, October 5, at 7:30.

A special entertainment has been arranged. This meeting will be in the form of a spaghetti supper, and will be under the direction of Geo. Davis.

Arrangements are being made for a Halloween party.

TWO SECONDS to be sure of her Hair*

Less than a minute—less than a penny—to be sure of your hair all day long! To know it's clean, and looks clean. To know it will stay as you arranged it. And to know you have no dandruff.

That's what moistening your comb with a few drops of Danderine will do. And no amount of dry-combing will ever do. Nearly all hair needs the help that Danderine gives it. A dash of Danderine morning and night when you comb it, makes an amazing difference in the way any hair looks all the time!

It isn't sticky dressing, or an oily tonic, and it doesn't leave a telltale odor. Its fresh fragrance is gone so quickly after applying—but not that very marvelous effect of freshness and cleanliness!

With all the care a woman gives her hair, it is a pity to omit this last touch that means so much. It is no trouble. Yet you can hardly believe anything so mild and delightful as Danderine could bring such a change in the condition and appearance of hair and scalp. Just try it. You can buy Danderine at any drug store for thirty-five cents; larger sizes for 60c and $1.00.

THE SHOW-OFF
Mary Fry of San Mateo sends me some paragraphs about a bird, and I suspect it's because he was such a show-off and because he was a male bird and because his wife minded her own business and DIDN'T show off.He was in a cage, and even in a cage he couldn't restrain himself.
"He was a brightly colored fellow, almost gaudy. Orange breast and black wings, and he carried a great air of cockiness about him. . . .
He would run from one end of the cage to the other, shrieking at his mate. Once in a while he would run to the screening, peer at the other birds, spread his wings, let out a shrill whistle of disdain, and then fly to the top of the cage."His mate was quieter in color and not so obstreperous. She sat quietly most of the time and merely looked at him. And when she did attempt to fly, he would dash at her and drive her back to her own corner again. . . . "His sole ambition in life was to fly to the top of the cage, grasp the screening and hang by his claws downward. He would repeat this five or ten times, stop and rest and again take up his work. Each time he reached the top, he would let out a triumphant shriek, and look about him for applause. Sometimes the other birds would look up at him, but after the fifth time he had attracted their attention in this manner, they would keep on eating or sunning themselves and pay no attention to this fellow who awkwardly hunted for praise."Once his mate decided to speak her mind to him. "She flew to him and jabbered in a low but decided tone, but he went to be preached to and in the midst of her warnings he took up his flight to the top of the cage, hung warily from the screening and mocked her. . . . She immediately flew to her corner, resumed her air of resignation, and let him beat about to his heart's content."And as Mary Fry watched that bird she couldn't help comparing him with some human beings who "are forever trying to attract attention to themselves, not by useful acts, but by useless ones, such as this bird was doing."That's right, and yet I'd rather not hear any more about him. It's too painful. . . . That noisy bird in that cage, squawking and parading and showing-off is entirely too male for my masculine equanimity and I'd rather not be reminded of the pa-radizing vanity of my own sex. . . .
I thank Mary Fry, but her description of that bird leaves an alum taste in my mouth.

were about to write this column, at the end of a long day of gathering news and opinions, a man turned to us and asked:"How does it feel to live in the country now?"And away went all the world problems and all the world opinions we had diligently gathered. We sat down in the office and chatted—after everybody else had gone home —on the vicissitudes of the subur-banite.Since there seem to be a million-beat heavily against the windows:"We looked at our place on a sunny day when the distant hills and a church steeple lent enchantment. Here at last was sur-moil of the city. At last we were to achieve freedom from the Sid-walks of New York."We looked upon the scene as an answer to our prayers. Footwear from a two-year search for a home, on the highroad to a pleasanter life.

"In no time at all we had moved."The friend snorted: "Then what happened?"We glanced out of the window at the rain, as we responded: "First, it has rained every day since.
Secondly, we never get to see the view. Thirdly, we found that it takes two means of transportation to reach our office—and one million other persons try to crowd into the same cars. Fourthly, we are not overly fond of the radio."Our friend was puzzled. Said he:
"I'm not understanding the 'secondly' when we start for the office and dark when we return." Then, as an afterthought: "We usually have forgotten our umbrella besides.""Um," our listener remarked. "I

HIS FAMEThe joy he sought was never much Beyond her smiles and theirs;
Though modestly he kept in touch
With all the world's affairs.
The only fame he cared to win
And sought as best he could
Was that his own, through thick
And thin.He honored men who rose to fame,
But envied none at all.
He was content with friends who cameAt times on him to call;
And if he failed when over-taxed,
He'd rise to start anew.
His faith was all he ever asked
In that he tried to do.Some seek the plaudits of the throne,
Some would be worldwide known;
But all he sought his whole life long
Was peace of mind.So modestly he went his way,
Urged by this single whim:
That it was fame enough if they Were always proud of him.

CRUISING TRAFFIC ADVISER

CINCINNATI seems to have originated a traffic-regulating device that is worth copying. It is called the "talking car." It cruises slowly along business streets, with a loud speaker dispensing warnings and advice, and a clever policeman at the operating end.

The effect is said to be startling. Out of the comparative silence at a street crossing, where the traffic shows signs of confusion, comes a booming voice:

"Will the lady in the green hat please wait for the traffic signal?"

Or "The driver of that chiseling Packard should draw back, give the pedestrians a chance to get across, and wait for the green light."

Or in the thick moving lines, "Trucks should travel next to the curb."

Or in front of a store where there is a "No Parking" sign, "How long does Automobile License Number Empty-Ump expect to stand here?"

Or in a risky situation where traffic tides are getting confused, "Easy everybody, easy, everybody! Take your time!"

That will strike decent drivers and pedestrians as a very valuable sort of police work.

GENERAL CLEANUPS NEEDED

In Floyd county, Ky., seven persons have been indicted on charges of fraudulently converting a total of $122,500 in federal relief money.

Widespread irregularities in connection with the administration of federal relief are reported to exist in Chicago and Cook county, Ill., with thousands of persons being on relief rolls who are not entitled to have their names there. Similar reports come from other sections of the country.

Federal Relief Administrator Hopkins recently asserted that conditions such as indicated in Kentucky and Chicago prevailed to a large extent in relief work as now being carried on in many sections.

The matter is one that should call for prompt action by the proper authorities. If the Kentucky indictments mean that a general cleanup has been begun, they are of far more than local importance. Millions of dollars of taxpayers' money is going ostensibly into relief work. How much of this is finding its way into dishonest pockets is a question of vital interest to the public, which foots the relief bills.

The guilt or innocence of those indicted in Kentucky is a question for a jury to decide. But no leniency should be shown in any case where relief funds have been improperly used.

TANGLED LOVE

A marital tangle of serious proportions enmeshes two Missouri farm couple who traded wives and husbands.

Having mutually agreed to swap partners, according to reports, they obtained divorce decrees in the court of Judge Leslie A. Bruce, of Harrisonville. Three days later they went to Kansas City and were married, former mates being exchanged in the process.

The next morning Judge Bruce read of the marriage licenses issued. The judge, who apparently belongs to the old school of moralists, became incensed, believing that improper use had been made of his court. He promptly set aside the divorce decrees on the grounds of collusion.

The effect of this action on the couples was to leave each wife with two husbands and each husband with two wives, since the divorce decrees were in effect at the time the new marriage ceremonies were performed. Setting aside of the decrees had rendered the divorces null and void.

Whether the judge was justified in so complicating the lives of the four persons is something for moralists to discuss.

TRAGEDY PRESENTS LESSON

The fiendish murder of little Lillian Gallaher in Detroit has taught that city a lesson that should stand out in flaming letters before officials of every other city in the country.

It is the lesson that children sent forth from door to door to solicit funds or to sell chances or merchandise ever are in danger of falling into the hands of degenerates.

It was on such an errand that Lillian Gallaher went to her death. A few minutes after leaving home to sell punchboard tickets for a school benefit, she was seized by the fiend who took her life, stuffed her body into a trunk, and then fled.

Detroit fully realizes the menace at last, and Police Commissioner H. A. Pickert has called for an ordinance to put an end to such activities of children.

THE SHOW-OFF

Mary Fry of San Mateo sends me some paragraphs about a bird, and I suspect it's because he was such a show-off and because he was a male bird and because his wife minded her own business and DIDN'T show off.

He was in a cage, and even in a cage he couldn't restrain himself. "He was a brightly colored fellow, almost gaudy. Orange breast and black wings, and he carried a great air of cockiness about him. . . . He would run from one end of the cage to the other, shrieking at his mate. Once in a while he would run to the screening, peer at the other birds, spread his wings, let out a shrill whistle of disdain, and then fly to the top of the cage."

His mate was quieter in color and not so ostentatious. She sat quietly most of the time and merely looked at him. And when she did attempt to fly, he would dash at her and drive her back to her own corner again. . . . "His sole ambition in life was to fly to the top of the cage, grasp the screening and hang by his claws downward. He would repeat this five or ten times, stop and rest and again take up his work. Each time he reached the top, he would let out a triumphant shriek, and look about him for applause. Sometimes the other birds would look up at him, but after the fifth time he had attracted their attention in this manner, they would keep on eating or sunning themselves and pay no attention to this fellow who awkwardly hinted for praise."

Once his mate decided to speak her mind to him. "She flew to him and jabbered in a low but decided tone, but he wasn't to be preached to, and in the midst of her warnings he took up his flight to the top of the cage, hung warily from the screening and mocked her. . . . She immediately flew to her corner, resumed her air of resignation, and let him beat about to his heart's content."

And as Mary Fry watched that bird she couldn't help comparing him with some human beings who "are forever trying to attract attention to themselves, not by useful acts, but by the ones, such as this bird was doing."

That's right, and yet I'd rather not hear any more about him. It's too painful. . . . That noisy bird in that cage, squawking and pecking and showing-off entirely to male for masculine equanimity and I'd rather not be reminded of the parading vanity of my own sex. . . . I thank Mary Fry, but her description of that bird leaves an alum taste in my mouth.

COMBINE YOUR CONCENTRATION WITH RELAXATION

Most of the mistakes you make, physically and mentally, seem to be due to the fact that you try too hard to be perfect.

You are so tense that your muscles and mind cannot work effectively.

A certain degree of relaxation is necessary to attain perfection.

When you go at a thing with too fixed a determination to do it right, you are expending determination more than the task on hand.

If you look back at some of your best mental work, you will remember that you gave close attention to the work you were doing, but you were free from the thought that you must get it done at any given time. Also, you did not feel bound physically or mentally as to the results of your labor.

It is possible to concentrate and at the same time permit yourself freedom of thought and action.

Your attention should be close enough to keep out irrelevant thoughts.

It may be hard for you to adopt such a plan, but it will bring better results, therefore subject yourself to the required discipline which teaches concentration with relaxation.

A SHADOW OF THE PAST

Among some Mayan relics recently brought back from Central America and placed in the Metropolitan Museum in New York City, was an old pistol. It is an old muzzle loader, said to have belonged to William Walker, American soldier of fortune, whose exploits thrilled the world nearly one hundred years ago.

Walker, a Tennesseean, was successively a doctor, a lawyer, editor, soldier and adventurer. As gladiator, such a figure in a novel, he led a little army of two hundred men, as adventurous as himself, into Nicaragua, overthrew the government, and established himself as President.

He was President in name only, ruling the little country with an iron hand and logging tribute until a rebellion, aided by nearby Guatemalans, overthrew his government and captured Walker.

He was executed by a firing squad in 1860, the usual fate of freebooters.

Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Just as we were about to write this column, at the end of a long day of gathering news and opinions, a man turned to us and asked:

"How does it feel to live in the country now?"

And away went all the world problems and all the world opinions we had diligently gathered. We sat down in the office and chatted—after everybody else had gone home—on the vicissitudes of the suburbanite.

Since there seem to be a million—or maybe ten million—of us, our opinions may be of some value.

You see, we—my wife and I—came into town to attend a play the other night.

We now can understand the success of the radio.

BAIT
(There is only one New York (Thank God.)

But everyone—seemingly—desires to become a New Yorker (for reasons as yet undiscovered). This column is important. It may discourage a few persons.

Said we to our friend, as the rain beat heavily against the windows:

"We looked at our place on a sunny day—when the distant hills and a church steeple lent enchantment. Here at last was succor from the noise and the turmoil of the city. At last we were to achieve freedom from the sidewalks of New York."

"We looked upon the scene as an answer to our prayers. Footwear from a two-year search for a home, we were certain that we now were on the highroad to a pleasanter life. "In no time at all we had moved."

The friend snorted: "Then what happened?"

We glanced out of the window at the rain, as we responded: "First, it has rained every day since. Secondly, we never get to see the view. Thirdly, we found that it takes two means of transportation to reach our office—and one million other persons try to crowd into the same cars. Fourthly, we are not overly fond of the radio."

"Our friend was puzzled. Said he: "I do not understand the 'secondly'—about the view."

We readily responded: "It is dark when we start for the office and dark when we return." Then, as an after-thought: "We usually have forgotten our umbrellas besides."

"Umm," our listener remarked. "I still am puzzled. Your 'fourthly'—what has not being fond of the radio got to do with it?"

We elucidated: "We prefer plays. We're not very old yet. We not only desire to cogitate on life—we desire to get into the depths of other men's thoughts, to snatch the few pearls that ever appear."

We could feel the contempt of our friend rising. He plays bridge. "We don't," finally he snorted. "You live only 15 miles from the theater district—from the heart of the greatest city in the world. As it is you're always traveling somewhere to learn what other folk think. Then, when you return from your journeys, what do you do?"

"Well, what 'do we do?'
"You bury yourself in an office or at home and you dig the thoughts out of yourself. That's what. I don't feel sorry for you. We should be very thoughtful in this new home."

GOING TO THEATER

But have YOU ever gone to the theater via electric train, two subways and a taxi on a rainy night, from one of those nearby distant suburbs of New York?

Or have you flown across the ocean or climbed Mt. Washington or Mt. Hood?

Well, just you fly across the ocean or climb the mountain. It will be less effort.

We shall not bore you. We shall give only one example. We went to a play the other night. With two hours' leeway and a sandwich snatched on the way, one can get to a play. It is a sort of a game. One figures out the number of minutes each leg of the journey should take. Most of the time the transportation systems work against one. But sometimes they do come through in lickety-split order.

The other evening they did. The other evening they came through on the dot—and no sooner had we started on our way than we realized we had left our umbrella, a coat and the evening paper behind. We missed the evening paper first. We looked at the scenery instead. That was unfortunate. It was our wife who first discerned that it was raining.

We tried to be optimistic. "It will let up."

Alas, we are not a weather prophet.

FINAL CURTAIN

When the play had ended, the rain had not.

We bravely ventured forth to hail a taxi.

But he who captured a taxi in New York on a rainy night could collect all the debts from Europe.

We did not capture a taxi.

We ran for the nearest transportation system.

And when we arrived home we were so exhausted we took us until this morning to write a column.

All the burning news of the world has been chilled into raindrops by our little thunderstorm.

Or in the thick moving lines, "Trucks should travel next to the curb."

Or in front of a store where there is a "No Parking" sign, "How long does Automobile License Number Umpty-Ump expect to stand here?"

Or in a risky situation where traffic tides are getting confused, "Easy everybody, easy, everybody! Take your time!"

That will strike decent drivers and pedestrians as a very valuable sort of police work.

GENERAL CLEANUPS NEEDED

In Floyd county, Ky., seven persons have been indicted on charges of fraudulently converting a total of $122,500 in federal relief money.

Widespread irregularities in connection with the administration of federal relief are reported to exist in Chicago and Cook county, Ill., with thousands of persons being on relief rolls who are not entitled to have their names there. Similar reports come from other sections of the country.

Federal Relief Administrator Hopkins recently asserted that conditions such as indicated in Kentucky and Chicago prevailed to a large extent in relief work as now being carried on in many sections.

The matter is one that should call for prompt action by the proper authorities. If the Kentucky indictments mean that a general cleanup has been begun, they are of far more than local importance. Millions of dollars of taxpayers' money is going ostensibly into relief work. How much of this is finding its way into dishonest pockets is a question of vital interest to the public, which foots the relief bills.

The guilt or innocence of those indicted in Kentucky is a question for a jury to decide. But no leniency should be shown in any case where relief funds have been improperly used.

TANGLED LOVE

A marital tangle of serious proportions enmeshes two Missouri farm couple who traded wives and husbands.

Having mutually agreed to swap partners, according to reports, they obtained divorce decrees in the court of Judge Leslie A. Bruce, of Harrisonville. Three days later they went to Kansas City and were married, former mates being exchanged in the process.

The next morning Judge Bruce read of the marriage licenses issued them. The judge, who apparently belongs to the old school of moralists, became incensed, believing that improper use had been made of his court. He promptly set aside the divorce decrees on the grounds of collusion.

The effect of this action on the couples was to leave each wife with two husbands and each husband with two wives, since the divorce decrees were in effect at the time the new marriage ceremonies were performed. Setting aside of the decrees had rendered the divorces null and void.

Whether the judge was justified in so complicating the lives of the four persons is something for moralists to discuss.

TRAGEDY PRESENTS LESSON

The fiendish murder of little Lillian Gallaher in Detroit has taught that city a lesson that should stand out in flaming letters before officials of every other city in the country.

It is the lesson that children sent forth from door to door to solicit funds or to sell chances or merchandise ever are in danger of falling into the hands of degenerates.

It was on such an errand that Lillian Gallaher went to her death. A few minutes after leaving home to sell punchboard tickets for a school benefit, she was seized by the fiend who took her life, stuffed her body into a trunk, and then fled.

Detroit fully realizes the menace at last, and Police Commissioner H. A. Pickert has called for an ordinance to put and end to such activities of children.

THE SHOW-OFF

Mary Fry of San Mateo sends me some paragraphs about a bird, and I suspect it's because he was such a show-off and because he was a male bird and because his wife minded her own business and DIDN'T show off.

He was in a cage, and even in a cage he couldn't restrain himself. "He was a brightly colored fellow, almost gaudy. Orange breast and black wings, and he carried a great air of cockiness about him." He would run from one end of the cage to the other, shrieking at his mate. Once in a while he would run to the screening, peer at the other birds, spread his wings, let out a shrill whistle of disdain, and then fly to the top of the cage.

His mate was quieter in color and not so ostentatious. She sat quietly most of the time and merely looked at him. And when she did attempt to fly, he would dash at her and drive her back to her own corner again. "His sole ambition in life was to fly to the top of the cage, grasp the screening and hang by his claws downward. He would repeat this five or ten times, stop and rest and again take the top. Each time he reached the top, he would let out a triumphant shriek, and look about him for applause. Sometimes the other birds would look up at him, but after the fifth time he had attracted their attention in this manner, they would keep on eating or sunning themselves and pay no attention to this fellow who awkwardly hinted for praise."

Once his mate decided to speak her mind to him. "She flew to him and jabbered in a low but decided tone, but he wasn't to be preached to, and in the midst of her warnings he took up his flight to the top of the cage, hung warily from the screening and mocked her. . . . She immediately flew to her corner, resumed her air of resignation, and let him beat about to his heart's content."

And as Mary Fry watched that bird she couldn't help comparing him with some human beings who "are forever trying to attract attention to themselves, not by useful acts, but useless ones, such as this bird was doing."

That's right, and yet I'd rather not hear any more about him. It's too painful. . . . That noisy bird in that cage, squawking and parading and showing-off is entirely too male for me. I think Mary Fry, but her description of that bird leaves an alum taste in my mouth.

The World At A Glance

A Columnist Goes Astray
He Moves To Suburbs, Alas

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Just as we were about to write this column, at the end of a long day of gathering news and opinions, a man turned to us and asked:

"How does it feel to live in the country now?"

And away went all the world problems and all the world opinions we had diligently gathered. We sat down in the office and chatted—after everybody else had gone home—on the vicissitudes of the suburbanite.

Since there seem to be a million—or maybe ten million—of us, our opinions may be of some value.

You see, we—my wife and I—came into town to attend a play the other night.

We now can understand the success of the radio.

There is only one New York (thank God).

But everyone—seemingly—desires to become a New Yorker (for reasons as yet undiscovered). This column is important. It may discourage a few persons.

Said we to our friend, as the rain beat heavily against the windows:

"We looked at our place on a sunny day—when the distant hills and a church steeple lent enchantment. Here at last was succor from the noise and the turmoil of the city. At last we were to achieve freedom from the sidewalks of New York."

"We looked upon the scene as an answer to our prayers. Footwear from a two-year search for a home, we were certain that we now were on the highroad to a pleasanter life. "In no time at all we had moved." The friend snorted: "Then what happened?"

We glanced out of the window at the rain, as we responded: "First, it has rained every day since. Secondly, we never get to see the view. Thirdly, we found that it takes two means of transportation to reach our office—and one million other persons try to crowd into the same cars. Fourthly, we are not overly fond of the radio."

Our friend was puzzled. Said he: "I do not understand the 'secondly'—about the view."

We readily responded: "It is dark when we start for the office and dark when we return." Then, as an after-thought: "We usually have forgotten our umbrella besides."

"I still am puzzled. Your 'fourthly'—what has to be fond of the radio got to do with it?"

We elucidated: "We prefer plays. We're not very old yet. We not only desire to cogitate on life—its meaning, its purpose, its end—we desire to get into the denizens of other men's thoughts, to snatch the few pearls that ever appear."

We could feel the contempt of our friend rising. He plays bridge. We don't. Finally, he snorted: "You live only 15 miles from the theater district—from the heart of the city—you're always traveling somewhere to learn what other folk think. Then, when you return from your journeys, what do you do?"

Well, what do we do?

THURSDAY, OCT. 4.

The World War Day-By-Day—Oct. 4, 1914—A day set aside by proclamation of President Wilson for national prayer by all faiths for peace in Europe. Throughout the world similar days of prayer were being appointed by the new pope, Giacomo della Chiesa, Benedict XV.

Pope Pius had murmured in one of his last moments of consciousness a few weeks before, "Now I begin to think that the Almighty in His inexhaustible goodness wishes to spare the horrors Europe is undergoing."

While devout Americans were importing divine intervention, the 400-foot tower of Antwerp's 14th century Cathedral, for which Rubens painted three of his greatest masterpieces—Descent from the Cross, Elevation of the Cross, Assumption—was shaking from the blows of German and Austrian siege guns. Rubens' burial place, the church of St. James, was itself in the line of fire.

More than half dozen of the important forts in the defenses ringing Antwerp already had fallen into German hands. The events of the first week of the bombardment had left no illusions as to the face of the greatest city in Belgium. The super-heavy howitzers of the invaders had both demolishing and ranging power. They could be installed in perfect safety beyond the extreme range of the Belgian guns, and regulate their fire as if in target practice. Their shells shattered reinforced concrete vaults 8-feet, penetrated 9-inch chrome-nickel-steel domes.

The transport of important materials and supplies, and the evacuation of the wounded, prisoners and recruits from the doomed city now was being accomplished by way of the only railway connection with Ostend, over a bridge that was within range of the enemy's guns. But King Albert had no intention of surrendering Antwerp until the last extremity, he was resolved to hold out as long as escape was possible, in order to gain time for the formation of a Franco-Belgian-British front that would prevent the Germans from reaching the Channel coast. Every day gained at Antwerp meant a port saved.

The Belgian army that had de-laved the Germans long enough to save Paris, now was trying to delay them again long enough to save London. Ironically, it was the anniversary of Belgium's birth as a nation—her Independence Day.

HIS FAME
The joy he sought was never much beyond her smiles and tears. Though modestly he kept in touch With all the things he cared to win And sought as best he could Was that his own, through thick and thin, Should think of him as good.

He honored men who rose to fame. But envied none at all. He was content with friends who came. At times on him to call; And if he failed when over-taxed, He'd rise to start anew. Their faith was all he ever asked. In what he tried to do.

Some seek the plaudits of the throng. Some would be worldwide known; But all he sought his whole life long Were plaudits of his own. So modestly he went his way, Urged by this single whim, That it was fame enough if they Were always proud of him. (Copyright, 1934, Edgar A. Guest)

THAT'S what a small boy said when he saw the Mother Goose story on the Rice Krispies package and was told that there were lots of other stories to follow.

And of course he will have fun every time he eats Rice Krispies. They snap, crackle and pop in milk or cream and taste so good. No other rice cereal has such flavor and crunchiness.

Rice Krispies are fine for any meal. Nourishing and easy to digest. When eaten at the evening meal they invite restful sleep. Countless grown-ups, for this reason, often take a bowl of Rice Krispies as a bedtime snack.

U. S. Air Forces To Be Enlarged

Fighting Unit Of Army To
Be Doubled In Size
Is Decree

WILL BE PURCHASED

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The army high command moved swiftly forward today with plans to develop a coordinated fighting air force that will have the comparative strength and mobility of action of a giant eagle over any other war birds that might seek to invade American shores.

Existing fighting units of the air corps will be doubled to bring the strength of the newly created general headquarters air force up to a total of 900 airplanes.

Under direct command of the chief of staff of the army, this headquarters air force will be held in readiness for call at a moment's notice to rear in giant mass formation to any part of the nation which may be threatened by an "enemy" attack.

To Add 450 Machines
Doubling of the strength of existing fighting units of the air corps will necessitate an additional 450 new combat machines.

As formed now, the new headquarters air force consists of only about 450 machines, the number included in the 48 units which form the nucleus of the aerial armada. Many of these units now are below peace-time strength. They will be brought up to full strength and an additional ten or fifteen new units added.

Contracts for a large number of the airplanes which form these new units already have been made. The remainder will be sought in the 1936 appropriations.

The 900 machines which will compose the new air force when brought up to full strength will not be concentrated together at all times in peace. Instead, the various units will be scattered at flying fields throughout the country, as they are now.

Held In Readiness
However, these units will be held in readiness to concentrate together on short notice whenever the chief of staff calls for them. The entire force also may hold mass formation maneuvers in peace-time.

One of the principal purposes of the headquarters air force will be to give the war department general staff unified control over all branches of the army.

Creation of this new headquarters air force brings the air corps to a level with the other branches of the army and gives the general staff unified control.

At the same time, it virtually deprives Brig.-General Benjamin Foulois, chief of the air corps, of command of the fighting units of the military air service and makes him little more than a chief training and supply officer.

This is in line with the recommendations of the Baker board report, which said the chief of the air corps should be "especially qualified to lead the business side of the air corps procurement and supply functions."

Young Progressive Lodge Has Meeting

Plans Outlined For Halloween Party Latter Part Of Month

Members of the Young Progressive Juvenile Lodge, No. 12, convened in King Humbert Hall, Wednesday evening.

President Roger Pezono was in charge of the business session, when plans were outlined for a Halloween party, to take place the latter part of the month. A definite date will be decided later. The general committee appointed for this evening includes Peter Farone, chairman; Nick Gesue, Maria Parie, Josephine Daino and Elizabeth Massaro.

A special meeting will take place in two weeks for the purpose of acquainting the members with the final arrangements for the coming party.

Of the 10 or 12 species of geese occurring in the United States, all but two or three breed in the far north and are migrants and winter visitors south of Canada.

LIFT LICENSES
HARRISBURG—Twelve registration plates and eight operators' licenses were lifted by highway patrolmen during August. Since the first of the year, patrolmen have lifted 167 registrations and fifty-six operators' licenses found to be held or used in violation of the law.

"Mother, the more
RICE KRISPIES
you buy, the more fun I'll have!"

THAT'S what a small boy said when he saw the Mother Goose story on the Rice Krispies package and was told that there were lots of other stories to follow.

And of course he will have fun every time he eats Rice Krispies. They snap, crackle and pop in milk or cream and taste so good. No other rice cereal has such flavor and crunchy crispness.

Rice Krispies are fine for any meal. Nourishing and easy to digest. When eaten at the evening meal they invite restful sleep. Countless grown-ups, for this reason, often take a bowl of Rice Krispies as a bedtime snack.

Sold by grocers everywhere in the red-and-green package with a Mother Goose story as told by Kellogg's Singing Lady on the back of every one. The WAXTITE bag inside the package keeps those delicious toasted rice bubbles oven-fresh. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

U. S. Air Forces To Be Enlarged

Fighting Unit Of Army To
Be Doubled In Size
Is Decree

WILL BE PURCHASED

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The army high command moved swiftly forward today with plans to develop a coordinated fighting air force that will have the comparative strength and mobility of action of a giant eagle over any other war birds that might seek to invade American shores.

Existing fighting units of the air corps will be doubled to bring the strength of the newly created general headquarters air force up to a total of 900 airplanes.

Under direct command of the chief of staff of the army, this headquarters air force will be held in readiness for call at a moment's notice to roar in giant mass formations to any part of the nation which may be threatened by an "enemy" attack.

To Add 450 Machines
Doubling of the strength of existing fighting units of the air corps will necessitate an additional 450 new combat machines.

As formed now, the new headquarters air force consists of only about 450 machines, the number included in the 48 units which form the nucleus of the aerial armada.

Many of these units now are below peace-time strength. They will be brought up to full strength and an additional ten or fifteen new units added.

Contracts for a large number of the airplanes which form these new units already have been made. The remainder will be sought in the 1935 appropriations.

The 300 machines which will compose the new air force when brought up to full strength will not be concentrated together at all times in peace. Instead, the various units will be scattered at flying fields throughout the country, as they are now.

Held In Readiness
However, these units will be held in readiness to concentrate together on short notice whenever the chief of staff calls for them. The entire force also may hold mass formation maneuvers in peace-time.

One of the principal purposes of the headquarters air force will be to give the war department general staff unified control over all branches of the army.

Creation of this new headquarters air force brings the air corps to a level with the other branches of the army and gives the general staff unified control.

At the same time, it virtually deprives Brig. General Benjamin Foulois, chief of the air corps, of command of the fighting units of the military air service and makes him little more than a chief training and supply officer.

This is in line with the recommendations of the Baker board report, which said the chief of the air corps should be "especially qualified to lead the business side of the air corps procurement and supply functions."

LOYAL LADIES MEETING

Mrs. Elmer Pander of Albion avenue entertained the members of the Loyal Ladies class of Calvary Presbyterian church on Thursday evening.

Mrs. I. A. Lytle and Mrs. Earl Powell had charge of the games for the evening and prizes were awarded Mrs. George Lawrence, Mrs. Elmer Pander and Mrs. G. Maxwell and Mrs. I. A. Lytle.

At an appropriate time a tempting lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by her joint aide, Mrs. Louis Beckard.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Mrs. J. W. Allen entertained a group of relatives on Sunday evening in the person of Joseph Bell, the person who inspired Arthur Conan Doyle's classic character, Doyle studied medicine under Bell in Edinburgh university from 1881 to 1885, first introduced Sherlock Holmes in A Study in Scarlet in 1887, when he was 28.

Notable Nativities—Jean Millet, b. 1814, French artist who painted The Gleaners, The Angelus, etc. He sold the latter for $360. Once it sold for $160,000, is worth much more today.

Rutherford B. Hayes, b. 1822. He became 19th President of the U. S. by a majority of one vote in the electoral college, and took the oath of office the day before his actual inauguration to forestall a possible coup d'etat by his opponent, Samuel J. Tilden.

Lennox Robinson, b. 1886, Irish playwright—The White-Headed Boy, etc. . . . Buster Keaton, b. 1896, at Piquette, Kansas, during a tornado. . . . Frederick Chase "Col. Stoopnagle" Taylor, b. 1897, radio entertainer.

You're Wrong If You Believe—That all the colonists sprang to arms overnight against the British in 1775 and that the Continental Congress didn't have to offer inducements to get men for Washington's army.

Actually, Washington had difficulties in getting recruits for the fight for the country's liberty. And there were more desertions from the Continental Army than from the ranks of the hired Hessian troops sent over by the British.

Also, you're wrong if you believe—That it doesn't hurt a rabbit to be lifted by the ears.

That the older whisky is, the better it is.

The King, America, Hell dir im Siegerkranz (the former German national anthem) and a Danish anthem, committed suicide. He was Henry Carey, illegitimate son of the English Marquis of Halifax.

Oct. 4, 1795—Napoleon Bonaparte, an Italian, who wanted a commission in the Russian army, was appointed "commander-in-chief of the forces provided for the defense of France," and began his rise to mastery of half of Europe. He was only 26.

Oct. 4, 1843—The clipper Great Republic, the largest sailing-ship ever built, was launched at Boston. She was 334 feet long, 53 feet abeam, registered 4,566 tons and had spars and sail area never equalled before or since.

But she never sailed with her record burthen. On the eve of her maiden voyage she caught fire, had to be scuttled to prevent total loss. When she was salvaged, she was razed to 3,337 tons and given a greatly reduced rig. Nevertheless, she made a record voyage around the Horn to San Francisco.

Her builder was Donald McKay, 33, hailed by an obelisk in Boston Harbor as: "Master builder whose genius produced ships of a beauty and speed before unknown, which swept the seven seas, made the American clipper ships famous the world over and brought renown and prosperity to the city of Boston."

Oct. 4, 1861—The first flight for military purposes was made on the western continent. Prof. T. S. C. Lowe went across the Confederate lines in Virginia in a balloon to observe enemy positions for Gen. George B. McClellan.

He was to follow a system of directing artillery fire from the air, and get Count Zeppelin, then aged 24, interested in building airships for military purposes. Young Zeppelin served with Lowe in the war.

Mrs. J. D. Shannon and son Harold and family, of Stoneboro, called on Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Drake, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bougher and daughter Betty and John Jackson visited the Pymatung Dam, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Blake and Irene visited Mr. Blake's mother who is a patient at Jameson Memorial hospital in New Castle.

Mrs. Charles Holliday and son Robert spent Thursday in Butler, and friends were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Wolbert.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Gibboney and children have returned to their home in Lovellville, O., after a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. George Masters.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Steiner were hosts to a group of friends recently. An evening of music was followed by a delicious spaghetti supper served by the ladies of the party. C. L. McCoy was also a guest.

Millburn Grange held its annual Booster night on Friday evening with an open meeting at which the display of fruit and vegetables, canned goods, flowers and fancy work formed a large part of the evening's program.

Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Holden were Mr. and Mrs. David Ramsdell and daughter Elinor and M. H. McDonald of Sheffield, Mr. and Mrs. Burdette Morris and Walter Hooks of Pleasantville and George McClelland and son Lee of Raymlton.

An interesting talk accompanied by lantern slides was given by County Agent Waha, a humorous playlet, "Pa Leaves House" music by the Juveniles and the Booster Day message from Rational Master Tabor helped to make this annual event of the Grange a most interesting and successful affair.

Mack Supplee, who is employed by W. G. Christley suffered a painful accident last week when he slipped and fell through the wagon on which he was riding while helping to fill the silo at the Lyle Cummings' farm. Mr. Supplee's ankle caught in the wagon and shattered the bone. He was unable to make himself heard above the noise of the tractor and hung for some time before he was discovered. He was removed to Mercer hospital where he's being cared for.

HALLOWE'EN PARTIES ARE BEING PLANNED

"When the frost is on the pumpkin," one's thoughts turn to Halloween, which will be upon us before we know it, the way time flies nowadays.

Apropos, plans for Halloween parties are being announced daily and today we can tell you about one arranged for October 15, in which members of the Central Presbyterian church will participate. The affair will be held at the home of Miss Edna Robinson on the Eckenburg road and it will be for the husbands, as well as for the class members.

Arrangements were discussed at the meeting of the class held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. William McCombs on the Mt. Jackson road, at which Miss Elizabeth Wallace and Miss Helen Laphew were co-hostesses. There were 14 present, and after the business session there was a social time with delightful refreshments.

ELKS AND FRIENDS INTERESTED IN PARTY

Much interest is being manifested by members of the Elks club, and their friends, in the series of card parties to be given fortnightly again this season, in the club rooms on North Mill street.

The first party will be a prominent social event of Friday evening at 8:15. Card enthusiasts will find tables arranged for contract, auction, and 500 games, with the ever popular bingo scheduled for after-luncheon hours, in the recreation room.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben G. Agnew will dispense hospitality for the club being assisted by a capable committee, headed by Edward J. Ryan.

Preacher Arrives Here.
Mrs. Mary Rowland of 202 North Crawford avenue, has as her house guest, her brother, the Rev. W. E. Crouser of Los Angeles, Calif. Rev. Crouser will visit in Pennsylvania at different cities and before leaving for his home he will preach in one of the local churches, definite announcement to be made later. Also he is asked to deliver a sermon at New Lebanon, Mercer county.

Rev. Crouser arrived in New Castle Wednesday morning.

G. N. Club.
Mrs. Rose Cola, Uter street, entertained the G. N. club members Thursday evening informally at cards. Prizes were awarded to Barbara Coli and Clotis Ross at the close of play. Also, radio music, lunch was served at the chosen hour by the hostess.

In two weeks Edith Semione of Division street will entertain at her home.

MRS. MAYBERRY HOSTESS TO 1931 GLENDALE CLUB

Mrs. William Mayberry extended delightful hospitality, Wednesday evening, at her home on Northview avenue, to associates in the 1931 Glendale club who resumed meeting for the season.

There were three tables of bridge in play, several guests being present. Mrs. William Wallace, Mrs. Harvey Bush, Mrs. Gale Smith, Mrs. Dorothy Shelar and Miss Iva Mayberry, Mrs. Clara Nicholson and Mrs. Kenneth Voorhees won distinction at cards, while Mrs. Bush was awarded the guest favor, and Mrs. Wallace presented with a pretty gift in remembrance of her birthday.

Pink and green tones were accentuated in table appointments for luncheon, with a mixed bouquet of garden flowers, as a centerpiece. Miss Mayberry assisted.

On October 17, the Clyde Nicholson will receive the club at her home on Hillcrest avenue.

ELABORATE WEDDING AT ST. VITUS TODAY

One of the most elaborate weddings of the autumn season, in St. Vitus church, was performed this morning at 9:30 o'clock by the Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, when he joined together in holy wedlock Miss Helen Scopio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Scopio, of 821 South Mercer street, and Carl Richards of 920 South Mill street.

The bride was lovely in a white satin gown, made princess style. She carried an arm bouquet of calla lilies and as she approached the altar with her father, Mrs. Latsko, church organist, played several appropriate wedding selections. Miss Irene DiCicco of this city, maid of honor, was attractive in a green crepe gown with velvet accessories. Anthony Zekruci served the groom as best man.

The following eight young women of this city were attractively attired in yellow crepe gowns, with brown velvet accessories, and carried bouquets of yellow mums: Misses Viola Scopio, Edith Vitale, Mary Aud-DeGiglio, Phyllis Casper, Helen Perrell and Josephine Costella.

Ushers included Anthony Aceto, Louis Pagley, Amos Augustine, Andy Biondi, Louis Sorio, Patsy Scopio, Charles Fetrucci and Theodore Turco. Miss Margaret Biondi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Biondi, of South Jefferson street, was the guide.

The ring ceremony was performed before an assemblage of relatives and friends of the couple. Following the church service a sumptuous dinner was served to a large number of friends and relatives in King Humbert hall, Division street. This evening at 7:30 o'clock a reception will be held in Humbert hall.

Dispensing with a honeymoon for the present, Mr. and Mrs. Richards, who are popular South Side residents, will be at home to their friends at 920 South Mill street.

HALLOWE'EN PARTIES ARE BEING PLANNED

"When the frost is on the pumpkin," one's thoughts turn to Halloween, which will be upon us before we know it, the way time flies nowadays.

Approx. plans for Halloween parties are being announced daily and today we can tell you about one arranged for October 15, in which members of the Laura M. Stevenson class of the Central Presbyterian church will participate. The affair will be held at the home of Miss Edna Robison on the Edenburg road and it will be for the husbands, as well as for the class members.

Arrangements were discussed at the meeting the class held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. William McCombs on the Mt. Jackson road, at which Miss Elizabeth Wallace and Miss Helen Lapish were co-hostesses. There were 14 present, and after the business session there was a social time with delightful refreshments.

ELKS AND FRIENDS INTERESTED IN PARTY

Much interest is being manifested by members of the Elks club, and their friends, in the series of card parties to be given fortnightly again this season, in the club rooms on North Mill street.

The first party will be a prominent social event of Friday evening at 8:15. Card enthusiasts will find tables arranged for contract, auction, and 500 games, with the ever popular bingo scheduled for after-luncheon hours, in the recreation room.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben G. Agnew will dispense hospitality for the club being assisted by a capable committee, headed by Edward J. Ryan.

Preacher Arrives Here.

Mrs. Mary Rowland of 202 North Crawford avenue, has as her house guest, her brother, the Rev. W. E. Crouser of Los Angeles, Calif. Rev. Crouser will visit in Pennsylvania at different cities and before leaving for his home he will preach in one of the local churches, definite announcement to be made later. Also he is asked to deliver a sermon at New Lebanon, Mercer county.

Rev. Crouser arrived in New Castle Wednesday morning.

G. N. Club.

Mrs. Rose Cola, Uber street, entertained the G. N. club members Thursday evening informally at cards. Prizes were awarded to Barbara Coll and Clotilde Ross at the close of play. Also, radio music, chat and dancing were pastimes. Lunch was served at the chosen hour by the hostess.

In two weeks Edith Semone of Division street will entertain at her home.

MRS. MAYBERRY HOSTESS TO 1931 GLENDALE CLUB

Mrs. William Mayberry extended delightful hospitality, Wednesday evening, at her home on Northview avenue, to associates in the 1931 Glendale club who resumed meeting for the season.

There were three tables of bridge in play, several guests being present. Mrs. William Wallace, Mrs. Harvey Bush, Mrs. Gale Smith, Miss Dorothy Shelar and Miss Iva Mayberry, Mrs. C. E. Nicholson and Mrs. Kenneth Voorhees won distinction at cards, while Mrs. Bush was awarded the guest favor, and Mrs. Mayberry was presented with a pretty gift in remembrance of her birthday.

Pink and green tones were accentuated in table appointments for luncheon, with a mixed bouquet of garden flowers, as a centerpiece. Miss Mayberry assisted.

On October 17, the Clyde Nicholson will receive the club at her home on Hillcrest avenue.

ELABORATE WEDDING AT ST. VITUS TODAY

One of the most elaborate weddings of the autumn season, in St. Vitus church, was performed this morning at 9:30 o'clock by the Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, when he joined together in holy wedlock Miss Helen Scapio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Scapio, of 821 South Mercer street, and Carl Richards of 920 South Mill street.

The bride was lovely in a white satin gown, made princess style. She carried an arm bouquet of calla lilies and as she approached the altar with her father, Mrs. Latsko, church organist, played several appropriate wedding selections. Miss Irene DiCicco of this city, maid of honor, was attractive in a green gown with velvet accessories. Anthony Petrucci served the groom as best man.

The following eight young women of this city were attractively attired in yellow crepe gowns, with brown velvet accessories, and carried bouquets of yellow mums: Misses Viola Scapio, Edith Vitale, Mary Audio, Katherine Miscimarra, Carmella DeGillo, Phyllis Gasper, Helen Perrell and Josephine Costella.

Ushers included Anthony Aceto, Louis Pagley, Amos Augustine, Andy Biondi, Louis Sorto, Patsy Scapio, Charles Petrucci and Theodore Turco. Miss Margaret Biondi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Biondi, of South Jefferson street, was the guide.

The ring ceremony was performed before an assemblage of relatives and friends of the couple. Following the church service a sumptuous dinner was served to a large number of friends and relatives in King Humbert hall, Division street. This evening at 7:30 o'clock a reception will be held in Humbert hall.

Dispensing with a honeymoon for the present, Mr. and Mrs. Richards, who are popular South Side residents, will be at home to their friends at 920 South Mill street.

In serving a dainty repast, the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Charles Richardson.

Plans for their next gathering were completed, Mrs. Cynthia Alexander of Dewey avenue to be hostess on Thursday, October 18.

Bridge At Eight

Beautiful autumn flowers lent beauty to the home of Miss Leiby, on West Clayton street, last evening, the occasion being the first fall meeting of the Bridge at Eight club.

Miss Jane Steen and Miss Louise Mitchell captured the favors, the two table game of bridge. Orchid and yellow hues were artistically combined in luncheon details and serving, the hostess was aided by her mother, Mrs. William Leiby.

The next meeting will be at the home of Miss Louise Mitchell, on Leasure avenue, October 18.

O. G. Club Members

Miss Melba Brickner entertained the O. G. Club Wednesday evening in her home on Hutchinson street. After playing cards, prizes were given to Erna Zuhre and Mrs. Helen Kellner. Mrs. Charles A. Brickner, Jr., received a handkerchief shower in observance of her birthday anniversary. The guest trophy went to Evelyn Cunningham.

On October 17, Mrs. Georgianna Walsh, of Neshannock avenue, will entertain.

A. G. P. Club

As guests of Mrs. Rose Tripp, of Highland avenue, Wednesday, A. G. P. associates had a pleasant afternoon of music and cards. Mrs. Walter Smith and Mrs. Jane Caswell were club guests and Mrs. J. F. Hartman and Mrs. Carl Kahner. Mrs. Jack Pitzer will entertain, at her Shaw street residence, in a fortnight.

1929 Bridge Club

A special meeting is called for members of the 1929 Bridge club to be held Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. J. F. Walter, on West Clayton street. Plans for the season will comprise the discussion period, and their first regular session will take place at Mrs. Walters on October 12.

Former Residents Here

Mrs. Helen Falls Woodworth of New York City has arrived in New Castle for a visit with her mother, Mrs. W. H. Falls, who has been registered at the Castleton hotel. Both Mrs. Falls and daughter are former prominent residents of this city.

In Hospital.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ray Bleakley of East Ward avenue is getting along as well as can be expected following an operation, performed last Saturday in Jameson Memorial hospital. A trip to Chicago, planned by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James T. Ray, for this week, has been cancelled.

Parent-Teacher Associations

COUNTY COUNCIL.
County Council, Parent-Teacher association, will have an important meeting at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, October 4 at the home of Mrs. Carrie Jeffery Roberts, 1306 Barbour Place.

ARTHUR MCGILL RECEPTION
A large number of parents, fathers as well as mothers, are reserving Thursday evening to attend the annual reception which will be given for the teachers at Arthur McGill school Thursday evening in the school auditorium, at 8 o'clock.

This social event, under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association, will take the place of the customary monthly meeting, and following an attractive musical program, refreshments will be served.

RECEPTION FOR TEACHERS
The members of the Shenango Parent-Teacher Association have planned a reception for the teachers of the school Monday evening, October 8, when a splendid program has been arranged.

Defense Plans Of British Are Being Mapped

Chancellor Of Exchequer
Chamberlain Reveals Defense Plans Are Under Way

(International News Service)
BRISTOL, Eng., Oct. 4.—Virtually abandoning hope for world disarmament under present conditions, Great Britain has decided to build up her national defenses and has formulated detailed plans toward that end.
This was the message delivered by Chancellor of the Exchequer Neville Chamberlain to the annual Conservative party conference here, a declaration greeted by rousing cheers.
"Nobody can say," Chamberlain declared, "that Britain has not given the lead in disarmament."
Have Been Patient.
"We have been patient and we have done the best to get other countries to follow."
"But until there can be removed the feeling of fear and anxiety among other great armed nations, there is not much hope of getting any serious amount of disarmament."
"Therefore the government has decided it would be incompatible with its duty to Britain to leave our defenses in the condition they are in today."
"The government, fully alive to the dangers of the situation, has already made a preliminary investigation of the state of the defenses of the whole empire and spent many months in examining the whole situation and formulating adequate plans."

MAHONINGTOWN LADY GAINED 5 POUNDS BY TAKING VENDOR

Found Relief From Shortness Of Breath, Gas And Sour Stomach.
Nervous, Was Now Calm, Sleeps
Sound, Has Good Appetite.

"I cannot say too much in favor of Vendol because it has done me so much good," said Mrs. Sophie Book of route 8, Mahoningtown, in the New Castle Drug Company recently, where she came to purchase two more bottles of this excellent medicine.
"I used to suffer from biliousness, dizzy spells and spots before my eyes. My stomach was weak and I often filled up with sour gas. Sometimes the gas would be so bad I'd have shortness of breath and I'd have to lie down for an hour at a time.
"My nerves were unstrung, which kept me from enjoying good rest, and the children's noise would upset me. I was constipated all the time and just about lost my appetite.
"Vendol has changed all this and that is why I think it such a grand medicine. I can now eat most anything I want and never have the gas, acid, sourness or the bloating and shortness of breath. I sleep sound and have such a good appetite that I have actually gained five pounds, and this has made me feel so much better."

MRS. SOPHIE BOOK

"Vendol quickly relieved my constipation and now I'm regular every day. I never have those dizzy spells and my skin has taken on a better color. Vendol is the best medicine I ever took."
What Vendol did for this well-known lady living right here among us, it will do for anyone suffering from the same troubles. Try it.
Come to the New Castle Drug Company, 31 E. Washington Street, or 24 N. Mill Street, and let them explain all about Vendol. It is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

Distribution To Public

SCOPE OF PLANS GREATLY ENLARGED

Nearly a truck load of mail has been received from Washington by the local advisory committee, headed by J. W. Pattison, in connection with the Housing Repair program which has been started here. The mail which includes all kinds of pamphlets and posters to be used in the campaign, is stored in the Chamber of Commerce rooms in the Grey building.
It will be given out by Marcus Feuchtwanger, chairman, and Harold Philpott, repair advisor, and the canvassers who will shortly cover the city in an effort to stimulate repair work.

Originals of equipment to be financed through Modernization loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration have been liberalized recently so as to include practically everything which is built in or permanently attached to the wiring, water or gas system of a home, store, shop, factory or farm house.

Originally all equipment had to be built-in or non-detachable. Among the items which there was doubt but which are now included in the eligible list are the following:

Domestic water heating systems, all types of oil burners with oil storage, gas ranges, furnaces and water heaters. Electric ranges, permanently attached to the wiring system. Linoleum and other floor coverings. It will also include built in ironing boards, flower boxes, cabinets, bookcases and cupboards. While not classed as equipment certain landscaping and grading of grounds around buildings are definitely eligible. These include fences, walls, terraces walks and pavilions, but do not include flowers and shrubs.
Arrangements are being made for a public meeting on the housing repair proposition in council chambers on next Tuesday evening.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 4.—Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association here today declined to comment on their action in refusing to permit Herbert Goldfrank, member of the national committee of the American League against war and fascism, and secretary of the friends of the soviet union, to address an advertised meeting in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium last night.

What created more comment than the director's action was the stand taken by the Rev. Dr. H. H. Crane, pastor of the fashionable Elm Park M. E. church, who invited Goldfrank to speak in his home after the Y. M. C. A. session was called off. More than 150 persons went to Dr. Crane's home and heard the address.

L. E. McClachlin, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. declared Goldfrank was told he could not speak in the Y. M. C. A. after the Directors of the American Revolution and the Women's Christian Temperance Union had protested his appearance.

Erie, Pa.

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 4.—Richard C. Vastoni and William Coxson, indicted by a federal grand jury for alleged violation of the National Motor Vehicle Theft Act, were in Pittsburgh today reportedly objecting to the $2,500 bail fixed for each in the case, as too high.
The bonds had not been posted at a late hour the clerk of U. S. District Court said.

Vastoni and Coxson were indicted with two other men, William C. Brooks and Albert Ongley, during the past term of federal court at Erie on three counts growing out of the alleged theft, transportation and sale of a Ford coup in violation of the National Motor Vehicle Law.
Brooks and Ongley waived arraignment and pleaded to the indictment on September 24. U. S. District Attorney Horatio Dumbauld's office asked court for bench warrants for the arrest of Vastoni and Coxson October 1, and they were issued the same day.

Defense Plans Of British Are Being Mapped

Chancellor Of Exchequer
Chamberlain Reveals Defense Plans Are

(International News Service)
BRISTOL, Eng., Oct. 4.—Virtually abandoning hope for world disarmament under present conditions, Great Britain has decided to build up her national defenses and has formulated detailed plans toward that end. This was the message delivered by Chancellor of the Exchequer Neville Chamberlain to the annual Conservative party conference here, a declaration greeted by rousing cheers. "Nobody can say," Chamberlain declared, "that Britain has not given the lead in disarmament. Have been patient. We have been patient and we have done our best to get other countries to follow. But until there can be removed the feeling of fear and anxiety among other great armed nations, there is not much hope of getting any serious amount of disarmament. Therefore the government has decided it would be incompatible with its duty to Britain to leave our defenses in the condition they are in today. The government, fully alive to the dangers of the situation, has already made a preliminary investigation of the state of the defenses of the whole empire and spent many months in examining the whole situation and formulating adequate plans."

MAHONINGTOWN LADY GAINED 5 POUNDS BY TAKING VENDOL

Found Relief From Shortness Of Breath, Gas And Sour Stomach.
Nerves Are Now Calm, Sleeps
Sound, Has Good Appetite.

"I cannot say too much in favor of Vendol because it has done me so much good," said Mrs. Sophie Book of route 8, Mahoningtown, in the New Castle Drug Company recently, who has come to purchase two more bottles of this excellent medicine.

"I used to suffer from biliousness, dizzy spells and spots before my eyes. My stomach was weak and I often filled up with sour gas.
Sometimes the gas would be so bad
I'd have shortness of breath and I'd have to lie down for an hour at a time.

"My nerves were unstrung, which kept me from enjoying good rest, and the children's noise would upset me. I was constipated all the time and just about lost my appetite.

"Vendol has changed all this and that is why I think it such a grand medicine. I can now eat most anything I want and never have the gas, acid, sourness or the bloating and shortness of breath.
I sleep sound and have such a good appetite that I have actually gained five pounds, and this has made me feel so much better.

MRS. SOPHIE BOOK

"Vendol quickly relieved my constipation and now I'm regular every day. I never have those dizzy spells and my skin has taken on a better color. Vendol is the best medicine I ever took."

What Vendol did for this well-known lady living right here among us, it will do for anyone suffering from the same troubles. Try it.
Come to the New Castle Drug Company, 31 E. Washington Street, or 24 N. Mill Street, and let them explain all about Vendol. It is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

Woman Killed As Machines Crash

Six Others Seriously Injured In Automobile Crash Near Philadelphia

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 4.—Mrs. Emma Bauer, 30, Philadelphia, was killed and six other persons were seriously injured today in an automobile collision on the Philadelphia approach to the Tacony-Palmyra bridge across the Delaware river. The injured were all taken to Frankford hospital, where Mrs. Bauer died soon after admittance.

WOLVES ATTACK MOTHER, STEAL OFF WITH BABY

(International News Service) NANKING, Oct. 4.—So many children are being killed by wolves in the suburbs of Nanking that authorities have offered a reward of 40 Chinese dollars to anyone capturing a wolf dead or alive. Hsiaoingwei, a hamlet near the mausoleum of Sun Yat Sen, "George Washington of China" appears to be a favorite hunting ground of the beasts. The wolves are so bold that recently one of them attacked a peasant woman who was carrying a baby in her arms. Despite her frantic efforts to beat off the animal it succeeded in snatching the child from her and eating it.

Defense Plans Of British Are Being Mapped

Chancellor Of Exchequer Chamberlain Reveals Defense Plans Are Under Way

(International News Service) BRISTOL, Eng., Oct. 4.—Virtually abandoning hope for world disarmament under present conditions, Great Britain has decided to build up her national defenses and has formulated detailed plans toward that end. This was the message delivered by Chancellor of the Exchequer Neville Chamberlain to the annual Conservative party conference here, a declaration greeted by rousing cheers. "Nobody can say," Chamberlain declared, "that Britain has not given the lead in disarmament. Have Been Patient. "We have been patient and we have done our best to get other countries to follow. "But until there can be removed the feeling of fear and anxiety among other great armed nations, there is not much hope of getting any serious amount of disarmament. "Therefore the government has decided it would be incompatible with its duty to Britain to leave our defenses in the condition they are in today. "The government, fully alive to the dangers of the situation, has already made a preliminary investigation of the state of the defenses of the whole empire and spent many months in examining the whole situation and formulating adequate plans."

Sure, we can talk "PRICE"

— and more non-skid mileage too!

WHAT'S back of all this recent hubbub in the tire business about "floor level prices," special discounts and such?

Simply this: We have the biggest tire success in years—the "G-3" All-Weather. We have 43% longer non-skid mileage built right in our tire.

And that doesn't leave the rest of the folk much to talk about except price.

So don't be talked out of the "G-3." This great tire gives you more miles of safety at no extra price! Come in and see for yourself.

GOODYEAR

G-3

You get the broader road contact of a flatter, wider All-Weather Tread. You get quicker stopping and the greater road grip of more non-skid blocks in the center. You get the easy steering and smooth travel of wider riding-ribs. You get the slow, even wear of closer-spaced non-skid blocks and ribs. You get more rubber in the tread—an average of two pounds more per tire. —all of which adds up to 43% MORE NON-SKID MILEAGE at no extra cost to you!

Truck Load Of Mail Here For Housing Plans

Stored In Chamber Of Commerce Rooms Ready For Distribution To Public

SCOPE OF PLANS GREATLY ENLARGED

Nearly a truck load of mail has been received from Washington by the local advisory committee, headed by J. W. Pattison, in connection with the Housing Repair program which has been started here. The mail which includes all kinds of pamphlets and posters to be used in the campaign, is stored in the Chamber of Commerce rooms in the Greer building.

It will be given out by Marcus Feuchtwanger, chairman, and Harold Philpott, repair advisor, and the canvassers who will shortly cover the city in an effort to stimulate repair work.

Rulings in regard to the eligibility of equipment to be financed through Modernization loans insured by the Federal Housing administration have been liberalized recently so as to include practically everything which is built in or permanently attached to the wiring, water or gas system of a home, store, shop, factory or farm house.

Originally all equipment had to be built-in or non-detachable. Among the items which there was doubt, but which are now included in the eligible list are the following: Domestic water heating systems, all types of oil burners with oil storage, gas ranges, furnaces, permanently attached to the wiring system. Linoleum and other floor coverings. It will also include built in ironing boards, flower boxes, cabinets, bookcases and cupboards. While not classed as equipment certain landscaping and grading of grounds around buildings are definitely eligible. These include fences, walls, terraces walks and pavilions, but do not include flowers and shrubs.

Arrangements are being made for a public meeting on the housing repair proposition in council chambers on next Tuesday evening.

Soviet Speaker Is Barred At Scranton

Directors Of Y. M. C. A. Refuse Herbert Goldfrank Right To Make Speech

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 4.—Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association here today declined to comment on their action in refusing to permit Herbert Goldfrank, member of the national committee of the American league against war and fascism, and secretary of the friends of the soviet union, to address an advertised meeting in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium last night.

What created more comment than the director's action was the stand taken by the Rev. Dr. H. H. Crane, pastor of the fashionable Elm Park M. E. church, who invited Goldfrank to speak in his home after the Y. M. C. A. session was called off.

More than 150 persons went to Dr. Crane's home and heard the address.

L. E. McLachlin, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. declared Goldfrank was told he could not speak in the Y. M. C. A. after the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Women's Christian Temperance Union had protested his appearance.

Alleged Auto Thieves Object To $2,500 Bail

Two Men Indicted At Federal Term Of Court In Erie, Pa.

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Oct. 4.—Richard C. Vastoni and William Coxson, indicted by a federal grand jury for alleged violation of the National Motor Vehicle Theft Act, were in Pittsburgh today reportedly objecting to the $2,500 bail fixed for each in the case, as too high.

The bonds had not been posted at a late hour the clerk of U. S. District Court said.

Vastoni and Coxson were indicted with two other men, William C. Brooks and Albert Ongley, during the past term of federal court at Erie on three counts growing out of the alleged theft, transportation and sale of a Ford coup in violation of the National Motor Vehicle Theft Act. The indictment against the last-

Hold Two Men In Kidnaping Plot

Confess To Plot To Kidnap Daughter Of Prominent Wheeling, W. Va., Man

(International News Service) WHEELING, W. Va., Oct. 4.—Charged with the attempted kidnaping of Miss Betty Bloch, 24, socially prominent daughter of Jesse Bloch, Harry Thornton and Thurman Bowen, both of Bridgeport, O., were held for action of a federal grand jury at a hearing today.

The two men were brought before a United States commissioner, and bond of $100,000 each was set. Taken into custody, the men, according to department of justice agents, have made signed confession of their plot to kidnap Miss Bloch.

FIRE LOSS SMALL DURING SEPTEMBER

September's fire loss was not very great, the figures of Fire Chief H. Clare Stockman reveal. Only 18 alarms were answered during the month, the total loss amounting to $3,926.13. There was an uninsured loss of $500, the rest being protected.

Pedestrians Are Victims Of Night

Most Accidents Involving Pedestrians Happen After Dark, Records Show

MAJORITY ALSO OCCUR IN WINTER

More pedestrians are involved in highway accidents during the hours of darkness in the winter than in the summer months, despite less traffic and the tendency of people to remain in doors during colder weather.

This statement was made today by Ralph W. Borsinger, president of the New Castle Motor Club. "One of the most complete studies on this subject," he said, "was made in New York, where legislation requires pedestrians on rural highways to walk on the left side of the road facing traffic. This study, made over a period of twelve months, disclosed that the number of fatal accidents at night during the winter months was more than twice the number during the summer months."

"While it is often necessary for pedestrians in rural sections to be on the highway at night, their own safety and that of others demands that they make it as easy as possible for motorists to see them. Use of a flashlight, lantern, or the display of a white cloth, such as a handkerchief, will make it easier for motorists to see persons on the highway."

highway. It should be kept in mind that dark clothing reflects little light. The Motor Club executive said that the problem of pedestrian safety is being recognized in a number of widely scattered states. "While New York is the only state to enact a law requiring pedestrians to walk facing traffic," he continued, "a number of states have posted signs warning them to use the highways in this manner. It may be anticipated that the success of the New York law will be watched with a great deal of interest. It helps to reduce the number of accidents, a similar law will no doubt be adopted in many other states."

Drunken Drivers Face Suspension Of Auto Permits

State Action Follows Quickly After County Courts Certify

HARRISBURG, Oct. 4.—A pronounced increase in the suspension and revocation of motor vehicle operators' licenses indicates Pennsylvania's answer to the increased tendency of motorists to mix drinking and driving.

The Department of Revenue today reported that withdrawals of licenses, resulting from all charges in which an element of intoxication figured, have mounted more than 60 per cent above last year. During the nine months since repeal of the eighteenth amendment 2,098 licenses have been revoked or suspended on such charges. This is 802 above the 1,296 total for the corresponding period a year ago—December to August, inclusive. Revocations, which reflect the county court action on which they are based, have increased from 1,145 to 1,598. Suspensions, which are meted out by the division of safety on the basis of investigations and hearings made independently, have mounted from 151 to 509.

Leon D. Metzger, secretary of revenue, termed these figures a "barometer showing the rising sentiment and more vigorous action against persons who persist in the dangerous practice of combining drinking and driving."

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. October 3, 61 arrests on charges as follows: violation of parking ordinance 18, violation of traffic ordinance 6, exceeding the speed limit 11, failure to obey Stop sign 13, running through red light 2, parking too close to street intersection 1, double parking 2, drunkenness 2, fighting 2, suspicion 1, keeper of disorderly house 1, visitors to disorderly house 2.

Award of a contract to persons other than the city for the Shenango Valley hospital building and contents makes it certain that there will be no recreation building, city toolhouse or branch libraries. The city did not put in any bid when the building was readvertised for sale.

According to statements made by City Engineer Hoskins who seems to be the busiest person in the municipal building, projects already arranged for by the city can give employment to approximately 1,000 persons. In order to provide this work the city will have to now and then buy some material. The RWD will pay the wages.

Inasmuch as the interchange of letters between Solicitor White and Controller Wimer evoked some discussion it is probable that council will not permit any purchases to be made without the transactions being according to the letter of the law.

City police would like to meet up with the woman who puts a "bless" on money. She was one of a party who victimized a Johns street woman yesterday out of a $20.00 bill. She told the woman to put the money in a paper and she would bless it. The woman did as directed and the strange woman departed with the bill after a sleight-of-hand maneuver.

Police receipts up to 3:30 p. m. Wednesday for October totaled $380.00, derived from auto fines and the numbers racket. City employees expressed appreciation of financial institutions which paid cash for negotiable paper without buying it at a discount Wednesday. Politics is beginning to warm up. Several now in city office hope to stand for reelection or other offices, it is reported.

On Court House Hill

Mrs. Myrtle Miller, clerk for the jury commission, was able to be present yesterday when the jury commissioner drew a jury for a term of common pleas court, beginning on November 12. Mrs. Miller has been in the Grove City hospital for some time, where she was undergoing treatment for a foot affection.

County commissioners have received no notice from the public works administration that the allotment of money for a new court house for Lawrence county has been cancelled, although it is presumed that it has been. Following the action of Judge Hildebrand in refusing to approve any site for a court house at this time, on account of the economic conditions, the county commissioners sent a notice of the action to the public works administration; but no reply has been received.

The first cases to be taken up when common pleas court convenes next Monday will be those of The People's National Bank of Ellwood City against Mrs. I. R. Burt, involving notes, and that of Elsie McClymonds of Springfield township, Mercer county, against Clair Hunt of Volant. This is a suit in trespass for damages, growing out of an automobile accident on the New Castle-East Brook road. The plaintiff is claiming $10,000.

Will of the late Dorothy Hill of this city has been probated at the register and recorder's office. Decedent directs that a property in Walmo be sold and the proceeds be divided equally among William Hill, John Hill, Leonard Hill, Regina Hill Travers, Frances Hill Kell, Reta Hill, Madeleine Hill and Samuel Joseph Hill. Her son, Samuel Joseph Hill, is to get the balance of the estate. Mrs. Frank Marlaicher is named as guardian for Samuel Joseph Hill. Peter J. Hill is named as executor.

Papers in proceedings to collect two verdicts secured by the Love Coal Company against M. L. Barry have been served by the sheriff. The verdicts amounted to $1,054 and were the outcome of a suit in which the question arose as to whether or not Mrs. E. M. Barry was an heir at law to the estate of her husband's father, or a partner in his business. The verdict was for the plaintiff.

Mrs. Bessie Campbell of Butler has been appointed by Governor Pinchot to fill out the unexpired ceptance Corporation claimed priority by reason of an assignment of a bailment lease from the Rogers Motor Company. The question arose as to whether The General Motors Corporation was entitled to retake the car, or whether Elizabeth Gillilan was entitled to have the proceeds applied on her judgment against her husband. The verdict was in favor of Elizabeth Gillilan. Motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict was made by plaintiff. The General Motors Corporation, and granted by Judge Chambers. Elizabeth A. Gillilan then appealed the case, in which the decision has just been handed down.

Pedestrians Are Victims Of Night

Most Accidents Involving Pedestrians Happen After Dark, Records Show

MAJORITY ALSO OCCUR IN WINTER

More pedestrians are involved in highway accidents during the hours of darkness in the winter than in the summer months, despite less traffic and the tendency of people to remain in doors during colder weather.

This statement was made today by Ralph W. Bousinger, president of the New Castle Motor Club.

"One of the most complete studies on this subject," he said "was made in New York, where legislation requires pedestrians on rural highways to walk on the left side of the road facing traffic. This study, made over a period of twelve months, disclosed that the number of fatal accidents at night during the winter months was more than twice the number during the summer months.

While it is often necessary for pedestrians in rural sections to be on the highway at night, their own safety and that of others demands that they make it as easy as possible for motorists to see them. Use of a flashlight, lantern, or the display of a white cloth, such as a handkerchief, will make it easier for motorists to see persons on the highway. It should be kept in mind that dark clothing reflects little light.

The Motor Club executive said that the problem of pedestrian safety is being recognized in a number of widely scattered states.

"While New York is the only state to enact a law requiring pedestrians to walk facing traffic," he continued, "a number of states have posted signs warning them to use the highways in this manner. It may be anticipated that the success of the New York law will be watched with a great deal of interest. If it helps to reduce the number of accidents, a similar law will no doubt be adopted in many other states."

Drunken Drivers Face Suspension Of Auto Permits

State Action Follows Quickly After County Courts Certify

HARRISBURG, Oct. 4.—A pronounced increase in the suspension and revocation of motor vehicle operators' licenses indicates Pennsylvania's answer to the increased tendency of motorists to mix drinking and driving.

The Department of Revenue today reported that withdrawals of licenses, resulting from all charges in which an element of intoxication figured, have mounted more than 80 per cent above last year. During the nine months since repeal of the eighteenth amendment, 2,098 licenses have been revoked or suspended on such charges. This is 802 above the 1,296 total for the corresponding period a year ago—December to August, inclusive.

Revocations, which reflect the county court action on which they are based, have increased from 1,145 to 1,598. Suspensions, which are made out by the division of safety on the basis of investigations and hearings made independently, have mounted from 151 to 509.

Leon D. Metzger, secretary of revenue, termed these figures a "barometer showing the rising sentiment and more vigorous action against persons who persist in the dangerous practice of combining drinking and driving."

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. October 3, 61 arrests on charges as follows: violation of parking ordinance 18, violation of traffic ordinance 8, exceeding the speed limit 11, failure to obey Stop sign 13, running through red light 2, parking too close to street intersection 1, double parking 2, drunkenness 2, fighting 2, suspicion 1, keeper of disorderly house 1, visitors to disorderly house 2.

Award of a contract to persons other than the city for the Shenango Valley hospital building and contents makes it certain that there will be no recreation building, city toolhouse or branch libraries. The city did not put in any bid when the building was readvertised for sale.

According to statements made by City Engineer Hookins who seems to be the busiest person in the municipal building, projects already arranged for by the city can give employment to approximately 1,000 persons. In order to provide this work the city will have to now and then buy some material. The RWD will pay the wages.

Inasmuch as the interchange of letters between Solicitor White and Controller Wimer evoked some discussion it is probable that council will not permit any purchases to be made without the transactions being according to the letter of the law.

City police would like to meet up with the woman who puts a "bless'on money. She was one of a party who victimized a Johns street woman yesterday out of a $20.00 bill. She told the woman to put the money in a paper and she would bless it. The woman did as directed and the strange woman departed with the bill after a sleight-of-hand maneuver.

Police receipts up to 3:30 p. m. Wednesday for October totaled $386.00, derived from auto fines and the Numbers racket. City employees expressed appreciation of financial institutions which paid cash for negotiable paper without buying it at a discount Wednesday. Politics is beginning to warm up. Several now in city office hope to stand for reelection or other offices. It is reported.

Drunken Drivers Face Suspension Of Auto Permits

State Action Follows Quickly After County Courts Certify

HARRISBURG, Oct. 4.—A pronounced increase in the suspension and revocation of motor vehicle operators' licenses indicates Pennsylvania's answer to the increased tendency of motorists to mix drinking and driving.

The Department of Revenue today reported that withdrawals of licenses, resulting from all charges in which an element of intoxication figured, have mounted more than 80 per cent above last year. During the nine months since repeal of the eighteenth amendment 2,098 licenses have been revoked or suspended on such charges. This is 802 above the 1,296 total for the corresponding period a year ago—December to August, inclusive. Revocations, which reflect the county court action on which they are based, have increased from 1,145 to 1,598. Suspensions, which are meted out by the division of safety on the basis of investigations and hearings made independently, have mounted from 151 to 509.

Leon D. Metzger, secretary of revenue, termed these figures a "barometer showing the rising sentiment and more vigorous action against persons who persist in the dangerous practice of combining drinking and driving."

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. October 3. 61 arrests on charges as follows: violation of parking ordinance 18, violation of traffic ordinance 6, exceeding the speed limit 11, failure to obey Stop sign 13, running through red light 2, parking too close to street intersection 1, double parking 2, drunkenness 2, fighting 2, suspicion 1, keeper of disorderly house 1, visitors to disorderly house 2.

Award of a contract to persons other than the city for the Shenango Valley hospital building and contents makes it certain that there will be no recreation building, city toolhouse or branch libraries. The city did not put in any bid when the building was readvertised for sale.

According to statements made by City Engineer Hoskins who seems to be the busiest person in the municipal building, projects already arranged for by the city can give employment to approximately 1,000 persons. In order to provide this work the city will have to now and then buy some material. The RWD will pay the wages.

Inasmuch as the interchange of letters between Solicitor White and Controller Wimer evoked some discussion it is probable that council will not permit any purchases to be made without the transactions being according to the letter of the law.

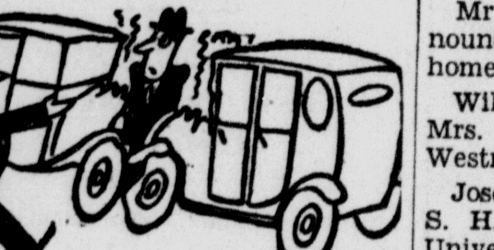

City police would like to meet up with the woman who puts a "bless" on money. She was one of a party who victimized a Johns street woman yesterday out of a $20.00 bill. She told the woman to put the money in a paper and she would bless it. The woman did as directed and the strange woman departed with the bill after a slight-of-hand maneuver.

Police receipts up to 3:30 p. m. Wednesday for October totaled $336.00, derived from auto fines and the Numbers racket. . . . City employees expressed appreciation of financial institutions which paid cash for negotiable paper without buying it at a discount Wednesday. . . . Politics is beginning to warm up. Several now in city office hope to stand for reelection or other offices, it is reported.

The rivers of South Greece are small, and none of them are important for navigation or water power.

— HERE ARE THE QUESTIONS —

- 1 Is it true that the pupil of the eye becomes smaller with age and that therefore we need more light as we grow older?
- 2 If a child has to hold a book he is reading closer to his eyes than 13 or 14 inches, is it an indication that he needs eye glasses or better lighting, or both?
- 3 Is it true that a man who uses his eyes under poor lighting conditions for prolonged periods frequently exhibits greater nervous muscular tension than a day laborer digging a ditch?
- 4 Is much more light generally required for reading a newspaper than for reading a well printed book?
- 5 Is good lighting generally more of an aid to defective eyes or to normal eyes?
- 6 Which generally requires the more light, reading or sewing?
- 7 Is it true that your eyes readily adjust themselves to a variety of conditions, that they are slow to tell you of your need for glasses and better lighting, and that the only assurance you have is to visit your eyesight specialist occasionally?
- 8 Does reading when the page is brightly illuminated and the rest of the room comparatively dark cause unnecessary eye strain and fatigue?
- 9 Do the color and finish of wall and ceiling surface have an important influence on proper seeing conditions?
- 10 In not more than fifty words, tell why the reading and study lamp described in the accompanying broadside, furnishes proper light for reading.

On Court House Hill

Mrs. Myrtle Miller, clerk for the jury commissioners, was able to be present yesterday when the jury commissioners drew a jury for a term of common pleas court, beginning on November 12. Mrs. Miller has been in the Grove City hospital for some time, where she was undergoing treatment for a foot affection.

County commissioners have received no notice from the public works administration that the allotment of money for a new court house for Lawrence county has been cancelled, although it is presumed that it has been. Following the action of Judge Hildebrand in refusing to approve any site for a court house at this time, on account of the economic conditions, the county commissioners sent a notice of the action to the public works administration, but no reply has been received.

The first cases to be taken up when common pleas court convenes next Monday will be those of The People's National Bank of Ellwood City against Mrs. I. R. Burt, involving notes, and that of Elsie McClymonds of Springfield township, Mercer county, against Clair Hunt of Volant. This is a suit in trespass for damages, growing out of an automobile accident on the New Castle-East Brook road. The plaintiff is claiming $10,000.

Will of the late Dorothy Hill of this city has been probated at the register and recorder's office. Decedent directs that a property in Walpole be sold and the proceeds be divided equally among William Hill, John Hill, Leonard Hill, Regina Hill Travers, Frances Hill Kelly, Reta Hill, Madeleine Hill and Samuel Joseph Hill. Her son, Samuel Joseph Hill, is to get the balance of the estate. Mrs. Frank Marbacher is named as guardian for Samuel Joseph Hill. Peter J. Hill is named as executor.

Papers in proceedings to collect two verdicts secured by the Love Coal Company against M. L. Barry have been served by the sheriff. The verdicts amounted to $1,054 and were the outcome of a suit in which the question arose as to whether or not Mrs. E. M. Barry was an accommodation endorser on her husband's notes or a partner in his business. The verdict was for the plaintiff.

Mrs. Bessie Campbell of Butler has been appointed by Governor Pinchot to fill out the unexpired term of her late husband, Frank M. Campbell, as prothonotary of Butler county. Mr. Campbell died recently following a short illness.

Under the will of the late Thomas Matthews of Union township, which has been probated at the register and recorder's office, decedent's wife, Anna Matthews, is left all of his property. Mrs. Matthews is also named as executrix in the will.

In an opinion handed down by superior court at Philadelphia, Judge James A. Chambers is affirmed in the case of The General Motors Acceptance Corporation against Ralph Hartman and others. The case was an action in replevin in which Elizabeth G. Gilfillan claimed a lien on a car belonging to Hartman. The General Motors Acceptance Corporation claimed priority by reason of an assignment of a bailment lease from the Rogers Motor Company. The question arose as to whether The General Motors Corporation was entitled to retake the car, or whether Elizabeth Gilfillan was entitled to have the proceeds applied on her judgment against Hartman. The verdict was in favor of Elizabeth Gilfillan. Motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict was made by plaintiff, The General Motors Corporation, and granted by Judge Chambers. Elizabeth A. Gilfillan then appealed the case, in which the decision has just been handed down.

NINE FAIRS HARRISBURG—Nine county and local fairs are scheduled for October in Pennsylvania, according to reports reaching the State Department of Agriculture. These will bring to a close what might be termed the eight-second county fair season in the commonwealth, according to the department.

Guard Against Communists At Labor Convention

Threat From Alleged Communists To Storm A. F. Of L. Convention

By RALPH B. JORDAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—Organized labor, rejoicing and jubilant today announced the "first major victory" in its fight for a 30-hour week and a 100 per cent closed shop.

The announcement which cheered the labor chiefs and delegates attending the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor came from Frank Peasey, Philadelphia, international president of the elevator constructors' union.

He said that his organization, representing 19,000 employees in the United States and Canada, had negotiated a five-year agreement with employers whereby a six-hour day and a five-day week were made effective, with closed shop conditions prevailing completely.

Also, he said, his union is pledged to strike in support of any five building trades crafts in the United States or Canada who go out for a 30-hour week.

Some Apprehension
As the 1,000 A. F. of L. delegates and friends gathered in the civic auditorium for their fourth session their satisfaction at Peasey's "victory" was tinged with apprehension over a threat from alleged communistic elements, both within and without the federation, to "storm" the convention in retaliation for the arrest of three men yesterday.

Two of the prisoners were taken into custody when a group, spreading communistic theories, came in conflict with the delegates at the entrance to the auditorium—a conflict which resulted in a hurry call for police reserves, who put the radicals to flight after collaring a pair of them. The third man was arrested when another group was caught distributing communistic literature.

Among the new resolutions before the A. F. of L. are several which William Green, A. F. of L. president, labeled as "communistic" and which he said "will be cared for in short order, or the delegates know what to do with them."

He indicated that the demands would be voted down on the convention floor without consideration. Among these resolutions is one demanding recognition of the "rights" of communists to affiliate with any party they desire, another for the general strike in labor disputes, and a third one advocating widespread sympathy strikes.

Plan Holy Name Society Rally

WILL OUTLINE DETAILS FRIDAY

Arrangements are now going forward for a huge rally of all members of the Holy Name Society from the parishes in the New Castle district, which includes all Catholic churches in Lawrence county. This will take place on Sunday afternoon, October 14, in the Penn Theater.

Preliminary plans for the rally will be outlined at a meeting in St. Joseph's church Friday evening, October 5, at 8 o'clock, which will be presided over by Father James M. Delaney, of Pittsburgh.

Representatives of the society from the churches in New Castle, Ellwood City, Wampum, Hillsville and Bessemer will be present.

Young Aviator Suicide Victim

Charles Stellmach, Daring And Handsome Hollywood Flier, Ends His Life

(International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 4.—Hollywood today had experienced its "perfect crime."

Charles Stellmach, daring and handsome young aviator, who loved beautiful women, was the victim. Stellmach himself was the plotter and killer, was the conclusion of authorities as they traced the strange pattern of circumstances surrounding the death of Stellmach, whose body, with a gaping bullet wound, washed up on the shore at Malibu beach.

Stellmach's motive, officers said, was to insure payment of a life insurance policy which contained an anti-suicide clause. In event of accidental death the value of the policy doubled. Paul Stellmach of New York, a brother, was the beneficiary. Hence, the authorities reasoned, Stellmach shot himself in the abdomen in his apartment, stopped the flow of blood with a towel, drove to the beach and plunged into the sea.

LOITERERS IN YARD NABBED, ARE JAILED

Three negroes whom B. & O. railroad police found loitering in the road's yard at New Castle Junction late last night were given county jail sentences after an aldermanic hearing today.

John Anderson, DeForest, C. received 10 days because officers found prying tools on him. Wesley Mason and Charles Jones, both of Youngstown, drew five days each.

Cleveland Jury Convicts Banker

Former Guardian Trust Head Found Guilty After Trial

CLEVELAND, Oct. 4.—J. Arthur House, former president of the Guardian Trust Company which failed in March, 1933, was found guilty of misapplication of funds and making false entries by a Federal court jury which spent only three hours and 15 minutes in deliberating Wednesday.

Harry C. Robinson and William R. Green, former vice presidents of the bank who were indicted and tried jointly with House, were freed yesterday by a directed verdict of acquittal ordered by Judge Samuel H. West at the completion of testimony.

Hogue Will Attend State Convention

County Welfare Officer Mansford H. Hogue expects to go to Johnstown on Monday to attend a three-day state convention of the Association of Directors of Poor and Charities and Corrections. With him will probably go the county commissioners and possibly county home supervisors.

Among the speakers to be heard will be Attorney General William A. Schneider, Republican nominee for governor.

New Wilmington

Jack Thorn, of Mercer, was a business caller in town on Monday night.

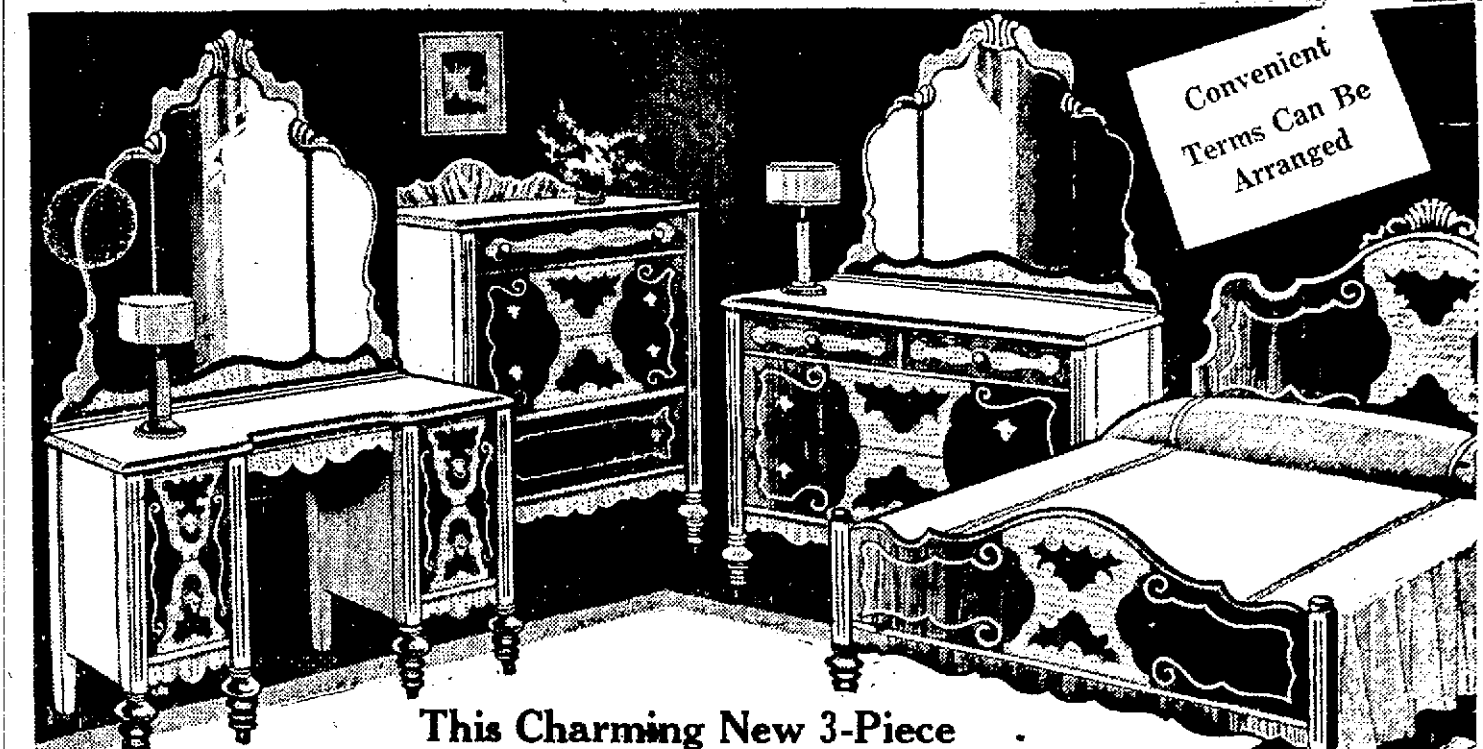

Robert Kildoe, of New Castle, visited with local friends on Tuesday night.

Lawrence Skillen visited with friends and relatives in Pittsburgh over the week-end.

Mrs. Lloyd Davis and Miss Esther Davis, of East Neshamock avenue, called in New Castle Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Evans, son Owen, and daughter Ruth, will leave this evening for Chicago, Ill., where they will visit relatives and enjoy a day at the World's Fair.

Figures Show September Hot

Excess Of Three Degrees Per Day Shown—Precipitation Almost Normal

Temperatures during the month of September were almost like midsummer, the figures of B. F. Johnson, U. S. Weather Observer, show.

There was an excess amounting to three degrees per day. The precipitation was just a little over the normal mark.

The mean maximum was 78.9 degrees, mean minimum, 55.6 degrees, and the mean, 67.3 degrees. The normal for September is 64.2 degrees, the excess being three degrees daily. The highest temperature was recorded on September 25, when the mercury hit 92 and the lowest was 40 degrees on the 28th. The greatest daily range was 37 degrees on the 27th.

The total precipitation for the month was 3.20 inches. The greatest in 24 hours was 1.33 inches on September 29. Days with .01 inches or more of precipitation were 16. There were fifteen clear days, ten partly cloudy and five cloudy. The normal precipitation for September is 3.14 inches, an excess of .06 inches being noted.

In 1933, there was an excess of 1.9 degrees in temperature and a deficiency of .42 inches in the precipitation.

Fourteen small grenades were set off here during the night. There were no casualties.

Figures Show September Hot

Excess Of Three Degrees Per Day Shown—Precipitation Almost Normal

Temperatures during the month of September were almost like mid-summer, the figures of B. F. Johnson, U. S. Weather Observer, show. There was an excess amounting to three degrees per day. The precipitation was just a little over the normal mark.

The mean maximum was 78.9 degrees, mean minimum, 55.6 degrees, and the mean, 67.2 degrees. The normal for September is 64.2 degrees, the excess being three degrees daily. The highest temperature was recorded on September 25, when the mercury hit 92 and the lowest was 40 degrees on the 28th. The greatest daily range was 37 degrees on the 27th.

The total precipitation for the month was 3.20 inches. The greatest in 24 hours was 1.32 inches on September 29. Days with .01 inches or more of precipitation were 16. There were fifteen clear days, ten partly cloudy and five cloudy. The normal precipitation for September is 3.14 inches, an excess of .06 inches being noted.

In 1933, there was an excess of 1.9 degrees in temperature and a deficiency of .42 inches in the precipitation.

Guard Against Communists At Labor Convention

Threat From Alleged Communists To Storm A. F. Of L. Convention

International News Service Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—Organized labor, rejoicing and jubilant, today announced the "first major victory" in its fight for a 30-hour week and a 100 per cent closed shop.

The announcement which cheered the labor chiefs and delegates attending the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor came from Frank Peeney, Philadelphia, international president of the elevator constructors' union.

He said that his organization, representing 19,000 employees in the United States and Canada, had negotiated a five-year agreement with employers whereby a six-hour day and a five-day week were made effective, with closed shop conditions prevailing completely.

Also, he said, his union is pledged to strike in support of any five building trades crafts in the United States or Canada who go out for a 30-hour week.

Some Apprehension
As the 1,000 A. F. of L. delegates and friends gathered in the civic auditorium for their fourth session their satisfaction at Peeney's "victory" was tinged with apprehension over a threat from alleged communistic elements, both within and without the federation, to "storm" the convention in retaliation for the arrest of three men yesterday.

Two of the prisoners were taken into custody when a group, spreading communistic theories, came in conflict with the delegates at the entrance to the auditorium—a conflict which resulted in a hurry call for police reserves, who put the radicals to flight after collaring a pair of them. The third man was arrested when another group was caught distributing communistic literature.

Among the new resolutions before the A. F. of L. are several which William Green, A. F. of L. president, labeled as "communistic" and which he said "will be cared for in short order, or the delegates know what to do with them."

He indicated that the demands would be voted down on the convention floor without consideration. Among these resolutions is one demanding recognition of the "right" of communists to affiliate with "any party they desire"; another for the general strike in labor disputes, and a third one advocating widespread sympathy strikes.

Plan Holy Name Society Rally

WILL OUTLINE DETAILS FRIDAY

Arrangements are now going forward for a huge rally of all members of the Holy Name Society from the parishes in the New Castle district, which includes all Catholic churches in Lawrence county. This will take place on Sunday afternoon, October 14, in the Penn Theater.

Preliminary plans for the rally will be outlined at a meeting in St. Joseph's church Friday evening, October 5, at 8 o'clock, which will be presided over by Father James M. Delaney, of Pittsburgh.

Representatives of the society from the churches in New Castle, Ellwood City, Wampum, Hillsville and Bessemer will be present.

Young Aviator Suicide Victim

Charles Stellmach, Daring And Handsome Hollywood Flier, Ends His Life

(International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 4.—Hollywood today had experienced its "perfect crime."

Charles Stellmach, daring and handsome young aviator, who loved beautiful women, was the victim.

Stellmach himself was the plotter and killer, was the conclusion of authorities as they traced the strange pattern of circumstances surrounding the death of Stellmach, whose body, with a gaping bullet wound, washed up on the shore at Malibu beach.

Stellmach's motive, officers said, was to insure payment of a life insurance policy which contained an anti-suicide clause. In event of accidental death the value of the policy doubled. Paul Stellmach of New York, a brother, was the beneficiary.

Hence, the authorities reasoned, Stellmach shot himself in the abdomen in his apartment, stopped the flow of blood with a towel, drove to the beach and plunged into the sea.

LOITERERS IN YARD NABBED, ARE JAILED

Three negroes whom B. & O. railroad police found loitering in the road's yard at New Castle Junction late last night were given county jail sentences after an aldermanic hearing today.

John Anderson, DeForest, O., received 19 days because officers found prying tools on him. Wesley Mason and Charles Jones, both of Youngstown, drew five days each.

Cleveland Jury Convicts Banker

Former Guardian Trust Head Found Guilty After Trial

CLEVELAND, Oct. 4.—J. Arthur House, former president of the Guardian Trust Company which failed in March, 1933, was found guilty of misapplication of funds and making false entries by a Federal court jury which spent only three hours and 15 minutes in deliberating Wednesday.

Harry C. Robinson and William R. Green, former vice presidents of the bank who were indicted and tried jointly with House, were freed yesterday by a directed verdict of acquittal ordered by Judge Samuel H. West at the completion of testimony.

Hogue Will Attend State Convention

County Welfare Officer Mansford B. Hogue expects to go to Johnstown on Monday to attend a three-day state convention of the Association of Directors of Poor and Charities and Corrections. With him will probably go the county commissioners and possibly county home supervisors.

Among the speakers to be heard will be Attorney General William A. Schnader, Republican nominee for governor.

New Wilmington

Jack Thorn, of Mercer, was a business caller in town on Monday night.

Robert Kildoo, of New Castle, visited with local friends on Tuesday night.

Lawrence Skillen visited with friends and relatives in Pittsburgh over the week-end.

Mrs. Lloyd Davis and Miss Esther Davis, of East Neshannock avenue, called in New Castle Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Evans, son Owen, and daughter Ruth, will leave this evening for Chicago, Ill., where they will visit relatives and enjoy a day at the World's Fair.

Pinchot's Talk Eagerly Awaited

Eyes Of Political World Of Pennsylvania Turn Toward Wilkes-Barre Tonight

POSITION WILL BE ANNOUNCED

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Oct. 4.—Political eyes in Pennsylvania turned toward Wilkes-Barre today.

There, tonight, Gov. Gifford Pinchot will deliver his opening blast in the fall campaign, announcing for the first time his position in the November election.

His friends said it will be one of the "hottest" speeches ever delivered by the governor in his long, turbulent political career.

Joseph F. Guffey and George H. Earle, Democratic candidates for senate and governor, were expected to be targets for the governor's fire, the hottest of which will likely be concentrated on Guffey.

Will Endorse Schnader.

Attorney General William A. Schnader, Republican candidate for governor, was expected to be given the executive speeches endorsement.

Indicative of the importance which the governor attaches to his address tonight is the attention it has received at the hands of his friends and advisers. Some of the party's most able strategists and several of its ablest lawyers have their approval of the final draft only after careful study.

The governor and a party of friends will drive to Wilkes-Barre this afternoon. The speech will be delivered at the armory and will also be broadcast.

Dr. Cooper Will Supervise Cadet School Teaching

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 4.—Dr. Homer E. Cooper, recently appointed to the Westminster College staff, will have charge of student cadet teaching, Dr. R. P. Galbreath, president announces. Dr. Cooper is also teaching the graduate course for teachers which meets Saturday mornings.

A graduate of West Virginia University in 1907, Dr. Cooper took his A. M. and Ph. D. degrees at Columbia University. He has been superintendent of schools in Mt. Pleasant, W. Va., and in Bluefield, W. Va.

From 1917 to 1921 Dr. Cooper had administrative charge of extension classes at the University of Pittsburgh; and from 1924 to 1931 he was dean of the Eastern Kentucky Teacher's College.

For the last three years he has been a research associate in the institute of school experimentation, Columbia University; and was also general supervisor in the State Education Department, New York.

Because of his experience in executive branches of school work, Dr. Cooper is fully fitted to handle the details of practice teaching for Westminster students, and his appointment to the staff is considered a distinct addition to facilities for handling teacher training.

Pinchot's Talk Eagerly Awaited

Eyes Of Political World Of Pennsylvania Turn To Toward Wilkes-Barre Tonight

POSITION WILL BE ANNOUNCED

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Oct. 4.—Political eyes in Pennsylvania turned toward Wilkes-Barre today.

There, tonight, Gov. Gifford Pinchot will deliver his opening blast in the fall campaign, announcing for the first time his position in the November election.

His friends said it will be one of the "hottest" speeches ever delivered by the governor in his long, turbulent political career.

Joseph F. Guffey and George H. Earle, Democratic candidates for senate and governor, were expected to be targets for the governor's fire, the hottest of which will likely be concentrated on Guffey.

Will Endorse Schnader.

Attorney General William A. Schnader, Republican candidate for governor, was expected to be given the executive's hearty endorsement.

Indicative of the importance which the governor attaches to his address tonight is the attention it has received at the hands of his friends and advisers. Some of the party's most able strategists and several of its most able lawyers gave their approval of the final draft only after careful study.

The governor and a party of friends will drive to Wilkes-Barre this afternoon. The speech will be delivered at the armory and will also be broadcast.

MAY READ EDWARDS' FLAMING LOVE LETTERS

Huge Batch Of Letters Shown

Reveal Edwards Wrote Passionate Letters To Margaret Crain

STATE IS ABOUT READY TO CLOSE

International News Service Staff Correspondent
WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Oct. 4.—Flaming love epistles—172 of them—from Bobby Edwards, Don Juan of a mining town, to Margaret Crain, 22-year-old music teacher of East Aurora, N. Y., will provide a bitter legal battle today in the "American tragedy" murder trial.

The purple-toned missives have been offered in evidence by the prosecution in an attempt to show that while Edwards, the 21-year-old handsome defendant, was promising to marry Freda McKechnie, he was two-timing by corresponding passionately with Margaret.

Cover Three Months Time.

Most of the love-letters are known to be unprintable but several of them will be read to the jury if the court admits them to evidence.

The sheet of erotica was identified by handwriting experts as having been written by Edwards. They covered three months prior to the finding of the body of 27-year-old Freda in Harvey's lake with a deep gash on the back of her head.

The dates showed that Edwards wrote sometimes as often as three times a day.

The signed confessions of Edwards were in the court record today, the most damaging evidence in the state's case.

Edwards, re-vamping earlier stories of the death of his childhood sweetheart, told in his confessions how Freda had informed him she was to become a mother.

She telephoned him from the doctor's office a week before he bludgeoned her to death during a midnight swimming party. They took a walk in Kirby park under the moonlight. He suggested an operation or marriage.

"Rather Get Married."

Freda said: "I would rather get married."

Edwards promised to marry her. They would go to Virginia and he would get a job and they would start things over again. He wrote a letter to Margaret Crain and said their engagement was off. But he never mailed this letter.

The thought that he might be rid of Freda slipped insistently into his mind, Edwards said in his statement.

A voice kept whispering into his ear: "Now is the time to do away with Freda."

Freda died on Monday, July 30. The Wednesday before, he took the blackjack belonging to his father, Edwards said he took it for protection during a week-end automobile trip to "York state" to see Margaret.

He got Freda to give him her bathing suit even before this. He kept her bathing suit—a gay, orange one—in his closet at home until the night of the murder.

On a rainy Monday night he took Freda for a ride.

Sitting in the car on that night while Freda stopped off for 20 minutes to visit her niece at Harvey's Lake, the voice of evil began shouting again, Edwards declared in his statement.

"I had my girl in New York state (Margaret Crain) and I wanted to do away with Freda to clear up the situation," Edwards said in his confession.

"So now was the time to do away with Freda."

"They waded toward the left part of the lake where it was darker. Then—"As she swam by me I hit her on the head with my jack."

Freda lurched upward from the water, then she sank. Edwards took her by the hips and threw her body into deeper water.

"The state plans to close its case today and then the defense will have its say."

Edwards, of the poker face, does not seem worried about the case but he appeared depressed about a report from upstate New York that Margaret Crain was "through with him."

What You Read, You Are.
She Is Lonely.
Yes, Money Does Count.
Labors' President.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

THE WHOLE country follows the "Hauptmann case" dealing with the Lindbergh kidnapping.

Newspapers have increased circulation since Hauptmann's arrest. This proves that citizens, able to get along without ordinary news of national and international affairs cannot do without the Lindbergh kidnapping news.

THE EAST reads about the "Bobby" Edwards case, that of a young man in Pennsylvania accused of killing a girl, Freda McKechnie, knocking her on the head and drowning her when he tried to flee.

Others are much interested in the case of a woman with a well-known name and a quarrel about possession of a child, heiress to several millions. Foreign princes, plain American drunks, many unpleasant details are dragged into the story. A considerable crowd finds that interesting. That judge's decision will be interesting.

Future historians will know what we were, by reading the "news stories" that interested us.

MRS. EVA COO, whom reporters choose to call "Little Eva" Coo, now in the women's wing of the death house of Sing Sing prison, convicted of murdering a man whose life she had insured, and waiting to be electrocuted, makes a statement.

It has nothing to do with the hereafter, death's uncertainty or its meaning, the horror of the electric chair. The statement says:

"I like company. I am so lonely some I don't know what to do."

Only a few weeks to live, the electric chair and all that is on the other side of that chair just ahead of her, and Mrs. Coo's strongest impression is that she likes company.

We are a gregarious race, and absence of imagination is a great help, if you must be electrocuted.

DOES MONEY make a difference in the United States? It made some difference when, in Selkirk Square, opposite New York's Supreme Court building, six rather old men were arrested charged with "vagrancy". One of them, 64 years old, who gave a name not his own, was found with bank books showing that he owned six thousand dollars, safe in the bank.

The magistrate "suspended sentence" on the $6,000 vagrant. He was not even fined. Five others that had no money were fined $10 each and sent to jail for 10 days, when they did not pay.

There is a text for some budding Communist orator.

IN SAN FRANCISCO, organized labor is holding its annual convention, but does not attract much public attention. Nobody there murdered anybody or inherited any millions.

But it is an interesting convention, with a huge portrait of Franklin D. Roosevelt, draped with American flags, on either side of him paintings of Samuel Gompers, late president, and William Green, now president of the American Federation of Labor.

No President has ever been honored by organized labor as President Roosevelt is honored. Labor looks upon him as "organized labor's president."

This does not mean that labor is entirely satisfied with "its president". Before the convention is over it will tell him about more things that he should do.

Mrs. Lizzie Carroll, of New Castle, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson, returned home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cooper have left for Lexington, Ky. Word was received Saturday that they arrived safely.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Kamerer visited at the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Kasbee at Sandy Lake, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wright and daughter Ada, of Princeton station, spent Sunday afternoon with Charles Eakin and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter McCandless and son Paul of Slippery Rock were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Drake.

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Miller and children, Clifford and Ruth of New Castle spent Wednesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Mullet and daughter Janet, of Fryburg, spent the week with Mrs. Mullet's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown.

Mrs. Oscar Harlan accompanied by her sister, Miss Sydney Seh, of New Castle, spent the past ten days with friends and relatives in North Beaver township and Petersburg, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Harlan, of Ellwood City, and Miss Gladys Harlan, student nurse at the New Castle Hospital were Sunday dinner guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Harlan.

Mrs. G. B. McCracken, formerly of near Jacksonville, recently purchased the Ewing property and moved in Monday. Her sister, Mrs. Fannie Martin, of Butler, and her brother, C. A. McCune, of New Castle are visiting at her home.

PENNSYLVANIA NEEDS MORE CONCRETE ROADS

Gen. Johnson said farewell to all his NRA workers and "tears ran down his cheeks."

This did not mean weakness, merely nervous shock. The most powerful men weep at unexpected times.

When Mitchell and Sullivan finished their long "bare-knuckle" fight on Barin Rothschild's training ground near Chantilly in France, and were arrested by gendarmes, and jailed at Senlis, both burst into tears.

They would have preferred to fight the gendarmes, but they had to do something.

IN ENGLAND, they take even involuntary killings seriously. One of the most popular men in the Empire, Kay Don, greatest British automobile and fast boat racer, while speeding with his mechanic, left the highway against his will and the accident killed his mechanic.

British justice decided that he had risked the mechanic's life too carelessly, although he risked his own at the same time. The judge sent Kaye Don to jail for manslaughter and he must stay there in spite of urgent appeals.

We are not so funny in this country. When, as happens frequently, a prize fighter hits and happens to kill another in the ring, with a paying crowd looking on, justice says:

"O. K. How else could these gentlemen, their managers, promoters and other politicians make money?"

IF YOU buy whisky, it is wise to buy a brand that you know. In New York, this year, government agents seized 100,000 cases of queer whisky, including 15,000 cases of Scotch whisky made in America, with one-eighth Scotch. To make it taste "smoky," the rest being sherry, glucose and home-made alcohol. Copyright, 1934, King Features Synd., Inc.

Guffey Patronage Is Under Attack

Senator Reed Blames Appointments To Home Owners Loan Jobs

On Joseph Guffey

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Joseph M. Guffey's patronage appointments to the Federal Home Owners Loan Corporation in Pennsylvania were blamed today by Senator David A. Reed for the asserted failure of the system to function effectively in the Keystone state.

Reed said he was asking the chairman of the Home Loan Bank Board for an investigation of the system in Pennsylvania.

In a statement released by his office here, Reed charged his Democratic opponent in the fall election with using the home loan system "for partisan and personal advantage," declaring:

"It has been clearly apparent for some time that Mr. Guffey and his associates in the Democratic organization in Pennsylvania are primarily responsible for the failure of the system to function as it should."

"Their appointees in key positions were replaced several months ago over their protest. Through their hold on the minor positions, however, they have continued their policy of political interference in a governmental function which should be completely divorced from politics."

In the Roman Catholic church consecration is a term which implies that the body and blood of Christ sacramentally accompany each other, so that under either form, whether wine or bread, both are sacramentally received.

School Conference Draws Educators

Prominent School Men To Discuss Problems At Meeting In Harrisburg

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Oct. 4.—Speakers for the first state-wide citizens' conference on public school problems were announced today. The conference will be held here October 10 and 11.

Gov. Gifford Pinchot will open the conference Wednesday, speaking on "Education and the State." Dr. Charles H. Judd, director of the school of education at the University of Chicago, will discuss expected changes to meet changing economic conditions at the same session.

School organization and administration is the theme for Thursday morning's session, at which speakers will include State Treasurer Charles A. Waters; Dr. Arnold Bennett Hall, director of Brookings Institution, Washington, D. C.; and Dr. James C. Miller, department of educational administration, University of Pennsylvania.

Afternoon session speakers will be N. R. Criss, solicitor for the Pittsburgh board of education; Francis R. Cope, Jr. member of the state council of education; and Dr. Marion K. McKay, professor of economics at the University of Pittsburgh. Financing public schools will be the session theme.

"Citizens are entitled to know the facts concerning school operation and we are doing all in our power to provide them with these facts," Dr. Rule said in outlining the purpose of the conference.

TO MEET TONIGHT
Anthony Quintillano, president of the Casa Savola society, announced today that a special meeting will be held tonight at 7:00 o'clock, in the Casa Savola clubrooms, South Mill street.

The thought that he might be rid of Freda slipped insidiously into his mind, Edwards said in his statement.

A voice kept whispering into his ear: "Now is the time to do away with Freda."

Freda died on Monday, July 30. The Wednesday before, he took the blackjack belonging to his father, Edwards said he took it for protection during a week-end automobile trip "to York state" to see Margaret.

He got Freda to give him her bathing suit even before this. He kept her bathing suit—a gay, orange one—in his closet at home until the night of the murder.

On a rainy Monday night he took Freda for a ride.

Sitting in the car on that night while Freda stopped off for 20 minutes to visit her niece at Harvey's Lake, the voice of evil began shouting again, Edwards declared in his statement.

"I had my girl in New York state (Margaret Crain) and I wanted to do away with Freda to clear up the situation," Edwards said in his confession.

"So now was the time to do away with Freda."

They waded toward the left part of the lake where it was darker.

Then—"As she swam my me I hit her on the head with my jack."

Freda lurched upward from the water, then she sank. Edwards took her by the hips and threw her body into deeper water.

The state plans to close its case today and then the defense will have its say.

Edwards, of the poker face, does not seem worried about the case but he appeared depressed about a report from upstate New York that Margaret Crain was "through with him."

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

THE WHOLE country follows the "Hauptmann case" dealing with the Lindbergh kidnapping.

Newspapers have increased circulation since Hauptmann's arrest. This proves that citizens, able to get along without ordinary news of national and international affairs cannot do without the Lindbergh kidnapping news.

THE EAST reads about the "Bobby" Edwards case, that of a young man in Pennsylvania accused of killing a girl, Freda McKechnie, knocking her on the head and drowning her when he tired of her.

Others are much interested in the case of a woman with a well-known name and a quarrel about possession of a child, heiress to several millions. Foreign princes, plain American drunks, many unpleasant details are dragged into the story. A considerable crowd finds that interesting. That judge's decision will be interesting.

Future historians will know what we were, by reading the "news stories" that interested us.

MRS. EVA COO, whom reporters choose to call "Little Eva" Coo, now in the women's wing of the death house of Sing Sing prison, convicted of murdering a man whose life she had insured, and waiting to be electrocuted, makes a statement.

It has nothing to do with the hereafter, death's uncertainty or its meaning, the horror of the electric chair. The statement says:

"I like company. I am so lonesome I don't know what to do."

Only a few weeks to live, the electric chair and all that is on the other side of that chair just ahead of her, and Mrs. Coo's strongest impression is that she likes company.

We are a gregarious race, and absence of imagination is a great help, if you must be electrocuted.

DOES MONEY make a difference in the United States? It made some difference when, in Foley Square, opposite New York's Supreme Court building, six rather old men were arrested charged with "vagrancy". One of them, 64 years old, who gave a name not his own, was found with bank books showing that he owned six thousand dollars, safe in the bank.

The magistrate "suspended sentence" on the $6,000 vagrant. He was not even fined. Five others that had no money were fined $10 each and sent to jail for 10 days, when they did not pay.

There is a text for some budding Communist orator.

IN SAN FRANCISCO, organized labor is holding its annual convention, but does not attract much public attention. Nobody there murdered anybody or inherited any millions.

But it is an interesting convention, with a huge portrait of Franklin D. Roosevelt, draped with American flags, on either side of him paintings of Samuel Gompers, late president, and William Green, now president of the American Federation of Labor.

No President has ever been honored by organized labor as President Roosevelt is honored. Labor looks upon him as "organized labor's president."

This does not mean that labor is entirely satisfied with "its president". Before the convention is over it will tell him about more things that he should do.

SOME WERE surprised when

Gen. Johnson said farewell to all his NRA workers and "tears ran down his cheeks".

This did not mean weakness, merely nervous shock. The most powerful men weep at unexpected times.

When Mitchell and Sullivan finished their long "bare-knuckle" fight on Barin Rothschild's training ground near Chantilly in France, and were arrested by gendarmes, and jailed at Senlis, both burst into tears.

They would have preferred to fight the gendarmes, but they had to do something.

IN ENGLAND, they take even involuntary killings seriously. One of the most popular men in the Empire, Kay Don, greatest British automobile and fast boat racer, while speeding with his mechanic, left the highway against his will and the accident killed his mechanic.

British justice decided that he had risked the mechanic's life too carelessly, although he risked his own at the same time. The judge sent Kaye Don to jail for manslaughter and he must stay there in spite of urgent appeals.

We are not so funny in this country. When, as happens frequently, a prize fighter hits and happens to kill another in the ring, with a paying crowd looking on, justice says:

"O. K. How else could these gentlemen, their managers, promoters and other politicians make money?"

IF YOU buy whisky, it is wise to buy a brand that you know. In New York, this year, government agents seized 100,000 cases of queer whisky, including 15,000 cases of "Scotch" whisky made in America, with one-eighth Scotch to make it taste "smoky", the rest being sherry, glucose and home-made alcohol.

Senator Reed Blames Appointments To Home Owners Loan Jobs On Joseph Guffey

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Joseph F. Guffey's patronage appointments to the Federal Home Owners Loan Corporation in Pennsylvania were blamed today by Senator David A. Reed for the asserted failure of the system to function effectively in the Keystone state.

Reed said he was asking the chairman of the Home Loan Bank Board for an investigation of the system in Pennsylvania.

In a statement released by his office here, Reed charged his Democratic opponent in the fall election with using the home loan system "for partisan and personal advantage," declaring:

"It has been clearly apparent for some time that Mr. Guffey and his associates in the Democratic organization in Pennsylvania are primarily responsible for the failure of the system to function as it should."

"Their appointees in key positions were replaced several months ago over their protest. Through their hold on the minor positions, however, they have continued their policy of political interference in a governmental function which should be completely divorced from politics."

In the Roman Catholic church concomitance is a term which implies that the body and blood of Christ sacramentally accompany each other, so that under either form, whether wine or bread, both are sacramentally received.

School Conference Draws Educators

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 4.—Speakers for the first state-wide citizens' conference on public school problems were announced today. The conference will be held here October 10 and 11.

Gov. Gifford Pinchot will open the conference Wednesday, speaking on "Education and the State." Dr. Charles H. Judd, director of the school of education at the University of Chicago, will discuss expected changes to meet changing economic conditions at the same session.

School organization and administration is the theme for Thursday morning's session, at which speakers will include State Treasurer Charles A. Waters; Dr. Arnold Bennett Hall, director of Brookings Institution, Washington, D. C.; and Dr. James G. Miller, department of educational administration, University of Pennsylvania.

Afternoon session speakers will be N. R. Criss, solicitor for the Pittsburgh board of education; Francis R. Cope, Jr. member of the state council of education; and Dr. Marion K. McKay, professor of economics at the University of Pittsburgh. Financing public schools will be the session theme.

"Citizens are entitled to know the facts concerning school operation and we are doing all in our power to provide them with these facts," Dr. Rule said in outlining the purpose of the conference.

TO MEET TONIGHT
Anthony Quintillano, president of the Casa Savoia society, announced today that a special meeting will be held tonight at 7:00 o'clock, in the Casa Savoia clubrooms, South Mill street.

ISSUED LICENSE
MERCER, Oct. 4.—A marriage license was issued today to Patrick Goric 23, and Maglia Fornell, 21, both of New Castle.

Huge Batch Of Letters Shown

International News Service Staff Correspondent

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Oct. 4.—Flaming love epistles—172 of them—from Bobby Edwards, Don Juan of a mining town, to Margaret Crain, 22-year-old music teacher of East Aurora, N. Y., will provide a bitter legal battle today in the "American tragedy" murder trial.

The purple-toned missives have been offered in evidence by the prosecution in an attempt to show that while Edwards, the 21-year-old handsome defendant, was promising to marry Freda McKechnie, he was two-timing by corresponding passionately with Margaret.

Cover Three Months Time. Most of the love-letters are known to be unprintable but several of them will be read to the jury if the court admits them to evidence.

The sheet of erotica was identified by handwriting experts as having been written by Edwards. They covered three months prior to the finding of the body of 27-year-old Freda in Harvey's lake with a deep gash on the back of her head.

The dates showed that Edwards wrote sometimes as often as three times a day.

The signed confessions of Edwards were in the court record today, the most damaging evidence in the state's case.

Edwards, re-vamping earlier stories of the death of his childhood sweetheart, told in his confessions how Freda had informed him she was to become a mother. She telephoned him from the doctor's office a week before he bludgeoned her to death during a midnight swimming party. They took a walk in Kirby park under the moonlight. He suggested an operation or marriage.

"Rather Get Married," Freda said: "I would rather get married."

Edwards promised to marry her. They would go to Virginia and he would get a job and they would start things over again. He wrote a letter to Margaret Crain and said their engagement was off. But he never mailed the letter.

The thought that he might be rid of Freda slipped insidiously into his mind, Edwards said in his statement.

A voice kept whispering into his ear: "Now is the time to do away with Freda."

Freda died on Monday, July 30. The Wednesday before, he took the blackjack belonging to his father, Edwards said he took it for protection during a week-end automobile trip "to York state" to see Margaret.

He got Freda to give him her bathing suit even before this. He kept her bathing suit, a gay, orange one—in his closet at home until the night of the murder.

On a rainy Monday night he took Freda for a ride. Sitting in the car on that night while Freda stopped off for 20 minutes to visit her niece at Harvey's Lake, the voice of evil began shouting again, Edwards declared in his statement.

"I had my girl in New York state (Margaret Crain) and I wanted to do away with Freda to clear up the situation," Edwards said in his confession.

"So now was the time to do away with Freda."

They waded toward the left part of the lake where it was darker. "Then—As she swam by me I hit her on the head with my jack," Freda lurched upward from the water, then she sank. Edwards took her by the hips and threw her body into deeper water.

The state plans to close its case today and then the defense will have its say.

Bintrim Attends Guard Sessions

Is In Harrisburg For Annual Convention Of National Guard Association

Capt. Harvey G. Bintrim, commander of Troop F, 103rd Cavalry, P. N. G., has left for Harrisburg to attend the sixteenth annual convention of the National Guard Association of Pennsylvania, which takes place on Friday and Saturday.

The meetings are of an informal nature, and second lieutenants elbow major generals at these sessions as if they were all buck privates.

The officers of the association are Col. Eric Fisher Wood, of Pittsburgh, president; Col. C. Blaine Smathers and Col. Arthur C. Colahan, vice presidents; Major Charles E. Conner, secretary; and Col. Leo A. Luttringer, treasurer.

Evans Completes Forty Years With Pennsy Railroad

Seventy Year Old East Cherry Street Resident Ends
Long Service

In the early nineties, about the time Henry Ford completed his first gasoline car and everybody was talking about the huge ferries wheel at the Columbia Exposition, a young man named David Evans joined a Pennsylvania railroad section gang and started a service with the railroad which he just completed this week.

The 70 year old railroader, who lives near the Pennsy's Cherry street crossing, started work in the New Castle yards. His foremen were Thomas Dwyer and William Smith. He helped to build the Mahoning avenue yards—a section that was at that time low and swampy.

"There aren't many of those men who worked with me around now," Mr. Evans said to a News representative Wednesday afternoon. "Harry Eettenbaugh was working then. So were Charles Davis and Harvey Hammond. Martin Mathews was yard master."

For years Mr. Evans has been a member of the wreck train crew and that he will miss this work was intimated in his conversation yesterday. There was a touch of sadness hidden in his voice when he said that the sound of the wreck whistle "kind of gets" him and that he knows that he will always awaken when it is blown, no matter what time of night.

"I think maybe I would like a little home in the country somewhere," he added, "because I must be busy at something and there is no sense in listening for whistles and watching trains all day when you just aren't a part of it any more."

now occupying the Fullerton property at Gardner. Mr. Brown is one of the teachers at the Shenango school.

Mr. and Mrs. Woods and two little folks and Mrs. Woods' mother, Mrs. Saunders, and her two sons, all moved from Gardner last Friday and are now nicely located on the Ellwood City road this side of the Rose farm.

Rev. John Kellner and Rev. Olive Kellner and Faith, Lois, Olive and Paul, and Miss Florence Brishin and Ruth Baker were 6 o'clock dinner guests of friends at Gardner last Thursday, also Miss Margaret Aven, Misses Helen, Daisy and Angeline Yargo were entertained this week at the same home.

Hear Farewells Of 'Junior Kiwanians'

Muse, Davies Turn Seats Over
To Successors; Club Business Talked

The swan songs of two youths who have dined and moved about with New Castle Kiwanians during the past three months in the role of New Castle Kiwanians were heard when the club held its weekly luncheon in The Castleton lounge yesterday.

The young men who stepped out of their Kiwanis roles were Robert Muse and Ralph Davies. Present to be introduced as their successors were Robert Miner and John Thomas, Senior high students selected by Principal F. L. Orth and the club's vocational guidance committee. They will serve for three months.

The club discussed further plans for its 15th anniversary Ladies' night November 12. Other club matters were transacted with President J. D. Rebel presiding.

Religious School Will Be Resumed With Opening Session Saturday Morning

Temple Israel, Highland and Moody avenue, will conduct its next regular session Friday evening, October 5, at 8 o'clock, Rabbi Avery Jonah Grossfield officiating. The topic of the sermon will be "The Tell-Tale Sign."

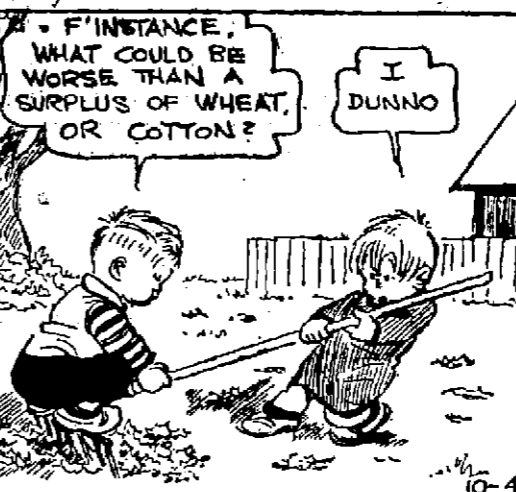

The sessions of the Temple Israel Religious school will be resumed for the season this week, the first session taking place Saturday morning, October 6th, at 9:30 o'clock promptly. All children are expected to be present, including those who will register for the first time.

The Saturday morning religious service will take place at 11 o'clock, with Morton Love taking part in reading the prayers.

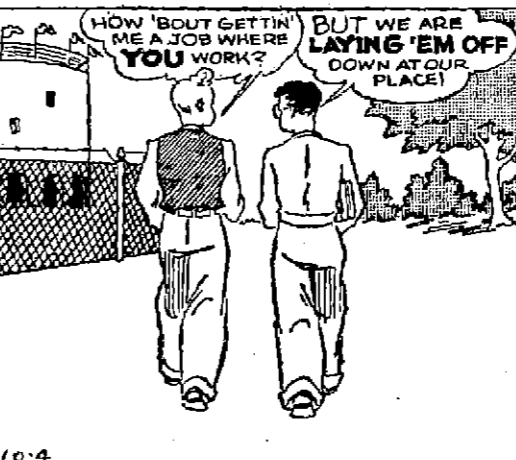

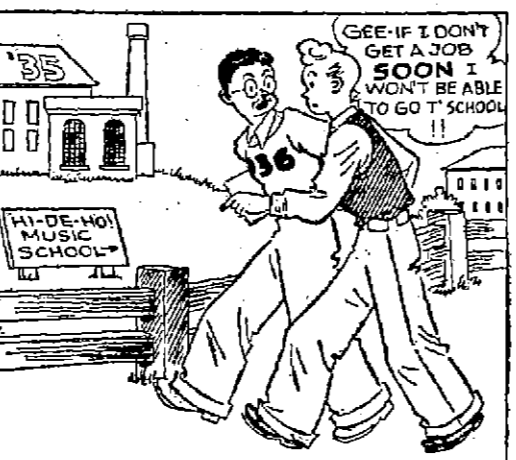

After the Friday evening service, the members and friends will enjoy an hour of fellowship in the vestry rooms of the Temple; Mr. and Mrs. William L. Cosel will be the hosts, in honor of the seventy-seventh birthday of their father, Jacob Cosel, which occurs on October 7th.

The Governor Says

What Is Going On
In Harrisburg—
And Why

By GIFFORD PINCHOT
Governor of Pennsylvania

The Governor Says has always been a serious series intended to keep the people of Pennsylvania informed about what is going on in the State Government at Harrisburg, and why.

But the old saying is right: All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy. I think you who have been following my weekly articles are entitled to some relief.

Reading detective stories is next to fishing—one of my favorite forms of relaxation.

And here's the result of reading too many of them:

1. Very few of my complexion. But are deeply devoted to crime detection.

They want to know who slew Bill Smith, and what was the weapon they croaked him with.

2. As to Sarah Brown they desire to inquire who burned off her head in the kitchen fire. And they're eager to learn about Big Ben Lloyd—Was it Paris green or an alkaloid?

3. They cannot rest 'till old man Zinn leaves his cash, when he cashes in; To the wicked but beautiful heroine Who tied up his neck with a cod-fish line.

4. Somebody's dead, and you can't tell who. Shoved the unhappy blighter through.

Well, if you want to make a scoop, Pick the least likely one of the group.

Don't say what, and don't tell why. Keep your tongue in your cheek and a wink in your eye.

Treat logical reasons as so much bunk.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep... Vigor... Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount, cramping burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of kidney trouble.

Backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up at night, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day and get rid of 15 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS...

...a doctor's prescription... which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

Don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes, for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS... the old reliable relief that contains no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-McBurg Co.

30 years satisfactory service to thousands of satisfied customers in Lawrence County.

JACOB F. PERELMAN 205 Wallace Bldg. On the Diamond

And you'll spot the body concealed in the trunk.

5. Wilkie Collins and Conan Doyle, Arctic tundra and Texas oil, Fletcher, Oppenheim, Sam Van Dine.

Rolls Royce autos, and girls divine—These, and it seems to me, thousands more.

They all come in and go out the same door.

6. Deadly secrets and missing lines, London seasons and lost gold mines, Slums of Paris and C. I. D., And all the other props there be.

7. Among all the terrors that make you quake, The worst is the horrible African snake, Full of poison but not opaque.

You can see through it from tail to head, But if ever it bites you—Bling! you're dead!

8. Introduced in the plumbing system, It follows the bends and can easily twist 'em, You'll find it coiled in your washing bowl—

That's the time to remember your soul.

9. Then there's the spider, great and grim— Little Miss Muffet's had nothing on him. He can jump like a flea and swim like a fish—

The detectafit writer's favor-ite dish.

10. And the ten-foot lizard from Yucatan, Poisonous, yes, but the friend of man, When the villain pursues the beautiful lass

The Yucatan lizard makes just one pass, And the villain's naught but an inert mass.

11. Harmless lions and dangerous cats, Typhoid candy, bubonic rats, Jungles infested with vampire bats, Apache queens, and butterflies

That squirt their venom right into your eyes, And all the rest of the fee, fo, tum— The fellows who write 'em must think we're dumb!

12. There's the quiet gent in the lounging suit— You never would think that the galoot could shoot!

But six little sparrows pass under full sail, And his gun clips a target from every last tail.

13. See that spindling little rooster, With the microscopic feet, Who looks as if he never had sufficient food to eat?

And see that hulking navy Seven feet by three feet six, Who raised his numerous family On curses, beer, and kicks?

They're going to fight! You know they are! Your heart thrills to the scrap! As for the yins in the liver, He is almost sure to see 'em.

And he has an eye for poisons In the paunch or perineum.

14. Here's a wrinkle-necked old buzzard: Well, with neither ends nor ifs, He can tell you to the second When the live ones turned to stiffs.

As for the yins in the liver, He is almost sure to see 'em. And he has an eye for poisons In the paunch or perineum.

15. A palpable moron goes drifting by, With a vacant face and a dead fish eye. But he can fascinate high-born maids, He's the leader in police raids, He can give Solomon cards and spades, And no better sleuth ever went to Hades.

16. And one more—the night club dancer Who is purer than the snow, She dances in the night club On the light fantastic toe 'Cause she must support her kiddies.

And she's no place else to go. Her cherished marriage lines repose Beneath a back tooth frown, And she'll go back to her husband Any time the villain's willin'.

17. Go on, ye half wits, go on and read Of this here marvel and that there deed. It's all mere rubbish, and all pure rot, But read it whether we would or not— We'd stop if we could, but we can't, God wot.

18. We know it's awful hokum, We know it's just ain't so. The reasoning's superhuman— No mere man could strike that blow.

But we don't stop to bother, And we don't pause to fret, We just light one from the other Like a blooming cigaret.

The harmonica was invented by Benjamin Franklin.

COLDS Go Overnight

When You Take The Right Thing!

A cold doesn't have to run its course and expose you to serious complications. A cold can be routed right away. First of all, a cold being an internal infection, calls for internal treatment. Secondly, a cold calls for a COLD remedy and not for a "cure-all."

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is what a cold requires. It is expressly a cold remedy. It is internal and direct—and it does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and grippy feeling and tones and fortifies the entire system. Anything less than that is taking chances with a cold. Get Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine at any druggist, 30c and 50c. Ask for it by the full name and beware of dealers who offer substitutes.

Inauguration On November 10

New President To Be Formally Inducted At Slippery Rock

DR. JAS. N. RULE WILL PRESIDE

(Special To The News) SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., Oct. 4.—Announcement was made yesterday from the college office that the date of the inauguration of Dr. Charles S. Miller as president of the local school had been set for November 10.

Dr. James N. Rule, superintendent of Public Instruction, will be here and will preside at the ceremonies. Invitations will be sent to neighboring schools and colleges, to alumni and to friends of the institution. One of the largest crowds in the history of the school is expected.

Slippery Rock will play Edinboro Teachers college in football the same date.

It had been first thought that the inauguration ceremonies would be held in conjunction with the homecoming festivities which will mark the day on which Grove City meets Slippery Rock, October 13.

However, Dr. Rule could not be here on that date and consequently the time was changed. It is expected that all the presidents of the State Teachers colleges as well as representatives of the neighboring liberal arts colleges will be present.

Dr. Charles S. Miller, superintendent of schools at Landstown, Pa., assumed his duties at Slippery Rock on August 1.

He succeeded Dr. J. Linwood Eisenberg, who was the president of the school from 1917 till 1934. Dr. Eisenberg resigned in May and accepted a teaching position at the Shippensburg State Teachers college.

Battlefield Is Field For Outings

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Oct. 4.—More than 18,500 persons visited Bushy Run battlefield in Westmoreland county during the three summer months of June, July and August, according to the department of forests and waters. There were 51 Sunday school picnics, 32 club outings and eight family reunions there.

Grapes Checked To Comply With Law

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Oct. 4.—Careful checks are being made on transportation of grapes from the Erie district to insure observance of the state grape law, the department of agriculture announced today.

The law stipulates that all shipments of grapes must be marked with the grade, the net quantity of the contents and the name and address of the person who packed them. No label making any false claims can be placed on the package.

One prosecution followed as a result of a similar check last year and the offender was fined.

Nobody can stop an automobile instantly. Careful drivers leave an ample margin of safety. The chart above indicates for two different speeds the number of feet a car travels while a driver is preparing to put on the brakes.

This distance is shown in the shaded area. The chart also shows the distance the car covers after the brakes are applied and before the car comes to a stop. Perfect brakes and the best type of road surface are required for this braking performance.

Democrat Voter At Age Of 95 Is Claiming Record

(International News Service) WELLSBORO, Pa., Oct. 4.—Darius P. Holiday observed his 95th birthday anniversary today with a claim to the title of the country's most loyal Democrat.

An anti-Republican for years, Holiday voted for Stephen A. Douglas against Abraham Lincoln in 1860 and for the Democratic candidates ever since.

Although wounded at Antietam while serving with the Union army, Holiday is in excellent health and walks more than a mile each day to buy a Democratic newspaper. He walks that far to vote on election day.

15,000 Types Of Wood Are Displayed

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 4.—A display of wood specimens virtually unequalled in the world is on exhibition at the Franklin Institute museum here, representing 50 years of collecting by the late Henry Howson and his son Henry, Jr.

More than 15,000 types of wood from all parts of the world comprise the collection which cost in excess of $15,000 to gather.

All the pieces are numbered with steel dies which carry the common and scientific names of the trees from which the specimens were taken. Each piece is preserved in its natural color by a coat of white shellac.

"Schoolboy" Rowe Hopes To Upset Cardinals Today

Detroit Will Shoot Ace Righthander At Cardinals In Second Game

Paul Dean Or Hallahan Will Throw Them Up For National League Champs

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor.

DETROIT, Oct. 4.—This is the morning after the awful blow which hit 42,500 paid customers right on the nose yesterday afternoon and which saw the Detroit Tigers put on an exhibition which was down-right frightful. They did that in the first game of the series yesterday with five errors in the first two and one-third innings for a series record. Today, they promise better things, as a matter of fact, their antics couldn't be worse.

Today, considerably disconcerted by the events which led up to the Cardinals' 8 to 3 victory in the first game of the series, the Tigers were far from ready to quit. Strangely, neither were the Detroit fans. For some strange and unusual reason they seem to think they have a ball club here and in spite of the fact that old Doctor Fumble Finger, the all-American drayback, was all too common in the Tiger ensemble yesterday. Everybody around here seemed to feel that it was pretty much of a big mistake.

Rowe to Pitch.
Their idea was that Schoolboy Rowe, the young man who won 16 straight by the grace of Providence and a few base hits, was just the party to stop the rampant Cardinals today.

Rowe, quite a young man with a dark brown background, hoped to find the day pretty much to his liking. It was a dark, brown day. Nevertheless, the feeling was that the Cardinals, team of destiny, either couldn't or wouldn't go wrong. They clipped Crowder for three runs yesterday and Marberry and Hogsett for four in one inning, with the result that they have pegged the Tigers as a clinch.

Tigers Not Easy.
The Tigers are not a cinch ball club. Strangely and as a matter of fact, no outfit that supplies eight, 300 hitters can be a cinch ball club. They are, just as they seemed yesterday, merely a little too good for a club that placed nearly all its dependence on sheer power.

The point is that all sport writers make a mistake. They keep comparing team for team, whereas it should be league for league. All anyone need add for instance is that the best team in the American league, under present conditions, might very well be the worst in the National.

For purposes of this series, the National league entry has decided to be very large. It has already announced Bill Hallahan as its second game pitcher and thereby has defeated the predictions of all experts. The latter agreed that Paul Dean was and should be the starting pitcher for the second game. But, for reasons quite unknown, the Cardinal board of strategy has cast its all on the little left hander with the little curve.

Hallahan Today.
They evidently believe that Hallahan has reclaimed enough of his fast one and curve to get by. Whether they're right or not is unimportant compared to the fact that the Tigers on their performance of yesterday are, a clinch for the easiest pitcher in baseball.

The day dawned bright and clear, with off in the east a dull gray sky, threatening at any moment to spoil everything with a spot of rain. A crowd of 42,000 undaunted by the gray skies, are going to be out there again watching the fracas.

"Dizzy" Dean Modestly Admits That He Wasn't At His Best Wednesday

By FAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

DETROIT, Oct. 4.—Here's the Cardinal clubhouse after the first game. Off in one corner, half a dozen Red Birds are singing under the showers. The song is—for no good reason at all—that old timer: "I Want A Girl Just Like The Girl That Married Dear Old Dad."

The din is terrific. Jubilant Cardinals with wet towels are walloping one another's still wetter bodies.

Dean Very Modest
Dizzy Dean is standing by the table as naked as the day he was born and orating in typically Deanesque style with gestures.

"I tell yuh," Dizzy assures the writer, "I didn't have a thing out there today. Not a thing. Ask any of the fellows. No speed. No hook. No control. When did you ever see me letting the hitters get me three and two all the time?"

"Guess I must be tired. I can get three days rest they won't even see my fast ball and I'll show 'em a curve that'll stand them on their heads."

No Stuff On Ball
"Why, say, I could go back in there for the next 30 days in a row and pitch as good as I did today. If they couldn't do anything with me when I had nothing, what can they do when I'm right?" I throw that big Greenberg a curve that didn't break and he hits it into the bleachers on me. That's how rotten I was today.

"A lefthander like Bill here will stop them dead if he's got his control."

"Watch what my brother Paul does to them. I'll be Bill here and Paul and then Bill Walker. That'll give us four straight and the fans won't have a chance to see Dizzy at his best."

Cardinals Confident

Manager Frankie Frisch, slowly removing a sock with one hand and rubbing a sore neck where a base runner's knee hit him with the other, looked up quizzically. "Well, maybe, you're right at that," admitted Frankie.

"We win in five sure," yells Du-roches.

"Five hell!" objects Dizzy. "I say four straight," and Brother Paul, Dizzy's yes man and stooge, nods assent.

"Out of my way, you big stiff. Make room for a real hero," says Medwick, as he shoves Dizzy out of his path to the showers. "Where

Slippery Rock Has Open Date

(Special To The News)
SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., Oct. 4.—The fact that Saturday is an open date on the current football schedule has meant nothing in the way of rest for local footballers. Coach Kerr Thompson has had his Rocket squad hard at work every day this week, and the reason has been two unexpected defeats at the hands of Westminster and Waynesburg.

Without attempting to ally it is no secret that the Green and White coach expected to win both games and the failure of his veteran eleven to come through has put him in a mood where play will not be tolerated.

Both Westminster and Waynesburg were defeated last year and Rocket fans naturally expected a victory this year due to the presence of so many veterans.

Offensive work has been the nature of the drills this week and freshmen getting their chance include Ken Graham of Grove City at center; Painter of Evans City at halfback; Robertson of Oliver High at fullback; Silman of New Castle at quarterback; Szalk of Clariton at halfback and Wingrove at tackle.

In addition to these the following reserves have been pushed forward to the first team: Booser at end; Parsons at guard; Duggan at center and Furey at tackle.

Scrimmage sessions were in order for the remainder of the week as Coaches Thompson and Stinson worked overtime with the large squad. The entire group of 55 players, who reported on the first day, have been kept by Thompson and it is unlikely that any cuts will be made now.

An announcement made public last night by college officials stated the Michael Perkowsky, veteran guard from East Pittsburgh and George Stonis, giant tackle from Parnassus would be out of action for the next week or ten days due to injuries received in the Waynesburg game. Injuries at Westminster, both went into the Waynesburg game midway in the first half against the advice of the team physician and aggravated leg injuries may keep them out the remainder of the season, it is said.

A meeting of the Agenda club basketball team has been called for 8 o'clock tonight at the Y. M. C. A. for the discussion of the floor season and to make plans for a fast team this winter. All members and prospective players are asked to attend the meeting.

The following have been invited to the meeting: Harry Levine, Joe Solomon, B. Solomon, Hyman Levine, Dave Rogovin, Bill Marlin, Harry Baron, Mark Swirsky, "Laz" Shiffman, P. Rosenberg, Sam Rosenberg, "Sak" Levin and "Hearts" Levine, also any others who wish to try out for the team.

Titans Leave For Fordham Game Tonight

(Special To The News)
NEW WILLIAMINGTON, Oct. 4.—A squad of 24 players, Coaches Bill and Tom Gilbane, student managers and H. R. Patton, business manager, constitute the Westminster College football party which leaves New Castle tonight by train for New York City. The Titans leave on the 10:21 train and arrive in New York tomorrow morning at 9:41.

Headquarters in New York will be the Hotel Pennsylvania. Here the team will stay until shortly before game time Saturday afternoon. The Titans stack up against Fordham at Yankee Stadium at 2:30 Saturday. They will return by train late Saturday night.

All members of the squad are in good physical shape, and if they can go through the hard contest with the Rams without injury will return to play district teams their own size with the exception, of course, of the Pitt game at New Castle on Oct. 27.

There will be two complete sets of backs and two sets of linemen available for the Fordham contest, and Coaches Bill and Tom Gilbane plan to substitute freely to give all who make the trip actual game experience and to eliminate possibilities of injuries.

Cardinals Go One Up On Detroit Tigers In Poorly Played Series Game

Medwick And Greenberg Smash Out Homers, Tiger Infield Blows Up

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NAVIN FIELD, DETROIT, Oct. 4.—That apparent team of destiny, the St. Louis Cardinals, swarmed all over the Detroit Tigers Wednesday afternoon to take the opening game of the World Series, with Dizzy Dean, the "Great Destroyer," pitching with a good deal of his customary éclat.

Two abiding factors made the triumph so hollow as to make it almost an empty one for the celebrated scion of the Deans, the major factor being the extraordinary behavior of the Tigers themselves.

The score, 8 to 3, spoke for itself as the margin of the Tigers' inferiority of play.

Medwick-Greenberg Stars
As a capacity gathering of 45,000 rabid hometown fans groaned with the awful enormity of the thing, the Tigers made five errors in less than three innings, behind Alvin Crowder while the Cards raced the bases in a mad, merry stream.

Ultimately, Crowder, after yielding only one earned run, was removed in favor of a pinch hitter, whereupon, the Cards took a running jump at the offerings of "Furpo" Marberry and Elton Hogsett to score four runs in the sixth and make a mockery of the ball game.

Joe Medwick, the greatest single star to Dean—barring the Tigers—made his fourth hit of the game in this inning, having previously hit a homer into the left field stands in the fifth. It was strictly that kind of a pastime, the Cards getting 13 hits in the middle of the general uproar.

Tigers Play Poorly
The five errors by the Tiger infield in a few innings probably established a series record for atrocious play, although data on this point was lacking. All that was available was that the World Series record for errors in one game by one team was six, the White Sox and Pirates sharing this dubious distinction.

The bungling began early. Owen making an accredited error on Frisch's slap in the first inning, although the chance was by no means a simple one. However, it remained for the next two innings to show the Tigers at their worst.

First, Orsatti singled and was being forced out at second by Dean for what should have been the final out when Gehring dropped Rogell's perfect throw, both men being safe. Then Owen threw wild on Martin, filling the bases after which Rothrock emptied two of them with a single.

Medwick Hits Hard
In the next inning, Medwick got his second of four hits and was forced at second by Collins. It looked like a perfect double play ball but Rogell threw wild past Greenberg, sending Collins to second. He scored all the way from the middle bag while Greenberg

DETROIT, Oct. 4.—Here's the Cardinal clubhouse after the first game. Off in one corner, half a dozen Red Birds are singing under the showers. The song is—for no good reason at all—that old timer: "I Want A Girl Just Like The Girl That Married Dear Old Dad."

The din is terrific. Jubilant Cardinals with wet towels are wallowing one another's still wetter bodies.

Dean Very Modest
Dizzy Dean is standing by the table as naked as the day he was born and orating in typically Deanesque style with gestures.

"I tell yuh," Dizzy assures the writer, "I didn't have a thing out there today. Not a thing. Ask any of the fellows. No speed. No hook. No control. When did you ever see me letting the hitters get me three and two all the time?"

"Guess I must be tired. If I can get three days rest they won't even see my fast ball and I'll show 'em a curve that'll stand them on their heads."

No Stuff On Ball
"Why, say, I could go back in there for the next 30 days in a row and pitch as good as I did today. If they couldn't do anything with me when I had nothing, what can they do when I'm right?" I throw that big Greenberg a curve that didn't break and he hits it into the bleachers on me. That's how rotten I was today.

"A left-hander like Bill here will stop them dead if he's got his control."

"Watch what my brother Paul does to them. It'll be Bill here and Paul and then Bill Walker. That'll give us four straight and the fans won't have a chance to see Dizzy at his best."

Cardinals Confident

Manager Frankie Frisch, slowly removing a sock with one hand and rubbing a sore neck where a base runner's knee hit him with the other, looked up quizzically. "Well, maybe, you're right at that," admitted Frankie.

"We win in five sure," yells Du-roches.

"Five hell!" objects Dizzy. "I say four straight," and Brother Paul, Dizzy's yes man and stooge, nods assent.

"Out of my way, you big stiff. Make room for a real hero," says Medwick, as he shoves Dizzy out of his path to the showers. "Where would you be without me, big boy?" yells Carter Joe from under the shower.

Tigers Are Quiet
And now, for contrast, come with me into the Tiger clubhouse. Not a sound as the cop lets me in. All is quiet as a tomb. Tigers sitting in a row on benches before their individual lockers. Heads bowed. Quietly whispering to each other as they slowly undress.

Mickey Cochrane is standing by a large pastboard portrayal of himself in uniform. "We were awful, weren't we?" he greets me. "We had the jitters, I guess. That's the only way I can account for all those errors."

"I think Rowe will beat them in the second game. They're a great team. They took it easy; we went at it the hard way."

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 4.—A squad of 24 players, Coaches Bill and Tom Gilbane, student managers and H. R. Patton, business manager, constitute the Westminster College football party which leaves New Castle tonight by train for New York City. The Titans leave on the 10:21 train and arrive in New York tomorrow morning at 9:41.

Headquarters in New York will be the Hotel Pennsylvania. Here the team will stay until shortly before game time Saturday afternoon. The Titans stack up against Fordham at Yankee Stadium at 2:30 Saturday. They will return by train late Saturday night.

All members of the squad are in good physical shape, and if they can go through the hard contest with the Rams without injury will return to play district teams their own size with the exception, of course, of Pitt game at New Castle on Oct. 27.

There will be two complete sets of backs and two sets of linemen available for the Fordham contest, and Coaches Bill and Tom Gilbane plan to substitute freely to give all who make the trip actual game experience and to eliminate possibilities of injuries.

Agenda Basketball Team Will Meet

A meeting of the Agenda club basketball team has been called for 8 o'clock tonight at the Y. M. C. A. for the discussion of the floor season and to make plans for a fast team this winter. All members and prospective players are asked to attend the meeting.

The following have been invited to the meeting: Harry Levine, Joe Solomon, B. Solomon, Hyman Levine, Dave Rogovin, Bill Marlin, Harry Baron, Mark Swirsky, "Laz" Shifman, P. Rosenberg, Sam Rosenberg, "Sak" Levin and "Hearts" Levine, also any others who wish to try out for the team.

Slippery Rock Has Open Date

Rockets Work Hard After Losing First Two Games By Close Score

(Special To The News)

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., Oct. 4.—The fact that Saturday is an open date on the current football schedule has meant nothing in the way of rest for local footballers. Coach Kerr Thompson has had his Rocket squad hard at work every day this week, and the reason has been two unexpected defeats at the hands of Westminster and Waynesburg.

Without attempting to alibi, it is no secret that the Green and White coach expected to win both games and the failure of his veteran eleven to come through has put him in a mood where play will not be tolerated. Both Westminster and Waynesburg were defeated last year and Rocket fans naturally expected a victory this year due to the presence of so many veterans.

Offensive work has been the nature of the drills this week and freshmen getting their chance include Ken Graham of Grove City at center; Painter of Evans City at halfback; Robertson of Oliver High at fullback; Sillman of New Castle at quarterback; Snizik of Clairton at halfback and Wingrove at tackle. In addition to these pushed forward reserves have been pushed forward to the first team: Boozer at end; Parsons at guard; Duggan at center and Furey at tackle.

Scrimmage sessions were in order for the remainder of the week as Coaches Thompson and Stinson worked overtime with the large squad. The entire group of 55 players, who reported on the first day, have been kept by Thompson and it is unlikely that any cuts will be made now.

An announcement made public last night by college officials stated the Michael Perkosky, veteran guard from East Pittsburgh and George Stonis, giant tackle from Parnassus would be out of action for the next week or ten days due to injuries received in the Waynesburg game. Injuries at Westminster, both went into the Waynesburg game midway in the first half against the advice of the team physician and aggravated leg injuries may keep them out the remainder of the season, it is said.

"Dizzy" Dean Wins First Game 8 To 3 Tigers Play Ragged

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NAVIN FIELD, DETROIT, Oct. 4.—That apparent team of destiny, the St. Louis Cardinals, swarmed all over the Detroit Tigers Wednesday afternoon to take the opening game of the World Series, with Dizzy Dean, the "Great Destinator," pitching with a good deal of his customary eclat.

Two abiding factors made the triumph so hollow as to make it almost an empty one for the celebrated scion of the Deans, the major factor being the extraordinary behavior of the Tigers themselves.

The score, 8 to 3, spoke for itself as the margin of the Tigers' inferiority of play.

Medwick-Greenberg Stars

As a capacity gathering of 45,000 rabid hometown fans groaned with the awful enormity of the thing, the Tigers made five errors in less than three innings behind Alvin Crowder while the Cards raced the bases in a mad, merry stream. Ultimately, Crowder, after yielding only one earned run, was removed in favor of a pinch nitter, whereupon, the Cards took a running jump at the offerings of "Firpo" Marberry and Elton Hogsett to score four runs in the sixth and make a mockery of the ball game.

Joe Medwick, the greatest single aid to Dean—barring the Tigers—made his fourth hit of the game in this inning, having previously hit a homer into the left field stands in the fifth. It was strictly that kind of a pastime, the Cards getting 13 hits in the middle of the general uproar.

Tigers Play Poorly

The five errors by the Tiger infield in a few innings probably established a series record for atrocity, although data on this point was lacking. All that was available was that the World Series record for errors in one game by one team was six, the White Sox and Pirates sharing this dubious distinction.

Bill Hallahan

The bungling began early. Owen making an accredited error on Frisch's slap in the first inning, although the chance was by no means a simple one. However, it remained for the next two innings to show the Tigers at their worst.

First, Orsatti singled and was being forced out at second by Dean for what should have been the final out when Gehring dropped Rogell's perfect throw, both men being safe. Then Owen threw wild on Martin, filling the bases after which Rothrock emptied two of them with a single.

Medwick Hits Hard

In the next inning, Medwick got his second of four hits and was forced at second by Collins. It looked like a perfect double play ball but Rogell threw wild past Greenberg, sending Collins to second. He scored all the way from the middle bag while Greenberg

"Schoolboy" Rowe Hopes To Upset Cardinals Today

Paul Dean Or Hallahan Will Throw Them Up For National League Champs

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

DETROIT, Oct. 4.—This is the morning after the awful blow which hit 42,506 paid customers right on the nose yesterday afternoon and which saw the Detroit Tigers put on an exhibition which was downright frightful. They did that in the first game of this series yesterday with five errors in the first two and one-third innings for a series record. Today, they promise better things, as a matter of fact, their antics couldn't be worse.

Today, considerably disconcerted by the events which led up to the Cardinals' 8 to 3 victory in the first game of the series, the Tigers were far from ready to quit. Strangely, neither were the Detroit fans. For some strange and unusual reason they seem to think they have a ball club here and in spite of the fact that old Doctor Fumble Finger, the all-American drawback, was all too common in the Tiger ensemble yesterday. Everybody around here seemed to feel that it was pretty much of a big mistake.

Rowe To Pitch.
Their idea was that Schoolboy Rowe, the young man who won 16 straight by the grace of Providence and a few base hits, was just the party to stop the rampant Cardinals today.

Rowe, quite a young man with a dark brown background, hoped to find the day pretty much to his liking. It was a dark, brown day. Nevertheless, the feeling was that the Cardinals, team of destiny, either couldn't or wouldn't go wrong. They clipped Crowder for three runs yesterday and Marberry and Hogsett for four in one inning, with the result that they have pegged the Tigers as a clinch.

Tigers Not Easy.
The Tigers are not a clinch ball club. Strangely and as a matter of fundamental fact, they outfit that supplies eight, 300 hitters can be a clinch ball club. They are just as they seemed yesterday, merely a little too good for a club that placed nearly all its dependence on sheer power.

The point is that all sport writers make a mistake. They keep comparing team for team, whereas it should be league for league. All anyone need add for instance is that the best team in the American league, under present conditions, might very well be the worst in the National.

For purposes of this series, the National league entry has decided to be very large. It has already announced Bill Hallahan as its second game pitcher and thereby has defeated the predictions of all experts. The latter agreed that Paul Dean was and should be the starting pitcher for the second game. But, for reasons quite unknown, the Cardinal board of strategy has cast its all on the little left hander with the little curve.

Hallahan Today.
They evidently believe that Hallahan has reclaimed enough of his fast one and curve to get by. Whether they're right or not is unimportant compared to the fact that the Tigers on their performance of yesterday are a cinch for the easiest pitcher in baseball.

The day dawned bright and clear, with off in the east a dull gray sky, threatening at any moment to spoil everything with a spot of rain. A crowd of 42,000 undaunted by the gray skies, are going to be out there again watching the fracas.

Sportsmen Hold Trials Saturday

Expert Gunners, Bait Casters, Good Dogs To Be Seen In Action

FIRST EVENT TO START AT 9 A. M.

Only a few days remain until the Lawrence County Sportsmen's association stages its second annual field trials at the New Castle Fair grounds. Providing the weather is suitable Saturday more than a score thousand persons are expected to witness the various events.

Among the features will be the casting and shooting events. C. W. Ward, Pittsburgh, national amateur champion, will exhibit his skill in the five-figures, a unique accuracy event. He will exhibit his skill and be in charge of the four fly and bait casting events.

Expert shooters from gun and ammunition concerns will display their wares. Among them will be James C. Leavack of the Winchester Arms company and Virgil Richards of the Remington-Union Arms company.

There will be bird dog events, beagle trials, rabbit hunting trials, trap shooting and pistol events. In addition there will be exhibitions of archery and anyone who travels to the fair grounds Saturday can expect to put in a busy day from nine a. m. until late afternoon.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Sybil Direct won the 2:18 pace, purse $150, yesterday at the Burgettstown fair. The race went four heats before the spectators. In addition there will be exhibitions of archery and anyone who travels to the fair grounds Saturday can expect to put in a busy day from nine a. m. until late afternoon.

Miss Virginia Van Wie of Chicago, defending champion, made a gallant finish at Chestnut Hill yesterday to win from Rosamond Vahey of Boston after being two down at the 16th and best Miss Vahey at the 19th hole.

Fred H. Barclay and Carl Rohmann, Virginia U. team, defeated Joe and Bob Madden, University of Pittsburgh, 9-7, 6-3, after which Harvey Harris and Walter Levitan of North Carolina won from the Penn State team of James L. Smith and C. N. Green. In the singles, Harris beat Barclay 4-6, 9-7, 6-2, and Levitan beat Rohmann 6-1, 6-4. Play was at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., where the Mid-Atlantic intercollegiate tennis championships are under way.

T. O. M. Sowith, owner and skipper of the British challenger Endeavour, defeated by the U. S. Rainbow, has sailed for home. He said "We cannot help feeling terribly disappointed by being met over here with a vessel which we feel did not comply with the rules."

Flo Henly won the 2:18 pace in 2:01 and the Lexington for two-year-old broodmares was taken by Greyhound in 2:03.4. The Kentucky stake was won by Ella Brewer in 2:03.4 and Raider won the classified heat in 2:01.4. During the program at Lexington yesterday a number of horses started for records. The fastest Princess Peg, owned here, set a record of 2:01.4, further reducing the season's record for three-year-old trotting fillies.

Eddie Stump, West Virginia U. varsity halfback of 1928-29, took charge of the Bethany backfield today.

New Castle Awaits Johnstown Invasion

Taggart stadium Saturday will see the biggest crowd in recent years in the indication today. Johnstown and New Castle high football teams will furnish the main attraction. The contest will start at 3 p. m.

Everybody is going to the game, it would seem. No football game here in recent years has the appeal that the game this week carries. Not only here but in Johnstown they are counting the hours until game time.

Expect Big Crowd It will mark the first time in history of either school that the football teams have clashed and they want to make it a big party. Johnstown will send close to 2,000 or 3,000 fans here for the game.

Special trains will leave Johnstown early Saturday morning carrying team, band and loyal fans. New Castle will turn out perhaps 3,000 or 4,000 fans. It would not be surprising to see the crowd go to 10,000 in event that the weatherman gives us a beautiful day.

Close to 200 high school musicians will parade the field. It will be an inspiring sight. Johnstown will bring their fine band of about 100 pieces and New Castle will have their crack band out in full regalia.

Hard At Work Meantime the football teams of both schools are hard at work in practice sessions. Coach Phil Bridenbaugh looks for one of the toughest battles of the season at the hands of the Flood City eleven. Coach Joe Harriott of Johnstown has been telling his boys for the past month what the New Castle "Red Hurricane" is like, and what it will take to upset the New Castle apparatus.

The fans are urged to get their tickets early for the game. There are many choice seats left, but they are going fast. New Castle fans are urged to get to the stadium early and avoid a lot of confusion when the Johnstown special arrives.

WORLD SERIES SIDELIGHTS

Joe Medwick of the Cardinals is a Hungarian; his real name is unpronounceable. Quoting "Dizzy" Dean, "Frisch is a great manager. It isn't every manager that can win a pennant with a club that has only two pitchers."—Virgil Davis, Cardinal catcher, recently sent a bat boy all the way to the bull pen so Dazzy Vance could put his good luck charm on the bat. The Detroit Tigers were victims of the first world series home run. Joe Tinker of the Cubs hit it in 1908. The series of 1918 was the last in which no home run was hit. The Giants are the only team in history to win a world series by shutouts. They did it in 1905 against the Athletics and Christy Mathewson hurled three of them. Art Nehf pitched in the world series four years in a row.

Not only is this the first world series in which Rowe has worked but it will mark the first time he has ever seen a fall classic. Twenty-eight hits were made in nine innings by the Giants and Yankees in 1921.

Flo Henly won the 2:18 pace in 2:01 and the Lexington for two-year-old broodmares was taken by Greyhound in 2:03.4. The Kentucky stake was won by Ella Brewer in 2:03.4 and Raider won the classified heat in 2:01.4. During the program at Lexington yesterday a number of horses started for records. The fastest Princess Peg, owned here, set a record of 2:01.4, further reducing the season's record for three-year-old trotting fillies.

Eddie Stump, West Virginia U. varsity halfback of 1928-29, took charge of the Bethany backfield today.

New Castle Awaits Johnstown Invasion

Taggart stadium Saturday will see the biggest crowd in recent years in the indication today. Johnstown and New Castle high football teams will furnish the main attraction. The contest will start at 3 p. m.

Everybody is going to the game, it would seem. No football game here in recent years has the appeal that the game this week carries. Not only here but in Johnstown they are counting the hours until game time.

Expect Big Crowd It will mark the first time in history of either school that the football teams have clashed and they want to make it a big party. Johnstown will send close to 2,000 or 3,000 fans here for the game.

Special trains will leave Johnstown early Saturday morning carrying team, band and loyal fans. New Castle will turn out perhaps 3,000 or 4,000 fans. It would not be surprising to see the crowd go to 10,000 in event that the weatherman gives us a beautiful day.

Close to 200 high school musicians will parade the field. It will be an inspiring sight. Johnstown will bring their fine band of about 100 pieces and New Castle will have their crack band out in full regalia.

Hard At Work Meantime the football teams of both schools are hard at work in practice sessions. Coach Phil Bridenbaugh looks for one of the toughest battles of the season at the hands of the Flood City eleven. Coach Joe Harriott of Johnstown has been telling his boys for the past month what the New Castle "Red Hurricane" is like, and what it will take to upset the New Castle apparatus.

The fans are urged to get their tickets early for the game. There are many choice seats left, but they are going fast. New Castle fans are urged to get to the stadium early and avoid a lot of confusion when the Johnstown special arrives.

This is the record for hitting in one game in a world series. Buster Keaton, the comedian, got Ernie Orsatti his first job in baseball with Vernon in the Pacific Coast league. Elton Hogsett of the Detroit Tigers is one of the few southpaws with a slinking habit. Dazzy Vance has struck out more batters in the majors—over 2,000—than any hurler since Christy Mathewson, who fanned 2,399. Ernie Orsatti has doubled for movie stars in dozens of dangerous stunts without injury. However, on the ball field he is considered "brittle" and is often out of the game with injuries.

Luke Hamlin, Detroit pitcher, has no first name. He was christened L. D., the initials of two relatives, but he adopted the name "Luke" when he entered baseball. Over $1,000 was wired and mailed to Dazzy Dean by fans to pay his fine and Dazzy sent it all back. Hank Greenberg always bites a stick of candy before he goes to bat. The high marks in attendance and receipts for world series were set in 1926 when 328,051 customers paid $1,207,864 to watch the Cardinals beat the Yanks. A new series record was set last year by Mel Ott when he made three putouts in the same inning. No outfielder had previously performed the feat in a world series. They say the Detroit Tigers squeaked less against umpires than any other club in the American league. When Dazzy Dean went over the 25 victory mark, it was the first time since 1899 that a Cardinal hurler turned in that many wins. Old Cy Young did the trick in that year.

Mickey Cochrane is the first American league manager since Miller Huggins of 1922 to win a pennant without a first-rate southpaw. Tex Carleton, reared on a Texas ranch, expected to be a cowboy before he displayed pitching ability. Branch Rickey believes that a ball player making $5,000 a season should be able to save about $3,000 of the sum. In 1929 Jack Rothrock played every position for the Boston Red Sox. No manager in the American league has ever won four pennants in a row. Goose Goslin doesn't like slow balls. Frankie Frisch batted "cross-headed" when he first joined the Giants. Jim Mooney, Cardinals pitcher, formerly taught school and coached a girls' basketball team. When he made the grade in the majors he resigned both jobs.

Dean opened against Marberry here with a double to center. Martin hit the first ball pitched for a single to the same place, scoring Dazzy. A sacrifice and an out postponed Marberry's demise but Medwick and Collins promptly hastened in with line singles to right, the former's scoring Martin.

With Hogsett lefthandling the situation Delancy doubled to the bleachers in left and the crowd, which was absent and depressed through it all, began to grow delirious. However, the Cards were through for the day and merely protected their lead from that point. Tigers Get Eight Hits Meantime Dean was bing himself to a sound though by no means dazzling performance. In all, the "Tiger" got four hits in the first three innings and eight all total, for the game, although it was evident that Dazzy was under something of a pull. He didn't have to let out behind that long lead.

As it was, the Tigers didn't score until after two out in the third. Dazzy, looking angry when he thought umpire Owens missed a third strike on White, the latter walking. Hits by Cochrane and Gehring followed to send White home.

42,505 Paid Admission Greensburg's single and Orsatti's fourth attempt to make a shortstop catch led up to the second run. Greensburg reaching second on the error and scoring on Goslin's second single to left. Greensburg's homer into the left field stands accounted for the final run in the eighth. The official paid attendance was 42,505.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 4.—Tommy Curtin, Kim Whitehead, Jerry Roscoe and Stan Fuller today appeared the likely choice for the Yale backfield to be used against Columbia here this week-end. Much concern was felt today following Coach Ducky Pond's assertion that the first eleven was "unimpressive" against a scrub team in yesterday's three-hour scrimmage.

Geneva Preps For Thiel Game

Two Regulars Are On Casualty List Following Carnegie Tech Game

BEAVER FALLS, Oct. 4.—Coach Dike Beede resumed practice for the Geneva-Thiel game by dishing out harder sessions of scrimmages this week. Notwithstanding the fact that his starting eleven completed the game without a substitution last Saturday, Beede felt that the team must develop more punch offensively if it is to shine for the remainder of the season. By mutual agreement with Carnegie Tech, Geneva did not use her freshmen last Saturday, however, this rule applied only to the Tech game and during the remainder of the season such men as Pericelli, speedy Ambridge halfback; Vince Rayner, hard hitting center; Joe Gustovich, hefty tackle; and Charles Delon, halfback, are expected to see service. No matter how the dope sheet reads, Thiel always makes the going tough for Geneva. The game Friday night should therefore be a fitting inaugural to four such games in succession on the Reeves field.

The hard scrum of last Saturday took its toll in the Geneva camp. Clyde Johnson, whose work both offensively and defensively was outstanding throughout the entire game, suffered a broken bone in his right hand early in the first quarter, while Joe Paris played three quarters of the game with a torn lower leg muscle. Neither man will see action for at least three weeks. The loss of these regulars is a severe blow to the strength of the team and at present Beede is working hard to locate suitable replacements.

“DIZZY” DEAN WINS FIRST SERIES GAME (Continued From Page Fourteen) was fumbling Delancy's smash back on the edge of the infield. By this time, the Tigers had got all the bad baseball out of their system but the Cardinals never let up, the vigorous Mr. Medwick crashing one into the bleachers in the fifth for one run and the club in general adding four more in the sixth.

Dean Hits Double Dean opened against Marberry here with a double to center. Martin hit the first ball pitched for a single to the same place, scoring Dazzy. A sacrifice and an out postponed Marberry's demise but Medwick and Collins promptly hastened in with line singles to right, the former's scoring Martin.

Liberty Bonds Are Turned In

Reveal $842,265,000 Liberty Bonds of Fourth Issue Have Been Redeemed

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—With the comparative rapid turn-in of fourth Liberty bonds for new securities offered in exchange by the treasury, it appeared that by October 15 around $850,000,000 of the $1,250,000,000 in called liberties would have been refinanced into other bonds and notes.

Today's figures showed that $842,265,000 in fourth liberties actually had been presented for redemption through Oct. 1. More bonds were in the hands of the reserve banks for shipment to the treasury so that at the end of the government's first quarter of the 1935 fiscal year $596,691,000 in 4-year 2½ per cent notes had been exchanged for liberties and $293,300,000 in the new 10-12-year 3½ per cent bonds.

It is possible the bond issue will remain open for exchange for liberties until October 15, the date that the $1,250,000,000 block has been called. All liberties not exchanged at that time will be eligible for redemption in cash.

Socialist Plot In Austria Is Nipped In Bud Police Thwart What Was Believed To Have Been Revolution Plot

(International News Service) VIENNA, Oct. 4.—Thwarting what they believed to be a plot for a new socialist revolution in Austria, police today seized papers bearing coded instructions for a widespread outbreak and followed the seizure with the arrest of many socialist leaders.

The instructions for the coup d'etat were found on a cyclist courier in the Forstsdorf section of Vienna. The papers, which were not dated, were decoded, and revealed plans for the placing of machine guns in strategic points about the capital at the outset of the planned uprising.

The instructions also designated meeting places for the rebels, and they carried a full list of leaders of a "red front." The outbreaks were planned simultaneously for Vienna, Innsbruck, Graz, Linz and other important centers.

With the suspected leaders already under arrest, it was expected the police would follow up their drive with mass arrests of their followers.

Denies Any Part In West Robbery Harry O. Voiler, Says "I Did Not Take Part In Robbery Of Mae West"

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Harry O. Voiler, motion picture executive who is under indictment in Los Angeles for the $17,000 Mae West robbery on Sept. 28, 1932, today denounced reports Miss West would not appear at the World's fair in Chicago because she feared gang vengeance.

"I am sure the story about Miss West's fear of coming east was issued without her knowledge," he said. "I have known her for many years and am very fond of her."

Voiler, who for many years has held the motion picture concession for all prize fights staged in Madison Square Garden and operates a studio here, maintained his innocence. He said: "I am willing to go to California at any time to stand trial. In fact I am anxious to go if the authorities there will demand a reasonable bail. I had nothing to do with that robbery and can prove my innocence."

Sportsmen Hold Trials Saturday

Expert Gunners, Bait Casters, Good Dogs To Be Seen In Action

FIRST EVENT TO START AT 9 A. M.

Only a few days remain until the Lawrence County Sportsmen's association stages its second annual field trials at the New Castle Fair ground. Providing the weather is suitable Saturday more than a score thousand persons are expected to witness the various events.

Among the features will be the casting and shooting events. C. W. Ward, Pittsburgh, national amateur champion, will be in the five-eighths pounce plug accuracy event. He will exhibit his stuff and be in charge of the four fly and bait casting events.

Expert shooters from gun and ammunition concerns will display their wares. Among them will be James G. Leveck of the Winchester Arms company and Virgil Richards of the Remington Arms company.

There will be bird dog events, beagle trials,coon hound trials, trap-shooting and pistol events. In addition there will be exhibitions of archery and anyone who travels to the fair grounds Saturday can expect to put in a busy day from nine a. m. until late afternoon.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Sybil Direct won the 2:16 pace, purse $150, yesterday at the Burgettstown fair. The race went four heats before the sorrel mare won. Delvin Miller, known as the Kid Driver, drove Sybil Direct.

Miss Virginia Van Wie of Chicago, defending champion, made a gallant finish at Chestnut Hill yesterday to win from Rosamond Vahey of Boston after being two down at the 16th and beat Miss Vahey at the 19th hole.

Fred H. Barclay and Carl Rohmann, Virginia U. team, defeated Joe and Bud Madden, University of Pittsburgh, 9-7, 6-3, after which Harvey Harris and Walter Levitan of North Carolina won from the Penn State team of James L. Smith and G. N. Green. In the singles, Harris beat Barclay 4-6, 9-7, 6-2, and Levitan beat Rohmann 6-1, 6-4. Play was at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., where the Mid-Atlantic intercollegiate tennis championships are under way.

T. O. M. Sopwith, owner and skipper of the British challenge, Endeavour, defeated by the U. S. Rainbow, sailed for home. He said "We cannot help feeling terribly disappointed by being met over here with a vessel which we feel did not comply with the rules."

Flo Henly won the 2:18 pace in 2:03 and the Lexington, for two-year-old trotters, was taken by Greyhound in 2:06 3-4. The Kentucky stake was won by Ella Brewer in 2:04 3-4 and Raider won the classified heat in 2:01 1-4. During the program at Lexington yesterday a number of horses started for records. The fastest, Princess Peg, lowered her record to 2:01 1-4, further reducing the season's record for three-year-old trotting fillies.

Eddie Stump, West Virginia U. varsity halfback of 1928-29, took charge of the Bethany backfield today.

However, on the ball field he is considered "brittle" and is often out of the game with injuries.

Luke Hamlin, Detroit pitcher, has no first name. He was christened L. D. the initials of two relatives, but he adopted the name "Luke" when he entered baseball....Over $1,000 was wired and mailed to Dizzy Dean by fans to pay his fine and Dizzy sent it all back....Hank Greenberg always bites a stick of candy before he goes to bat....The high marks in attendance and receipts for world series were set in 1926 when 328,051 customers paid $1,207,864 to watch the Cardinals beat the Yanks....A new series record was set last year by Mel Ott when he made three putouts in the same inning. No outfielder had previously performed the feat in a world series....They say the Detroit Tigers squawk less against umpires than any other club in the American league....When Dizzy Dean went over the 25 victory mark, it was the first time since 1890 that a Cardinal hurler turned in that many wins. Old Cy Young did the trick in that year.

Mickey Cochrane is the first American league manager since Miller Huggins of 1922 to win a pennant without a first-rate southpaw....Tex Carleton, reared on a Texas ranch, expected to be a cowboy before he displayed pitching ability....Branch Rickey believes that he should be able to save about $3,000 of the sum....In 1928 Jack Rothrock played every position for the Boston Red Sox....No manager in the American league has ever won four pennants in a row....Goose Goslin doesn't like slow balls....Frankie Frisch batted "cross-handed" when he first joined the Giants....Jim Mooney, Cardinal pitcher, formerly taught school and coached a girls' basketball team. When he made the grade in the majors he resigned both jobs.

Panther Lineup To Remain Intact

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 4.—University of Pittsburgh's lineup for its game with West Virginia on Saturday is expected to remain the same as that which went into action against W. & J. last Saturday. This means that unless there is a sudden change in plans Verne Baxter, Art Detzel, Harvey Rooker, and Mike Nickels will all be in there on the opening kickoff.

Baseball Fan Is Fatally Stricken

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 4.—Charles Parker, 75 year old baseball fan, lived to learn that the Cardinals won the first game of the world series, went to his home and collapsed of heart failure, a coroner's report said today.

He had spent the afternoon listening to the game at a northside store.

Tech Preparing For Miami Game

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 4.—Howard Harpster and Don Lovewell, Carnegie Tech coaches, were well pleased today with the improvement shown in the squad's blocking, and the boys will be given light workouts up to their home opener with Miami University.

County Teams To Play Away

There will not be any Lawrence county class A football games here this week. Shenango will go to Mars for a football encounter, Union high goes to Rochester, Pa., and Bessemer will play Sciencetown. All three of the games are scheduled for Saturday.

(International News Service)
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 4.—Tommy Curtin, Kim Whitehead, Jerry Roscoe and Stan Fuller today appeared the likely choice for the Yale backfield to be used against Columbia here this week-end. Much concern was felt today following Coach Ducky Pond's assertion that the first eleven was "unimpressive" against a scrub team in yesterday's three-hour scrimmage.

Geneva Preps For Thiel Game

Two Regulars Are On Casualty List Following Carnegie Tech Game

BEAVER FALLS, Oct. 4.—Coach Dike Beede resumed practice for the Geneva-Thiel game by dishing out harder sessions of scrimmage this week. Notwithstanding the fact that his starting eleven completed the game without a substitution last Saturday, Beede feels that the team must develop more punch offensively if it is to shine for the remainder of the season. By mutual agreement with Carnegie Tech, Geneva did not use her freshmen last Saturday, however, this rule applied only to the Tech game and during the remainder of the season such men as Ferricelli, speedy Ambridge, halfback Vince Rainey, hard hitting sentinel, Joe Gustovich, hefty tackle, and Charles Delon, halfback, are expected to see service. No matter how the dope sheet reads, Thiel always makes the going tough for Geneva. The game Friday night should therefore be a fitting inaugural to four such games in succession on the Reeves field.

The hard struggle of last Saturday, which fell in the Geneva camp, Clyde Johnson, whose work both offensively and defensively, was outstanding throughout the entire game, suffered a broken bone in his right hand early in the first quarter, while Joe Paris played three quarters of the game with a torn lower leg muscle. Neither man will see action for at least three weeks. The loss of these regulars is a severe blow to the strength of the team and at present Beede is finding it hard to locate suitable replacements.

"DIZZY" DEAN WINS FIRST SERIES GAME

was fumbling Delancey's smash back on the edge of the infield. By this time, the Tigers had got all the bad baseball out of their system but the Cardinals never let up, the vigorous Mr. Medwick crashing one into the bleachers in the fifth for one run and the club in general adding four more in the sixth.

Tigers Get Eight Hits
Meantime Dean was his own worst enemy to some extent by no means dazzling performance. In all, the Tigers got four hits in the first three innings and eight all total, for the game, although it was evident that Dizzy was under something of a pull. He didn't have to let out behind that long lead.

As it was, the Tigers didn't score until after two out in the third, the Dizzy becoming angered when he thought Umpire Owens missed a strike on White, the latter walking. Hits by Cochrane and Gehring followed to send White home.

42,505 Paid Admission
Greensburg's single and Orsatti's folllardy attempt to hake a shoe-string catch led up to the second run, Greenberg reaching second on the error and scoring on Goslin's second single.
Greensburg's homer into the left field stands accounted for the final run in the eighth.

The official paid attendance was 42,505.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—With the comparative rapid turn-in of fourth Liberty bonds for new securities offered in exchange by the treasury, it appeared that by October 15 around $850,000,000 of the $1,250,000,000 in called liberties would have been refinanced into other bonds and notes.

Today's figures showed that $842,265,000 in fourth liberties actually had been presented for redemption through Oct. 1. More bonds were in the hands of the reserve banks for shipment to the treasury so that at the end of the government's first quarter of the 1935 fiscal year $96,691,000 in 4-year 2 1/2 per cent noted had been exchanged for liberties and $293,300,000 in the new 10-12-year 3 1/2 per cent bonds.

It is possible the bond issue will remain open for exchange for liberties until October 15, the date that the $1,250,000,000 block has been called. All liberties called exchanged at that time will be eligible for redemption in cash.

Socialist Plot In Austria Is Nipped In Bud

Police Thwart What Was Believed To Have Been Revolution Plot

(International News Service)
VIENNA, Oct. 4.—Thwarting what they believed to be a plot for a new socialist revolution in Austria, police today seized papers bearing coded instruction for a widespread outbreak and followed the seizure with the arrest of many socialist leaders.

The instructions for the coup d'etat were found on a cyclist courier in the Forstsdorf section of Vienna. The papers, which were not dated, were decoded, and revealed plans for the placing of machine guns in strategic points about the capital at the outset of the planned uprising.

The instructions also designated meeting places for the rebels, and they carried a full list of leaders of a "red front." The outbreaks were planned simultaneously for Vienna, Innsbruck, Graz, Linz and other important centers.

With the suspected leaders already under arrest, it was expected the police would follow up their drive with mass arrests of their followers.

Denies Any Part In West Robbery

Harry O. Voiler, Says "I Did Not Take Part In Robbery Of Mae West"

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Harry O. Voiler, motion picture executive who is under indictment in Los Angeles for the $17,000 Mae West robbery on Sept. 28, 1932, today denounced reports Miss West would not appear at the World's fair in Chicago because she feared gang vengeance.

"I am sure the story about Miss West's fear of coming east was issued without her knowledge," he said. "I have known her for many years and am very fond of her."

Voiler, who for many years has held the motion picture concession for all prize fights staged in Madison Square Garden and operates a studio here, maintained his innocence. He said:

"I am willing to go to California at any time to stand trial. In fact I am anxious to go if the authorities there will demand a reasonable bail. I had nothing to do with that robbery and can prove my innocence."

Home Town Folks Say "Mickey" Will Pull Detroit Tigers Through Series

(International News Service)
BRIDGEWATER, Mass., Oct. 4.—This little Bay state town, where "Mickey" Cochrane was brought up and where he still hangs his hat in the off-season, was world series conscious today.

The town resembles a deserted village during game time. No work is being done. Everybody is either in Detroit or by the radio awaiting news on the Tigers and what "the Cochrane kid" is doing with the Detroit Tigers.

Jury Rules Death Of M. Columbus Was Accidental

County Coroner Orville Potter Conducts Inquest Into Death Of Ellwood Man

FRACTURES SKULL IN JUMP FROM CAR

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 4.—In an inquest conducted by County Coroner Orville Potter at the office of Justice of the Peace J. E. VanGorder Wednesday afternoon, a jury returned a verdict that the death of Mike Columbus, Sr., which occurred at the Ellwood City hospital on September 28 at 11 a. m. from injuries received in an automobile accident, was entirely accidental.

John Boy of this city and Cliffo Moses of New Castle told of being in the company of the deceased on the morning of the 28th on the Ellwood-Beaver Falls highway. They were going to a nearby wood to pick walnuts and grapes.

Arriving the truck of Frank Krestley, Jr., driving the truck of the Alpern & Katz Bakery of New Castle, drove by and recognized the later. He waved a greeting and in turn was hailed by Moses to stop. After requesting the driver to deliver a message in New Castle, he asked Krestley if he would give them a short lift. The latter reluctantly agreed, but told the truck that he had room in front for only one passenger.

Moses agreed to ride on the running board after being cautioned to be careful. The later was on the left side of the car. He had placed some baskets between the fender and a spare tire of the truck. As the driver was going slowly one of the baskets fell off and Columbus yelled for the car to stop. Mr. Boy, Mr. Moses and the driver all testified that before the truck came to a stop Columbus had jumped off. In doing so he had not jumped with the forward momentum of the car, but the opposite way instead. He was seen to fall backwards and strike his head on the pavement. The truck came to a stop just a short distance from where Columbus fell. He was immediately rushed to the local hospital by a passing motorist.

The story of the truck driver coincided with that of the two previous witnesses. Highway Patrolman F. J. Burns of Beaver Falls who investigated the accident and assisted Coroner Potter at the inquest, corroborated the driver's testimony. Dr. Helling stated that a fractured skull was the cause of death.

The jury was composed of Paul McElroy, A. W. Jenkins, Lewis Young, W. H. Walton, James A. Liebendorfer and John F. Gaub, Sr.

Ellwood To Meet Beaver Falls Hi

Blue And White Hopes To Take Over Tigers In Valley Town On Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 4.—With one won, lost and tied, "Gandy" Benedict's Ellwood City high grid-ers are out for their second victory of the season when they invade Beaver Falls Saturday afternoon for a clash with their arch enemy.

All week the locals have been perfecting a defense against Beaver Falls plays and at the same time improving on their offense. The Tigers have been sort of a jinx for the Blue and White, who hope to turn the tide on Saturday. The Benedict-men only hope for a dry field, which to show their stuff. Beaver Falls has won its first two games with minor opponents. They defeated Monaca 20-0 and Beaver 6-0.

W. M. Society Pleasant Meet

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 4.—Members of the Women's Missionary society of the Hickory Knell Church of God were pleasantly received yesterday when they gathered at the home of Mrs. Frank Dunbar of Riverview for an all-day meeting.

Quilting and sewing were enjoyed during the day and at noon the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Jay McDonald, served a tempting tureen dinner to the nine members attending.

Following the business and devotional periods with plans being made for a number of society activities, adjournment was taken to meet again on Wednesday, November 7, at the home of Mrs. Thomas Stewart of near North Sewickley.

LADIES' AID

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 4.—Ladies' Aid Society of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church held an all day meeting Wednesday at the church.

A tureen dinner was served at noon with covers laid for 18. Quilting was the occupation of the day. Later plans were completed for their annual chicken supper to be held on Oct. 11. Mrs. Carl Johns and her committee were in charge of the affair yesterday.

HOSPITAL NOTES

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 4.—Discharged Wednesday: Patsy Santolancini of Franklin avenue, Catherine Zekell of Line avenue, Louise McConahy of Fifth street and Mrs. George Haverstraw of Zellenople.

To Begin Special Series Of Meetings

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 4.—The Rev. Samuel Renicks, the Scotch evangelist, who so acceptably filled the pulpit at the Alliance mission in Bell avenue last Thursday night will begin a special series of meetings there tonight at seven forty-five. The meetings will continue until October 14, with both afternoon and evening services.

Kampers Klub Meet In Butler

Mrs. J. M. Barton Is Pleasing Hostess To Club On Wednesday Afternoon

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 4.—Kampers Klub of this city motored to Butler yesterday afternoon where the members were the guests of Mrs. J. M. Barton at their regular meeting.

A delicious 1 o'clock dinner started the activities of the day. Covers were laid for nine. Miss Jane Stevenson was a special guest on the occasion. After dinner hours were spent in an informal social time.

The club will meet again on the first Wednesday in November at the home of Mrs. Carrie Aiken on Fourth street.

Klages-Hessler Wedding Wednesday

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 4.—Wednesday, October 3, was the date chosen by Miss Viola May Klages, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Klages of near North Sewickley, to become the bride of Warren Hessler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hessler of Frisco. The wedding ceremony was performed at 3 o'clock at the parsonage of Rev. Harold Woods of New Brighton, pastor of the Hickory Knell and New Brighton Church of God.

The bride was charmingly attired in a all-white crepe ensemble with corresponding accessories. She was attended by Mrs. Charles Parker, sister of the groom.

Following the ceremony they returned to the home of the bride's parents where they were tendered a wedding dinner and reception. At one long table prettily centered with a large adorned wedding cake flanked with clusters of garden flowers, covers were arranged for sixteen members of the immediate families. Mrs. Klages was assisted in serving a delectable menu by Mrs. Richard Crans.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hessler have a large host of friends in this vicinity who wish them every happiness. Dispensing with a wedding trip they will reside near North Sewickley.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The stock market displayed a heavy tone today, unsettled by liquidation in the California stocks silvers and oils.

Some support was provided by buying in a number of issues, particularly the liquors and Chrysler in the motors, the rally in grains, the first this week, also helped dispel some of the nervousness.

Trading continued at the slow pace of recent session. Fears of an impending cut in crude prices brought moderate selling into the petroleum issues with a number going to new lows for the year.

Standard Oil of California, Union Oil, California Packing and the West Coast Utilities were again pressed for sale.

U. S. Smelting lost more than a point, and the other mining shares sagged.

Estimates of high earnings for the year led to buying in the liquors, with fractional gains resulting. Chrysler was in demand at higher prices, while General Motors was steady.

U. S. Steel ruled around the previous close. Other industrial leaders were down slightly. Rails were quiet and without trend.

Utility shares were adversely affected by the selling in Pacific Gas.

always want to do everything for you." "No one but God can separate us. I love you more than life. If I ever lose you, I will surely die."

Loses Poise
Wilkes Barre, Pa., Oct. 4.—Bobby Edwards, poker-faced, young defendant lost his poise today at his "American tragedy" trial.

They read his burning love letters out loud in court.

His intimate letters to 22-year-old Margaret Crain, of East Aurora, N. Y., were poured forth in a legal monotone while jurors and spectators cupped their ears, smirked and looked hungry for every word. But Bobby hung his head for the first time and tried to hide his face from the rest of the courtroom.

The "purple" correspondence was dated through the months preceding the finding of the body of 27-year-old Freda McKee in the waters of Harvey's Lake.

The handsome mining town sheik is charged with murdering Freda, his childhood sweetheart, during a midnight swim in order that he might marry Margaret. Freda had told Edwards, a few days before her death that she was to become a mother.

The letters were introduced by the state to show the "motive" for the alleged crime.

Bobby called Margaret "Momet" and signed himself "Buddy." He wrote in frenzy about their moments of love. He told of a psychic arrangement for exchanging "tryst kisses" on paper and the flaming, unprintable erotica contained in the sheet of correspondence followed the arrangement.

His tender phrases were interwoven with religious expressions. "In one of the 172 of his 'purple' missives, this young lover of two young girls mentioned 'I love you' 24 times.

Begin Testimony
At Insull Trial

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—United States District Attorney Dwight H. Green today laid the case of Samuel Insull and his sixteen associates before a jury in federal court.

In a twenty-eight page opening address the federal prosecutor declared:

"This case is not complicated. It will require many witnesses and voluminous documents to show all the ramifications of this scheme, but in the end you will find it to be a simple conspiracy to swindle, cheat and defraud the public."

September Receipts
Shown At $428,559

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 4.—September receipts from automobile licenses and drivers permits totaled $428,559, a decrease of $70,536 from the total for the same month last year, the Department of Revenue reported today.

The grand total of receipts for the year, however, is $1,733,115 ahead of the same period last year. Automobiles licensed in September totaled 15,374 and drivers 13,569.

Two Given 15 Years In Federal Prison For Avonmore, Pa., Robbery

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 4.—Vance Carter, 30, Vandergrift, and Joseph Paloczarski, 26, New Kensington, failed to "beat the rap" today as they did in Westmoreland county courts recently.

Instead, Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker sentenced the pair to serve 15 years in a federal penitentiary for the $9,700 robbery of the First National bank of Avonmore last May. They were the first defendants to be charged in this district under the recently enacted criminal laws of congress.

The pair was freed when tried in the state courts and the federal government then took up the case. The men were included less than a month ago and tried at the Erie term of federal court.

Police Chief Has About $1,440 As Returns For Past Month

Chief of Police Haven today banked the receipts collected from various fines and forfeits during September. The receipts amounted to approximately $1,440. More than $1,000 of the amount was levied for violations of the laws pertaining to automobiles.

The campaign to eliminate violations has not yet ceased and at 9 o'clock in police headquarters this morning a line of alleged violators stood in front of the office of the sergeant of police. They were waiting to pay their fines.

One young girl asked for an interview with Mayor Mayne and when she started to confer with the mayor displayed a tag which stated that the speed limit had been exceeded. "I am not the man to see," said the mayor. "You want to see the sergeant of police. He takes care of such matters."

Another young man who paid his fine smiled as he left the office but remarked: "It's a tough thing to pay a fine nowadays." Another man who had failed to stop at a Stop sign said he made a mistake and was willing to pay for the violation then lauded the efforts of the police to make the streets free of accidents.

So far one violator has been sent to jail. He is serving time for having failed to stop at a Stop sign. Another man accused of speeding a car, denied the charge and placed a $10 forfeit for a hearing Saturday morning.

Approximately a dozen of the probably 600 who broke the law have failed to appear and pay their fines within the 10 days limit and today the secretaries were instructed to type informations, and warrants will be sworn to and served by policemen.

All the press knew was that the opposing managers, Mickey Cochrane and Frank Evers, had personally proclaimed these selections, an announcement of this sort usually being tantamount to a denial. It was quite within the bounds of possibility that the Cards and Tigers would start Paul Dean and Tom Bridges respectively.

The Tigers were accorded a modest reception when they went out for fielding practice, the mugs cheering with just a touch of restraint. In due time, Rowe and Hallahan were officially announced as the starting pitchers.

The attendance shortly before game time was 49,000.

Mr. Deleterious Dean, yesterday's winner, was still very much in evidence before today's game. Mr. Dean had promised to give Rowe a few pointers about pitching in a newspaper article, so that when Rowe began warming up, Ditzzy took up a station immediately behind Rowe so that he could intimately study the Schoolboy's delivery.

Rowe first let Ditzzy look at the ball, then pitched it to Cochrane, while the Ditzzy one, having gone that far with the situation, suddenly decided to have no further to do with it.

First inning, St. Louis—Martin out on a fly to White, just as was the case yesterday. Martin hit the first ball pitched, it was a dropping fly. Rothrock up, ball one, inside; strike one, called; strike two, foul; ball one, high; foul; Rothrock out Gehring to Greenberg. Frish up, Frish caught by Owen's glove; he hit the first pitch. Medwick up, strike one, swung; strike two, swung; ball one, inside; foul; ball two, outside; foul; strike three, called. Rowe burned a fast one through the middle and Medwick never moved. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

EDWARDS' LOVE
LETTERS ARE READ

always want to do everything for you. "No one but God can separate us. I love you more than life. If I ever lose you, I will surely die."

Loses Poise

Wilkes Barre, Pa., Oct. 4.—Bobby Edwards, poker-faced, young defendant lost his poise today at his "American tragedy" trial.

They read his burning love letters out loud in court. His intimate letters to 22-year-old Margaret Crain, of East Aurora, N. Y., were poured forth in a legal monotone while jurors and spectators cupped their ears, smirked and looked hungry for every word. But Bobby hung his head for the first time and tried to hide his face from the rest of the courtroom.

The "purple" correspondence was dated through the months preceding the finding of the body of 27-year-old Freda McKechie in the waters of Harvey's Lake.

The handsome mining town sheik is charged with murdering Freda, his childhood sweetheart, during a midnight swim in order that he might marry Margaret. Freda had told Edwards, a few days before her death that she was to become a mother.

The letters were introduced by the state to show the "motive" for the alleged crime.

Bobby called Margaret "Momet" and signed himself "Buddy." He wrote in frenzy about their moments of love. He told of a psychic arrangement for exchanging "tryst kisses" on paper and the flaming, unprintable erotica contained in the sheaf of correspondence followed the arrangement.

His tender phrases were interwoven with religious expressions. "In one of the 172 of his 'purple' missives, this young lover of two young girls mentioned 'I love you' 24 times.

Begin Testimony
At Insull Trial

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—United States District Attorney Dwight H. Green today laid the case of Samuel Insull and his sixteen associates before a jury in federal court.

In a twenty-eight page opening address the federal prosecutor declared: "This case is not complicated. It will require many witnesses and voluminous documents to show all the ramifications of this scheme, but in the end you will find it to be a simple conspiracy to swindle, cheat and defraud the public."

September Receipts
Shown At $428,559

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Oct. 4.—September receipts from automobile licenses and drivers permits totaled $428,559, a decrease of $70,536 from the total for the same month last year, the Department of Revenue reported today.

The grand total of receipts for the year, however, is $1,733,115 ahead of the same period last year. Automobiles licensed in September totaled 16,374 and drivers 12,569.

Two Given 15 Years In Federal Prison For Avonmore, Pa., Robbery

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Oct. 4.—Vance Carter, 30, Vandergrift, and Joseph Paleozarski, 26, New Kensington, failed to "beat the rap" today as they did in Westmoreland county courts recently.

Instead, Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker sentenced the pair to serve 15 years in a federal penitentiary for the $9,700 robbery of the First National bank of Avonmore last May. They were the first defendants to be charged in this district under the recently enacted criminal laws of congress.

The pair was freed when tried in the state courts and the federal government then took up the case. The men were indicted less than a month ago and tried at the Erie term of federal court.

CHEST WORKERS

Blyth, speaking to the workers after Mr. Brahm addressed them, announced that a "new deal" would come in the campaign this afternoon at 4 o'clock—the new deal being the general offering of all unsolicited campaign cards to any worker who calls for them at campaign headquarters in the Greer building. From 4 today until the end of the campaign the earlier solicitation barriers will be down.

The $9,390.25 added to the campaign total today was the largest single day's addition since the drive began.

Heavy Receipts
In Police Court

Police Chief Has About $1,440 As Returns For Past Month

Chief of Police Haven today banked the receipts collected from various fines and forfeits during September. The receipts amounted to approximately $1,440. More than $1,000 of the amount was levied for violations of the laws pertaining to automobiles.

The campaign to eliminate violations has not yet ceased and at 9 o'clock in police headquarters this morning a line of alleged violators stood in front of the office of the sergeant of police. They were waiting to pay their fines.

One young girl asked for an interview with Mayor Mayne and when she started to confer with the mayor displayed a tag which stated that the speed limit had been exceeded. "I am not the man to see," said the mayor. "You want to see the sergeant of police. He takes care of such matters."

Another young man who paid his fine smiled as he left the office but remarked: "It's a tough thing to pay a fine nowadays." Another man who had failed to stop at a Stop sign said he made a mistake and was willing to pay for the violation then lauded the efforts of the police to make the streets free of accidents.

So far one violator has been sent to jail. He is serving time for having failed to stop at a Stop sign. Another man accused of speeding a car, denied the charge and placed a $10 forfeit for a hearing Saturday morning.

Approximately a dozen of the probably 500 who broke the law have failed to appear and pay their fines within the 10 days limit and today the secretaries were instructed to type informations and warrants will be sworn to and served by policemen.

be the opposing pitchers, although estimates of this character were as precarious as the winds.

All the press knew was that the opposing managers, Mickey Cochrane and Frank Frisch, had personally proclaimed these selections, an announcement of this sort usually being tantamount to a denial. It was quite within the bounds of possibility that the Cards and Tigers would start Paul Dean and Tom Bridges respectively.

The Tigers were accorded a modest reception when they went out for fielding practice, the mugs cheering with just a touch of restraint.

In due time, Rowe and Hallahan were officially announced as the starting pitchers.

The attendance shortly before game time was 40,000.

Mr. Deleterious Dean, yesterday's winner, was still very much in evidence before today's game. Mr. Dean had promised to give Rowe a few pointers about pitching in a newspaper article, so that when Rowe began warming up, Dizzy took up a station immediately behind Rowe so that he could intimately study the Schoolboy's delivery. Rowe first let Dizzy look at the ball, then pitched it to Cochrane, while the Dizzy one, having gone that far with the situation, suddenly decided to have no further truck with it.

First inning, St. Louis—Martin up, Martin out on a fly to White, just as was the case yesterday. Martin hit the first ball pitched, it was a dropping fly. Rothrock up, ball one, inside; strike one, called; strike two, foul; ball one, high; foul; Rothrock out Gehring to Greenberg. Frisch up, Frisch singled off Owen's glove; he hit the first pitch. Medwick up, strike one, swung; strike two, swung; ball one, inside; foul; ball two, outside; foul; strike three, called. Rowe burned a fast one through the middle and Medwick never moved. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

Jury Will Hear Indictment Of Samuel Insull

U. S. Attorney Will Open
Case In Chicago Court
Against Insull

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—The government today will deliver its indictment against Samuel Insull and 16 co-defendants, charged with spreading ruin among thousands of investors in the great Insull Utility Empire by using the mails to defraud.

A jury of twelve men and two alternates will hear United States Attorney Dwight H. Green deliver the opening statement, a statement, it is understood, which will show that the government's action is based on the charge that investors were induced into buying stock in the Corporation Securities Company through false statements circulated through the mail.

Await Decision
Attorneys representing the former Utilities czar and his co-defendants, headed by former Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court Floyd E. Thompson, have asked for permission to withhold their statements until after the government has completed its case. Decision on the request will be given by Federal Judge James H. Wilkinson today.
It was learned today that the government will support its fraud charge by showing that the Insull interests allegedly manipulated the stock in the market, selling it to the public and at the same time buying it back to maintain the stock at an inflated price and within a fixed range.

CITY POLICEMEN MAKE 20 ARRESTS

City policemen made 20 arrests between 9 a. m. yesterday and 9
a. m. today. Seventeen of the arrests were made for violations of the motor laws. The others were arrested for fighting and disorderly conduct.

Jury Will Hear Indictment Of Samuel Insull

U. S. Attorney Will Open Case In Chicago Court Against Insull

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—The government today will deliver its indictment against Samuel Insull and 16 co-defendants, charged with spreading ruin among thousands of investors in the great Insull Utility Empire by using the mails to defraud.

A jury of twelve men and two alternates will hear United States Attorney Dwight H. Green deliver the opening statement, a statement, it is understood, which will show that the government's action is based on the charge that investors were inveigled into buying stock in the Corporation Securities Company through false statements circulated through the mail.

Await Decision
Attorneys representing the former Utilities czar and his co-defendants, headed by former Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court Floyd E. Thompson, have asked for permission to withhold their statements until after the government has completed its case. Decision on the request will be given by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson today. It was learned today that the government will support its fraud charge by showing that the Insull interests allegedly manipulated the stock in the market, selling it to the public and at the same time buying it back to maintain the stock at an inflated price and within a fixed range.

CITY POLICEMEN MAKE 20 ARRESTS

City policemen made 20 arrests between 9 a. m. yesterday and 9 a. m. today. Seventeen of the arrests were made for violations of the motor laws. The others were arrested for fighting and disorderly conduct.

SAFETY

Officers Elected At Annual Meeting

Congregation Has Business Meeting Last Night At Local Christian Church

With the president of the official board, S. E. Park, presiding, an excellent annual meeting of the Madison Avenue Christian church was conducted Wednesday evening. After a prayer led by the church pastor, Dr. W. W. Sniff, reports of all the organizations of church and Sunday School were presented. All were shown to be in good standing and to have had a most active and successful church year.

The following church officers were elected:
Elder, John M. Bevan; deacons, E. A. Parks, J. W. Jones and Robert Park; deaconess, Mrs. S. E. Park; church clerk, Mrs. S. E. Park; pianist, Mrs. C. H. Clark; assistant pianist, Miss Thelma Bumbaugh; trustee, S. E. Park.

The following Sunday School officers were elected:
Superintendent—Robert Park. Assistant superintendent—Frank W. Douds. Secretary—Edward Bevan. Treasurer—Susy Park. Assistant treasurer—Mrs. Kenneth Walter.

Enrollment secretary—Mrs. A. S. Eberhart. Librarian—Edward Houk. Assistant librarian—Byrl McCartney. Pianist—Virginia McGrath. Assistant pianist—Eileen Mullen. Primary superintendent—Thelma Bumbaugh.

Assistant primary superintendent—Mrs. Dorothy Calvert. Cradle roll superintendent—Mrs. Florence Mullen.

Assistant cradle roll superintendent—Mae Turk. Home department superintendent—Mrs. W. I. McCartney.

Assistant home department—Mrs. J. B. Bumbaugh.

At the close of the business meeting the congregation retired to the basement where a program was presented and refreshments served.

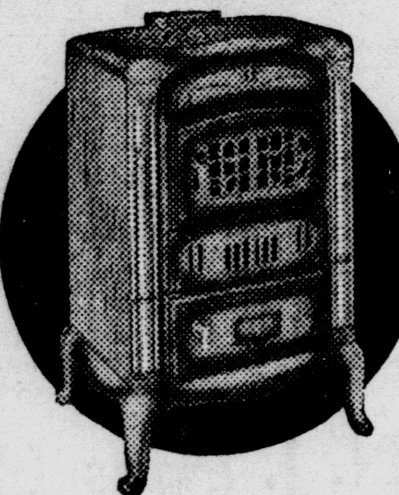

Features of the program were: "Clara, Lou and Em," a missionary skit—Mrs. J. B. Bumbaugh, Mrs. Fanny Hutnick and Miss Thelma Bumbaugh.

Vocal solo—Mrs. C. H. Clark. Two readings—Mrs. Walter Wilkins.

"The Rummage Sale," a comedy sketch—Mrs. J. B. Bumbaugh, Mrs. Fanny Hutnick, Miss Thelma Bumbaugh and Robert Park.

Bride-Elect Is Honored At Home

A crowd of young women from here and other parts of New Castle gathered at the home of Miss Nellie Maslyk, of 1315 South Jefferson street, Wednesday evening, and honored her with a surprise shower. Miss Maslyk, who is employed at the Liberty Hotel here, will be a bride of Saturday morning at St. Phillips and James church.

Hostesses of the delightful occasion were the bride-elect's sister, Miss Frances Maslyk, and her friend, Miss Anna Yagersky, who is to be the maid of honor at the wedding.

Guests numbered 40. The hours were spent informally and the honored guest was presented with a shower of lovely gifts.

MEN GRADING EAST CHERRY

East Cherry street from the Pennycrossing to the bridge, is receiving some much needed attention from the city street department. A grading machine has been applied to the section and is aiding in putting it into the best condition of many months.

VETS AND WIVES OPEN ACTIVITIES

On Wednesday evening the Baltimore and Ohio Veterans Association and Ladies' Auxiliary gathered at the city building and had one of those evenings which, although not elaborate, are unusually delightful. It was particularly enjoyable because of it being the opening affair of the new season of activities.

Sixty-five men and women were there and at 6:30 o'clock they were seated at beautifully decorated tables, arranged in V-shape, attractive with flowers and laden with a delicious chicken and biscuit dinner.

Later the men and women had separate business meetings, with the two presidents, Fred Woods and Mrs. James Cole, in charge. All of the officers were present. Still later the two groups joined again and the remainder of the evening was spent in playing cards and bingo. High score for cards went to Mrs. Leo Whalen and bingo to Mrs. R. J. Petersen.

The next meeting will take place in the city building on Wednesday, November 7.

8A TEAM DEFEATED

The TB-2 midget team of Mahoning school came from behind to defeat the 8A team Monday evening by the score of 11 to 10. The winners scored all their runs in the last two innings. Albert Pacella singled in the last inning to score William Monaco with the winning run.

DRAINAGE WORK

Work designed to provide drainage at the vicinity of the Cherry street station of the Pennsylvania railroad is in progress this week. A steam shovel is being used to clear a section at the rear of the station.

CARD PARTY

The following committee will be in charge of the card party to be held in the Lyceum hall, corner of Second and Clayton streets, this evening, at 8:30. Cards, Mrs. S. D.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have furred tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, sallow complexion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.

Cox and Mrs. E. L. Foster; door, E. L. Foster; and bingo, Leo Thompson.

Hi-Y Programs Open, Clubs Planning Drive

Resumption of Hi-Y club activity accompanied the opening of all Y. M. C. A. programs for the fall and winter this week.

Meeting last night at the Y were members of the George Washington Junior Hi-Y club with their president, Richard Johns, presiding. Their supervisor, Graham Patterson, a teacher at Washington, was present.

On Monday evening the Senior Hi-Y club met with Herman Kitchen, president, in the chair. Next Friday the Ben Franklin club will convene. Robert Young is the Franklin president.

Boys' Work Secretary Harry McClellan announced today that a general Hi-Y membership drive is to be opened next Monday for a two-weeks run.

Money Loss Causes Battle

Letcher Wombush and Augusta Williams, colored, had a fight at Grant and Green streets yesterday, were jailed for 24 hours and discharged by Mayor Wayne in police court today. Williams had a black-jack on his person which was confiscated.

Wombush claimed he gave Williams $5.00 to place as a deposit to have water turned on in a house they expected to occupy and live in. Williams claims he lost the money which caused the fight.

Heavy Tone In Stock MarketTrading At Slow Pace—
Some Support In Some IssuesBy LESLIE GOULD
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The stock market displayed a heavy tone today, unsettled by liquidation in the California stocks and oils.

Some support was provided by buying in a number of issues, particularly the liquors and Chrysler in the motors, the rally in grains, the first this week, also helped dispel some of the nervousness.

Trading continued at the slow pace of recent session.

Fears of an impending cut in crude prices brought moderate selling into the petroleum issues with a number going to new lows for the year.

Standard Oil of California, Union Oil, California Packing and the West Coast Utilities were again pressed for sale.

U. S. Smelting lost more than a point, and the other mining shares sagged.

Estimates of high earnings for the year led to buying in the liquors, with fractional gains resulting. Chrysler was in demand at higher prices, while General Motors was steady.

U. S. Steel ruled around the previous close. Other industrial leaders were down slightly. Rails were quiet without trend.

EDWARDS' LOVE

always want to do everything for you."

"No one but God can separate us. I love you more than life. If I ever lose you, I will surely die."

Losses Police
Wilkes Barre, Pa., Oct. 4.—Bobby Edwards, poker-faced, young defendant lost his poise today at his "American tragedy" trial.

They read his burning love letters out loud in court.

His intimate letters to 22-year-old Margaret Crain, of East Aurora, N. Y., were poured forth in a legal monotone while jurors and spectators cupped their ears, smirked and looked hungry for every word. But Bobby hung his head for the first time and tried to hide his face from the rest of the courtroom.

The "purple" correspondence was dated through the months preceding the finding of the body of 27-year-old Freda McKechnie in the waters of Harvey's Lake.

The handsome mining town sheik is charged with murdering Freda, his childhood sweetheart, during a midnight swim in order that he might marry Margaret. Freda had told Edwards, a few days before her death that she was to become a mother.

The letters were introduced by the state to show the "motive" for the alleged crime.

Bobby called Margaret "Momet" and signed himself "Buddy." He wrote in frenzy about their moments of love. He told of a psychic arrangement for exchanging "trust kisses" on paper and the flaming, unprintable erotica contained in the sheet of correspondence followed the arrangement.

His tender phrases were interwoven with religious expressions. "In one of the 172 of his 'purple' missives, this young lover of two young girls mentioned 'I love you' 24 times.

Begin Testimony
At Insull Trial

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—United States District Attorney Dwight H. Green today laid the case of Samuel Insull and his sixteen associates before a jury in federal court.

In a twenty-eight page opening address the federal prosecutor declared:

"This case is not complicated. It will require many witnesses and voluminous documents to show all the ramifications of this scheme, but in the end you will find it to be a simple conspiracy to swindle, cheat and defraud the public."

September Receipts
Shown At $428,559

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Oct. 4.—September receipts from automobile licenses and drivers permits totaled $428,559, a decrease of $70,539 from the total for the same month last year, the Department of Revenue reported today.

The grand total of receipts for the year, however, is $1,733,115 ahead of the same period last year. Automobiles licensed in September totaled 16,374 and drivers 12,568.

Two Given 15 Years In Federal Prison For Avonmore, Pa., Robbery

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 4.—Vance Carter, 30, Vandergrift, and Joseph Paleczarski, 26, New Kensington, failed to "beat the rap" today as they did in Westmoreland county courts recently.

Instead, Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker sentenced the pair to serve 15 years in a federal penitentiary for the $9,700 robbery of the First National bank of Avonmore last May. They were the first defendants to be charged in this district under the recently enacted criminal laws of congress.

The pair was freed when tried in the state courts and the federal government then took up the case. The men were indicted less than a month ago and tried at the Erie term of federal court.

CHEST WORKERS

Blyth, speaking to the workers after Mr. Braham addressed them, announced that a "new deal" would come in the campaign this afternoon at 4 o'clock—the new deal being the general offering of all unworked campaign cards to any worker who calls for them at campaign headquarters in the Greer building. From 4 today until the end of the campaign the earlier solicitation barriers will be down.

The $9,390.25 added to the campaign total today was the largest single day's addition since the drive began.

A sum of $20,488.93 remained today to be subscribed if the four-day goal is to be reached.

Police Chief Has About $1,440 As Returns For Past Month

Chief of Police Haven today banked the receipts collected from various fines and forfeits during September. The receipts amounted to approximately $1,440. More than $1,000 of the amount was levied for violations of the laws pertaining to automobiles.

The campaign to eliminate violations has not yet ceased and at 9 o'clock in police headquarters this morning a line of alleged violators stood in front of the office of the sergeant of police. They were waiting to pay their fines.

One young girl asked for an interview with Mayor Mayne and when she started to confer with the mayor displayed a tag which stated that the speed limit had been exceeded. "I am not the man to see," said the mayor. "You want to see the sergeant of police. He takes care of such matters."

Another young man who paid his fine smiled as he left the office but remarked: "It's a tough thing to pay a fine nowadays." Another man who had failed to stop at a Stop sign said he made a mistake and was willing to pay for the violation then lauded the efforts of the police to make the streets free of accidents.

So far one violator has been sent to jail. He is serving time for having failed to stop at a Stop sign. Another man accused of speeding a car, denied the charge and placed a $10 forfeit for a hearing Saturday morning.

Approximately a dozen of the probably 600 who broke the law have failed to appear and pay their fines within the 10 days limit and today the secretaries were instructed to type informations, and warrants will be sworn to and served by policemen.

be the opposing pitchers, although estimates of this character were as precarious as the winds.

All the press knew was that the opposing managers, Mickey Cochrane and Frank Frisch, had personally proclaimed these selections.

An announcement of this sort usually being tantamount to a denial, it was quite within the bounds of possibility that the Cards and Tigers would start Paul Dean and Tom Bridges respectively.

The Tigers were accorded a modest reception when they went out for fielding practice, the mugs cheering with just a touch of restraint.

In due time, Rowe and Hallahan were officially announced as the starting pitchers.

The attendance shortly before same time was 40,000.

Mr. Deleterious Dean, yesterday's winner, was still very much in evidence before today's game. Mr. Dean had promised to give Rowe a few pointers about pitching in a newspaper article, so that when Rowe began warming up, Dizzy took up a station immediately behind Rowe so that he could intimately study the schoolboy's delivery.

Rowe first let Dizzy look at the ball, then pitched it to Cochrane, while the Dizzy one, having gone that far with the situation, suddenly decided to have no further truck with it.

Jury Will Hear Indictment Of Samuel Insull

U. S. Attorney Will Open
Case In Chicago Court
Against Insull

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—The government today will deliver its indictment against Samuel Insull and 10 co-defendants, charged with spreading ruin among thousands of investors in the great Insull Utility Empire by using the mails to defraud.

A jury of twelve men and two alternates will hear United States Attorney Dwight H. Green deliver the opening statement, a statement, it is understood, which will show that the government's action is based on the charge that investors were inveigled into buying stock in the Corporation Securities Company through false statements circulated through the mail.

Await Decision
Attorneys representing the former Utilities czar and his co-defendants, headed by former Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court Floyd E. Thompson, have asked for permission to withhold their statements until after the government has completed its case. Decision on the request will be given by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson today.

It was learned today that the government will support its fraud charge by showing that the Insull interests allegedly manipulated the stock in the market, selling it to the public and at the same time buying it back to maintain the stock at an inflated price and within a fixed range.

CITY POLICEMEN MAKE 20 ARRESTS

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.

Says inside-bathing makes anyone look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is a more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have furred tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, sallow complexion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.

Bride-Elect Is Honored At Home

A crowd of young women from here and other parts of New Castle gathered at the home of Miss Nellie Maslyk, of 1315 South Jefferson street, Wednesday evening, and honored her with a surprise shower.

Miss Maslyk, who is employed at the Liberty Hotel here, will be a bride of Saturday morning at St. Phillips and James church.

Hostesses of the delightful occasion were the bride-elect's sister, Miss Frances Maslyk, and her friend, Miss Anna Yagovsky, who is to be the maid of honor at the wedding.

Guests numbered 40. The hours were spent informally and the honored guest was presented with a shower of lovely gifts.

McBride Post
Plans Election

Routine Business Is Transacted
At Meeting Held Last
Evening

Plans for the annual election of officers by the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, were discussed at the meeting in the Legion Home Association building last evening.

Because of the absence of several of the officers from the city, who are in attendance at the national encampment at Louisville, Ky., the election was held over until the next meeting October 17.

Routine business only was transacted at the meeting last evening.

MEN GRADING

East Cherry street from the Penny crossing to the bridge, is receiving some much needed attention from the city street department.

A grading machine has been applied to the section and is aiding in putting it into the best condition of many months.

VETS AND WIVES
OPEN ACTIVITIES

On Wednesday evening the Baltimore and Ohio Veterans Association and Ladies' Auxiliary gathered at the city building and had one of those evenings which, although not elaborate, are unusually delightful.

It was particularly enjoyable because of it being the opening affair of the new season of activities.

Sixty-five men and women were there and at 6:30 o'clock they were seated at beautifully decorated tables, arranged in V-shape, attractive with flowers and laden with a delicious chicken and biscuit dinner.

Later the men and women had separate business meetings, with the two presidents, Fred Woods and Mrs. James Cole, in charge. All of the officers were present. Still later the two groups joined again and the remainder of the evening was spent in playing cards and bingo. High score for cards went to Mrs. Leo Whalen and bingo to Mrs. R. J. Petersen.

The next meeting will take place in the city building on Wednesday, November 7.

SA TEAM DEFEATED

The 7B-2 mushball team of Mahoning school came from behind to defeat the 8A team Monday evening by the score of 11 to 10.

The winners scored all their runs in the last two innings. Albert Paccella singled in the last inning to score William Monaco with the winning run.

DRAINAGE WORK

Work designed to provide drainage at the vicinity of the Cherry street station of the Pennsylvania railroad, is in progress this week.

A steam shovel is being used to clear a section at the rear of the station.

CARD PARTY

The following committee will be in charge of the card party to be held in the Lyceum hall, corner of Second and Clayton streets, this evening, at 8:30. Cards, Mrs. S. D.

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.

Says inside-bathing makes anyone look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is a more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have furred tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, sallow complexion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.

McBride Post
Plans Election

Routine Business Is Transacted
At Meeting Held Last
Evening

Plans for the annual election of officers by the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, were discussed at the meeting in the Legion Home Association building last evening.

Because of the absence of several of the officers from the city, who are in attendance at the national encampment at Louisville, Ky., the election was held over until the next meeting October 17.

Routine business only was transacted at the meeting last evening.

MEN GRADING
EAST CHERRY

East Cherry street from the Penny crossing to the bridge, is receiving some much needed attention from the city street department.

A grading machine has been applied to the section and is aiding in putting it into the best condition of many months.

OPEN ACTIVITIES

On Wednesday evening the Baltimore and Ohio Veterans Association and Ladies' Auxiliary gathered at the city building and had one of those evenings which, although not elaborate, are unusually delightful.

It was particularly enjoyable because of it being the opening affair of the new season of activities.

Sixty-five men and women were there and at 6:30 o'clock they were seated at beautifully decorated tables, arranged in V-shape, attractive with flowers and laden with a delicious chicken and biscuit dinner.

Later the men and women had separate business meetings, with the two presidents, Fred Woods and Mrs. James Cole, in charge. All of the officers were present. Still later the two groups joined again and the remainder of the evening was spent in playing cards and bingo. High score for cards went to Mrs. Leo Whalen and bingo to Mrs. R. J. Petersen.

The next meeting will take place in the city building on Wednesday, November 7.

SA TEAM DEFEATED

The 7B-2 mushball team of Mahoning school came from behind to defeat the 8A team Monday evening by the score of 11 to 10.

DRAINAGE WORK

Work designed to provide drainage at the vicinity of the Cherry street station of the Pennsylvania railroad, is in progress this week.

A steam shovel is being used to clear a section at the rear of the station.

CARD PARTY

The following committee will be in charge of the card party to be held in the Lyceum hall, corner of Second and Clayton streets, this evening, at 8:30. Cards, Mrs. S. D.
